

A Little Fun Now and Then.

Excitement in a Circus.

A number of years ago, when Michigan was a new country, in Livingston county, there lived a family by the name of Clayton, and one called Perkins also—as well as a great many others.

Pete Clayton was a tall, fine looking fellow—a noble specimen of our back-woodsmen—stanking six feet two inches in his stockings.

Pete had taken a shine to Miss Sally Perkins, and it was known in fact that they were engaged, but the day when the knot was to be tied had not yet been divulged.

In the month of August, 1849, June's circus came through their town for the first time, and in fact it was the first circus that had ever passed that way and there were a great many people that had never seen one.

When the important day arrived the town was filled to overflow with a motley crowd, of course, and every young fellow had his gal.

Now, Pete wanted to get married on the coming Christmas, but Sally wished to have it put off till the next spring.

When the ticket wagon was opened the tent was filled in a hurry. Pete and Sally had been looking through the side shows and they were late in getting in, and the performance had already commenced.

They walked around the entire ring trying to find a seat, and although they could seat two thousand people, every seat was occupied.

'Never mind,' said Sal, 'I'd just as lief stand up.'

But the gallant Pete couldn't think of it, and said, 'Wait a min', I'll get you a chair,' and off he started, leaving Sal all alone.

Just at this moment the clown came in, crossed in his usual custom, and dancing around the ring, stopped right in front of Sal and began to sing:

'Oh Sally is the gal for me! This caused Sal to blush, for she thought that the clown was looking at her. As she stood near the ring, of course she hid the view of those on the lower seats behind her, and as usual on such occasions, the clown cracked his jokes at such offenders until they take the hint and find a seat, but she said she would rather stand up. At this the clown commenced his jokes, remarking to the ring master:

'There's a chance for me now. A chance for you?'

'Yes, don't you see that gal has lost her beau, and she's looking at me, I know,' and turning three or four somersaults, he stepped in front of Sal and began to sing:

'Oh Sally is the gal for me, I would have no other, And if Sally died to-morrow night, I'd marry Sally's mother.'

This was evidently meant for her, raised Sal's dander, and she burst out with—

'I'm the gal for you, am I? Marry my mother, would yer? You low lived spotted scum of the earth. If my feller was here, he would wallop you for that. I wouldn't wallop her another minit—nor neither would any decent people either.'

Saying which she rushed out of the tent amid roars of laughter.

Thought He Had Her. An old Dutch farmer had a handsome daughter, named Minnie, who lately joined the Methodist church, against which the old farmer was somewhat prejudiced.

The young minister, under whose instrumentality Miss Minnie was converted, visited her frequently, and excited his suspicion that all was not right. Accordingly, he visited the church on Sunday night, and seated himself, unobserved, among the congregation.

Soon after taking his seat, the minister, who was preaching from Daniel, 5th chapter, 25th verse, repeated in a loud voice the words of his text, 'Mene, mene, tekel upharsin,' upon which the old farmer sprang to his feet, seized the frightened girl by the arm and hurried her out of the meeting-house—having reached the church yard, he gave vent to his feelings in the words: 'I know dare was something wrong, and now I shewars to 'em.'

'Why, father, what do you mean?' replied the bewildered and innocent girl.

'Did'n't I, shouted the old man, striking his fists together, and stamping with his foot, 'didn't I hear de parson call out to you, 'Minnie, Minnie, tickle de parson?'

AGRICULTURAL. French Method of Raising Tomatoes.—As soon as a cluster of flowers is visible, the stem is topped down to the cluster, so that the flowers terminate the stem. The effect is that the sap is immediately impelled into the two buds next below the cluster, which soon push strongly and produce another cluster of flowers each. When these are visible, the branch to which they belong is also topped down to their level; and this is done five times successively. By this means the plants become stout, dwarf bushes, not above eighteen inches high. In order to prevent their falling over, sticks or strings are stretched horizontally along the rows, so as to keep the plants erect. In addition to this, all the laterals that have no flowers, and after the fifth top-pings, all laterals whatsoever are nipped off. In this way the ripe sap is directed into the fruit, which acquire a beauty, size and excellence unattainable by other means.

Farm Labor.—The price of farm labor, as given in the Monthly Report of the Agricultural Department, is: In the Eastern States, $33.30 per month; in the Middle States, $30.07 per month; in the Western States, $28.91; in the Southern States, $16.00; in Oregon, $35.75; in California, $45.71. In Massachusetts the price is $38.94 per month which is higher than any other State except California. This is attributed to the great variety of industry in the State, only about one fourth of the people being employed in agriculture.—This makes a very lively demand for all farm products. The greater variety of occupations in a State the better for laborers. There has been an advance in the price of labor of about seventy per cent. in the last forty years, notwithstanding an immigration of 5,000,000 of people. The greatest want of the country is labor to develop our resources.—Am. Ag.

The Raining Tree.—The Island of Ferro is one of the largest of the Canary group, and it has received its name on account of its iron-bound soil, through which no river or stream flows. It has also but few wells and these not very good. But the great Preserver and Sustainer of all, remedies this inconvenience in a way so extraordinary that He gives in this undeniable demonstration of His wonderful goodness. In the midst of the island there grows a tree, the leaves of which are long and narrow, and continue in constant verdure, winter and summer, and the branches are covered with a cloud which is never dispelled, but resolving itself into moisture, causes to fall from its leaves a very clear water, in such abundance that cisterns placed at its foot to receive it are never empty.

RECIPES.

