FATHER ABRAHAM

"With malice towards none, with charity for all, with firmness in the right, as God gives us to see the right, let us strive on to finish the work we are in; to bind up the nations wounds; to care for him who shall have borne the battle, and for his widow and his orphan, to do all which may achieve and cherish a just and a lasting peace among ourselves and with all nations."—A. L.

VOL. II. LANCASTER, PA., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 20, 1863. No. 1.

Poetry.

"GOD SAVE OUR PRESIDENT."

BY FRANCIS DE HAES JANVIER.
All hail! Unfurl the stripes and stars!
The banner of the free!
Ten times ten thousand patriots greet
The shrine of Liberty!

Miscellaneous.

PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE.

About forty years ago my mother needed a new carpet for the parlor. According to time-honored custom, she invited her lady friends of the village to a carpet rag sewing. Old coats, pants, jackets, vests, petticoats, etc., had been carefully saved for a year or more to meet such an emergency.

Poetry.

"GOD SAVE OUR PRESIDENT."

BY FRANCIS DE HAES JANVIER.
Not to invest a potentato
With robes of majesty?
Not to confer a kingly crown,
Nor lend a subject knee?

Miscellaneous.

PAST, PRESENT AND FUTURE.

Here we have the black and white to prove that a wife, two boys, two girls and a baby were newly clothed, and thirty-two yards of muslin bought for general family use, all for $10.00. And it must be remembered, too, that the goods bought were fit for anybody to wear, and quite up to the then standard of fashion, and much admired by the lady friends and neighbors who came in on the evening of that day to congratulate the Brown family upon their splendid new rig.

THE LOVE SECRET.

BY KATE SUTHERLAND.

"EDWARD is to be in London next week," said Mrs. Ravensworth; "and I trust, Edith, that you will meet him with the frankness he is entitled to receive."
Edith Hamilton, who stood behind the chair of her aunt, did not make any answer.

fact of an obligation to love puts a gulf between us. My heart turns from him as from an enemy. I will meet him with politeness; but it must be cold and formal. To ask me more, is to ask what I cannot give. I only wish that he possessed the manliness I would have had if similarly situated. Were this so, I would now be free by his act, not my own.
Seeing that all she urged but made the feelings of Edith oppose themselves more strongly to the young man, Mrs. Ravensworth ceased to speak upon the subject, and the former was left to brood with a deeply disturbed heart over the approaching interview with one who had come to claim a hand that she resolutely determined not to yield.
