before him—how proudly he had dwelt upon the flattering promise of the future—and how heavy was the fall. He paced to and fro in the garden, and finally he reasoned calmly on the subject. At first he had muttered deep impressions upon the head of Samuel Lovejoy; but when he came to read the letter again he was forced to think and feel differently.

A CHICAGO journal, alluding to Garrett Davis's resolution censuring Butler, suggests that "in case Butler is found to deserve severe punishment, he is sent to the Senate to hear one of Davis' speeches." Such a proposition could only emanate from a heart dead to human feeling.

FROM the fact that General Grant is receiving and listening to committees recommending the different aspirants, the opinion is gaining ground that the question is still an open one, and that he will not finally make up his Cabinet until the last moment. THE Columbian Spy has the following good "hit": "There will be a little the most stupendous blow-out in San Francisco somewhere between next pen-ta-ten and Fourth of July, that ever the Pacific coast has experienced, perhaps. SENATOR DOOLITTLE is going to locate in New York city, where he will find his affinity in politics. The pure air of Wisconsin is not adapted to the growth of conservatism—still less as a home for political infidelity. New York city has become a general House of Refuge for Copperhead saints and sinners, and accordingly we find apostate Republicans gravitating thither. The marriage portion of a young bride in olden times was a feather bed, six chairs, a plain cherry table and bureau, six cups and saucers, half a dozen silver teaspoons, and a lot of sand for sanding floors. Brussels carpets, and all other such modern fixings for show.

We give below a receipt for doing up shirt-booms: "Take two ounces of fine white gum arabic powder—put into a pitcher, and pour on a pint or more of water—and then having covered it let stand all night. In the morning pour it carefully from the dregs into a clean bottle, cork it and keep it for use. A tablespoonful of gum water stirred in a pint of starch made in the usual manner, will give to lawn, either white or printed, a look of newness, when nothing else can restore them after they had been washed.

A TOUGH CASE: A little darkey was recently found sitting on the step of a fashionable house not far from Saratoga, crying piteously. "What's de matter wid you?" asked a colored woman. "Dar's matter nuff—drouble all ober de house. Fadder an' drunk—mudder an' gone home wid coles—sis broke de looking glass wid de broomstick—de baby got her eyes full of kyan pepper, and little Ned Anthony put the mustard on his hair for goose grease. I put salt in my tea for white sugar, and it makes me sick. The dog licked Ned's face, and got his mouth full of mustard, and lies under de bed a howlin.
