A surety of the Peace case in which Joseph Kilen was defendant, and his wife complain-ant. The wife charged her husband with threats to kill her. The defendant charged his wife with misappropriating his property and neglected to provide for him. The parties reside on Chestnut Hill. Judgment of the Court not pronounced.

reside on Chestnut Hill. Judgment of the Court not pronounced. Elizabeth Kulp, Felozious Assault. The defendant charged with assault committed at the eating saloon of Henry Carson, in North street, near Rockland. This case excited quite an interest and drew quite a crowd of spectators. The accused, in company with her sister, went to the house of the defendant, where a dance was in progress, and about midnight an altercation occurred between Carson and the two sisters. During the strug-gle which ensued, the defendant drew a knife Carson and the two sisters. During the strug-gle which ensued, the defendant drew a knile and struck Carson soveral times, inflicting one serious wound in the back. The indict-ment as presented by the District Attorney charged, 1st. Felonious Assault with Attempt to Murder, and, 2d. Assault and Battery. The facts as produced by the defendant was that Carson kept a disreputable house, sold liquor witho& license and that he invited the sisters to his house. The counsel for the de-fendant made a very strong appeal in her be-half maintaining that as she was invited to the house and committed no offence, the atthe house and committed no offence, the at-tempt to eject from the premises was unwarranted. The jury returned a sealed verdict of not guilty and the prosecutor to pay costs. Samuel Hoover charged with seduction. The case was settled. Charles Willis pleaded guilty to the larceny of three geese belonging to A. M. Stauffer, and was sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

The following bills were ignored by the Grand Jury: John K. Fisher, felonious em-bezzlement of property belonging to Dr. Jac. Long; Barbara Henkle, selling liquor with-out license, selling liquors to minors and sell-ing liquor on Sunday; Rudolph Reiff, selling liquor without license, to minors, and on Sun-day: John Sheaphorger, selling liquor with liquor without license, to minors, and on Sun-day; John Shoenberger, selling liquor with-out license; John Wayland and Jacob Ness-inger, Supervisors of Clay township, neglect of duty; Peter Hilliard and Frank Baker, riot; E. H. Smith, seduction; Samuel C. Kauffman, larceny; Joseph Kilen, assault and battery; Jesse Pennabecker, keeping a gambling house; Holbert Anderson, assault and battery: John Becker, hores stealing: and battery; John Becker, horse stealing; Andrew Kern, assault and battery; Merritt Gregg, larceny; Alice Horney, larceny; Ottman and others, Henry Sheets and others, and Samuel Auble, erecting fish pots in the Susquehanna, and Frank Clinton, larceny.

The Grand Jury Report : That they visited the Hospital, Alms House and County Prison, and found them in good order and condition they express their disapprobation of the rethey express their disapprobation of the re-turns by committing magistrates of minors from ten to fifteen years of age to answer charges of petit larceny, which they think should be determined by the magistrates themselves instead of troubling the Court with them; they condemn the derelictions of duty on the part of Constables, in the manner of attuning the largest of the line here. on the part of Constables, in the manner of returning the keepers of tippling-houses, without the names of witnesses to sustain the charge, causing the bills to be ignored and the County to pay the costs; they deprecate the custom of our Constables and committing magistrates in the free use of authority in suprehending asserting and committing magnetrates in the free use of authority in apprehending, asserting and committing vagrants, who would otherwise pass beyond the County, as by the abuse of this right our prison is continually filled with them causing a large amount of the public money to be used for their maintenance, costs of arrest and conviction; they recommend that some plan be devised by which the vagrants may be employed and the proceeds of their labor he appropriated as a fund to renumerate be appropriated as a fund to renumera the County for the expense of keeping an feeding them; they condemn the prison va used in conveying prisoners to and from the prison and recommend that a more suitable one be procured; they recommend that a more surad Commissioners appropriate to the America Fire Company of Lancasten a sum not e ceeding $500 towards the payment of sa Fire Engine, &c.
