A rich joke regarding a brace of ardent lovers of this city has just been whispered to us. Under promise we have agreed to instep. conceal the names, but are at liberty to reveal the facts of the case.

Last July, at the close of one of those hot days, these two lovyers might have been seen seated upon the roof of one of our beautiful cottages, which is flat, and covered with gravel and pitch, after the manner of our city bridge. Yes, there they sat.

LANCASTER, June 251h, 168. EDITORS EXPRESS: Dr. Wm. M. Whiteside, the enterprising Dentist, has purchased from me a large stock of teeth and all the fixtures, the in-struments formerly belonging to me, and also those used by my father, Dr. l'arry, in his prac-tice. In the purchase, the doctor has provided himself with some of the most valuable and ex-pensive instruments used in dental practice, and has beyond doubt one of the best and lar-gest collections of teeth and instruments in the State. Persons visiting the commodious offices of Dr. Whiteside, cannot fail to be fully accom-modated. The Doctor loses no opportunity of furnishing himself with every late scientific improvement in his line of business. H. B. PARRY.

'Tired nature's sweet restorer, balany sleep,' was requisite for lovers as well as others. Still, seated near each other, the plighted vows were again and again exchanged, and scaled with kisses, like

"Linked sweetness long drawn out."

At length, after many vain efforts to sever their pleasant pleasures, the transported pair found that they were bound to each other by more sticking bonds than love's vows. The hot sun had melted the pitch, and after sitting so long, and the night air having cooled the resinous matter, they found they were both "stuck fast."
