

Millions of tiny rain drops

With anything for keys,

A light and airy treble

Keeping time upon the trees.

They play upon the stream

And the melody enchants us,

Like the music of a dream.

And an alto from the waves.

And Robin don't intrude, If, when the rain is weary.

He drops an interlude.

It seems as if the warbling

Of the birds in all the bowers,

Had been gathered into raindrops, And was coming down in showers.
