Tebacco. The Market in New York.

U. S. Tobacco Journal. The year 1879 ended in perfect tranquillity. The new year opened equally as un-disturbed, and leaf dealers are now ready to do some kind of business. This much is certain; that they will do very little business during the first part of 1880. They need not despair, however. The second half of the year will provide them with plenty of good tobacco which they will be able to buy at low rates. Our Pennsylvania reports speak of gradually decreasing figures for '79 tobacco. There are some 35,000 cases still in the hands of farmers. This tobacco must be bought at 10 to 12 This tobacco must be bought at 10 to 12 cents for wrappers and 8 and 5 cents for binders and fillers. If higher prices are paid, no money will be made. [This is as unreliable as the Journal's previous reports.—Eds. Int.] We adhere to the sentiments expressed by us during the past three months. Cigar manufacturers now look favorably upon '78 Ohio, and this tobacco is preferred to '78 Pennsylvania. The latter is firmly held at from 15 to 20 cents for running by New York packers.

At twelve to fifteen horse-power engine and boiler. Also a large planer, almost new; a small flooring and matching machine, and a teneting and power mortising machine. Address PHILIP LEBZELTER, Eagle Spoke and Bending Works, nov10-tfd&w

STORE ROOM FOR RENT, NO. 114 N.

STORE ROOM FOR RENT, NO. 114 N. cents for running by New York packers. There is at the present writing no demand for any kind of tobacco. The sales of the week hardly number 300 cases, comprising '78 Pennsylvania, Connecticut and Ohio,

In their annual review J. S. Gans's Son & Co. say there are in F. C. Linde & Co.'s inspection warehouses Jan. 1, 1880, 16,690 cases. There were exported from New York last year 65,719 hhds of leaf tobacco. The December seed leaf business has been good ; total sales, 5,250 cases ; for export, 400 cases. Of all kinds there were sold in 1879, 88,685 cases, of which 5,014 were for export; of the whole 14,900 was of Pennsylvania '77 and 11,520 of Pennsylvania '78. That last year's business was not a good one this circular attributes to the average poor quality of the crop and the lack of the export trade. Nevertheless "nearly all tobaccos excepting Pennsylvania have been taken out of first hands at a profit, and even this article would now, to a large extent, be in jobbers' and manu-facturers' possession had not, fortunately for them, the packers in many instances refused to accept small profits on tobacco, which if tine in quality is deficient in wrappers. The stock of old tobacco on hand Jan. 2, 1880, is put at 48,000 cases, divided as follows:

7,500 cases, 1878, New England, including a trifle of 1877; 21,000 cases, 1878, Pennsylvania; 6,500 cases, 1878, New York; 10,000 cases, 1878, Ohio; 3,000 cases, 1878, Wisconsin. The New Crop.

Regarding the outlook for the coming year Messrs, Gans say: "This crop (the 1879) is a good one, sounder and leafier than the preceding, and much larger; we estimate it at 175,000 cases, consisting of:

35,000 cases New England, of which 7,000 Housatonic, 15,000 cases Hartford county, and 13,000 cases Massachusetts, including 5,000 eases "Havana seed" the bulk of which is Massachusetts; on the whole better than 1878, particularly the

(most estimates are from 22,000 to 28,000 cases), of which 6,000 cases "Havana containing some very fair tobacco, but on the whole the leaf is not sound, and the wrapper proportion will be less than the 1878 crop.

Purchasing has been going on for some time in all the states, the Eastern and Western "Havana" has nearly all been taken from producers; in Pennsylvania it is estimated that one half the crop has been sold, and in New England buyers have not been inactive. Thus, with a stock of 223,000 cases, of which 48,000 cases old crop to enter the new year with, it should require great moderation on the part of operators to make a success of this year's business, but so far all the investments made have been at figures which surely anticipate, nay, even discount, a very flourishing trade, and while it is true that the area of civilization is being constantly extended in the West, Northwest and Southwest, and fertile lands, heretofore uncultivated, are being brought under cultivation, and made to add their portion to the national wealth, still our branch is a limited one, and without a good foreign demand, business cannot be otherwise than stagnant.

The momentary outlook for an export trade is not encouraging; in connection with other reasons we must state that through the increased duty in Germany the production of Palatinate and other tobaccos have been stimulated, and this year undoubtedly an enormous increase on previous crops will be made.

The Brazil crop of 1878-79, which was a good one, had been largely imported at a very early season, in anticipation of the increased duty, and although there is not much in importer's hands, we have all reason to believe that manufacturers and even jobbers are at present well supplied.

The St. Domingo crop of 1879, about 60,000 seroons, of which the first parcels arrived in Bremen some two months since. has been pronounced as being very good : furthermore nothing in the shape of 1879 seed leaf has so far been bought at prices low enough to induce the Germans to take

Our English friends express a desire to use seed leaf, but unless we can put up light and dry strips in large quantities, and at moderate figures, there is little to be hoped for from that quarter.

Before closing, allow us to say that remarks made in our circulars are always made in good faith. Our interests are too closely allied with producers, packers, manufacturers and exporters to wish to injure any one, and we trust that the 1879 crop-or rather that part of it yet in producers hands—will be purchased at more moderate figures than those so far paid.

We are satisfied that, were our crop 250,-000 to 300,000 cases, instead of 175,000 (and which will ere many years be the case), it could be readily disposed of, and at prices which would pay growers. They must not expect to become rich on each individual crop, but they shall always receive a fair remuneration for their labor.

Cuttings have been dealt in to a much larger extent than heretofore, both for export and consumption, owing to the increasing demand throughout the world for cheap cigars, and the absence of a sufficiency of low priced-fillers. 6,015 cases were exported, and prices have advanced fully all physicians' remedies failed, she was in-duced to try your remedy, and received bene-ficial results from the first bottle. After taking four bottles she was entirely cured.

Some people have a fashion of confusing excellent remedies with the large mass of "patent medicines," and in this they are guilty of a wrong. There are some advertised remedies fully worth all that is asked for them, and one at least we know of—Hop Bitters. The writer has had occasion to use the Bitters in just such a climate as we have most of the year in Bay City, and has always found them to be first-class and reliable, doing all that is claimed for them.—Tribunc. hem.-Tribune.