A Pleasant Summer Drink.—To five gallons of cold water, add 1 quart of sound corn and 2 quarts of molasses. Put into a keg. Shake well, and in 2 or 3 days it will be fit for use. Bung tight. It may be flavored with essence of spruce or lemon. The corn will last to make 5 or 6 brewings. It becomes sour, add more molasses and water. It is a cheap and simple beer, and is called very good. A Yankee girl says this.

Moss on Flower Pots.—Ladies who are fond of cultivating flowers in the house will find a great benefit to the plants by spreading a coating of moss over the earth in the flower pots. This keeps the water from evaporating, and temperature more uniform. Tea grounds are often used for the same purpose. When a flower pot sets in a saucer, with a hole in the bottom of the pot, put a little sand in the saucer and cover it with moss. You will then have a very simple and admirable arrangement.

Housekeepers, farmers, mechanics, every body don't care to know how to stop the flow of blood from a cut or wound. Here's the remedy: Take the fine dust of tea and bind it close to the wound. After the blood ceases to flow, lard may be advantageously applied to the wound. Due regard to these instructions in the absence of medical skill, might save many lives.

Group.—Wring a linen cloth—cotton will do, but linen is preferable—out of cold water, fold it so as to make several thicknesses, and place it upon the child's throat and chest, then fold a dry flannel and wrap carefully over it.—Warm the child's feet—with hot stones if necessary—and cover with plenty of bed clothes, and let it go to sleep; you cannot perceive when it wakes that it has even a cold. It acts like a charm.

Educational.

Scrap Concerning Education.

For the Gazette. COLLECTED BY H. Knowledge and Power.

Knowledge and wisdom, far from being one, have of times in connection. Knowledge is a rule, profitable mass—The merit materials with which wisdom builds—All methods and squares, and fitted to its place, does not constitute what it seems to enrich. Knowledge is proud that he has learned so much, Wisdom is humble that he knows no more.—Cooper.

Education unsanctified by religion issues in infidelity and anarchy. Religion unenlightened by education begets superstition and despotism. The school house without the church produces China; the church without the school-house, Italy; the church and the school-house, Republican America.

The School Master.—The test of a good school master, is his power of improving the class of average boys; the test of an excellent one is his success in raising those who are below the average. And to these he should turn his attention, on the same principle that the economist is advised to take care of the pence, and leave the pounds to take care of themselves.

A Good Movement.—The boys of the grammar school at New Bedford, Mass., have organized themselves into a society for the suppression of profanity and vulgarity in their school. We know some Millin county boys of a 'larger growth' who ought to join that society.

He who, by his principles or practice, corrupts the manners and morals of the rising generation will reap a terrible harvest of woe! Easier for such a man if he had not been born!

A Schoolm'am in one of our district schools, examining a class in orthography. 'Spell and define floweret,' she said, 'Fl-o-w-e-r-e-t, floweret, a little flower,' went off a towhead in a perfect streak. 'Wavelet,' 'W-a-v-e-l-e-t, wavelet, a little wave,' was the prompt return of number two. 'Bullet,' 'B-u-l-l-e-t, bullet, a little bull,' shouted arch number three, who was innocently personified.

Whether reading and study are good for a young man depends very much on who brings the books, and what they are when they are brought! If a villain brings the literature and learning, reading and study are bad; but if a wise teacher brings the literature and learning, reading and study are good.—Becher.

Dr. Arnold, when at Laleham, lost all patience with a dull scholar, when the pupil looked up into his face and said, 'Why do you speak angrily, sir?' Indeed, I am doing the best I can.' Years after the doctor used to tell the story to his own children, and say, 'I never felt so ashamed of myself in my life. That look and that speech I have never forgotten.' Is not this a very suggestive fact for many parents and teachers, and for masters, too, who are oftentimes impatient and unreasonable with youths of this class?

Education.—Thewald thought it very unfair to influence a child's mind by inculcating an opinion before it should have come to years of discretion, and be able to choose for itself. I showed him my garden, and told him it was my botanic garden. 'How so?' said he, 'it is all covered with weeds.' 'Oh,' I replied, 'that is because it has not yet come to its age of discretion and choice. The weeds, you see, have taken the liberty to grow, and I thought it unfair in me to prejudice the soil in favor of the roses and strawberries.'—Cole ridge.

Experience Proves there are only TWO VALUABLE Machine Stitches: THE GROVER & BAKER ELASTIC STITCH AND THE SHUTTLE OR LOCK STITCH.

THE Grover & Baker Elastic-Stitch Sewing Machine is superior to all others for the following reasons: 1. They sew direct from the spools, and require no winding of thread. 2. They are more easily understood and used, and less liable to derangement than other machines. 3. They are capable of executing perfectly, without change of adjustment, a much greater variety of work than other machines. 4. The stitch made by these machines is much more firm, elastic, and durable, especially upon articles which require to be washed and stretched, than any other stitch. 5. This stitch, owing to the manner in which the under thread is wrought, is much the most plump and beautiful in use, and retains this plumpness and beauty even upon articles frequently washed and ironed until they are worn out. 6. The structure of the seam is such that thought to be cut or broken at intervals of only a few stitches it will neither open, run, or unravel, but remains firm and durable. 7. Unlike other machines, these fasten both ends of the seam by their own operation. 8. With these machines, white silk is used upon the right or face side of the seam, cotton may be used upon the other side, and the durability of the seam is not affected by the use of either. 9. These machines, in addition to their superior merits as instruments, are easy to learn and operate, and are easily learned and practiced, execute the most beautiful and permanent embroidery and ornamental work.
