Lancaster Intelligencer.
WEDNESDAY EVENING, FEB. 11, 1880.
THE MAYORALTY.
THE ISSUES INVOLVED.
A COMPARISON OF THE CANDIDATES.
By Their Records Let Them Be Judged.

How to Secure an Honest, Intelligent, Progressive and Economical Executive Administration.
For the INTELLIGENCER.

As a consistent Republican, who believes that the best interests of the party are always served by the defeat, rather than the election, of unfit and unworthy candidates, nominated not for any public good but in behalf of selfish individual aims and by a political ring, I desire to express my views as to the issues involved in the pending contest for mayor and to give the reasons why I shall cast my vote as I propose to on election day.

I regard the administration of municipal affairs as a business matter, to be conducted on business principles and to be viewed from a practical business standpoint.
On the One Hand

I find presented for mayor the name of John A. Boring for whom my suffrage is asked because he is the "regular nominee," but when I come to inquire what demand there was for him to become the candidate of the Republican party I find that there was no spontaneous movement in such behalf, but that his nomination was the result of his own urgent solicitation, persistent wire-pulling and political combinations engaged in for several years.

By his own admission he became first a candidate for common council and then for select council to make capital to secure for himself the nomination for mayor; affording a fair presumption that he would abuse his position for the same end.

Tracing his career in councils it exhibits nothing that recommends him for promotion in the municipal government. His official energies have been most earnestly and successfully exerted to secure the improvement at the public expense of those streets which run near or to increase the value of his own property; and he has never hesitated to favor the expenditure of the taxpayer's money on unimportant or comparatively unused streets on which his property is located, while the great thoroughfares were neglected.

He has insisted upon all supplies being furnished to the city by bid and contract, instead of the awards being made "by favor," and has effected large savings to the public treasury by securing the work to be done and the supplies to be furnished at a fair price, instead of the exorbitant rates theretofore obtained by official favoritism.

He has earnestly and successfully endeavored himself to carrying on and enlarging the work of providing adequate relief to the suffering poor of the city.

He has judiciously but fearlessly exercised the veto power to prevent hasty, il-considered or improper legislation and in this interposition of his executive influence has so commended itself to the citizens generally, that it has almost uniformly been sustained even by an opposition majority in both branches of council.

In his enforcement of law and order and in the exercise of police discipline he has been firm, impartial and judicious.
In his personal bearing and his official relations he has been courteous, dignified and obliging magistrate, attentive to the duties of his office and thoroughly capable of rightly discharging them.

His official record has challenged the admiration even of his political opponents and his uniform rectitude has exempted his administration even from the cavil of partisan critics.

Therefore his candidacy is placed above all partisan consideration, and appeals for the support of him by all good citizens, because his defeat would be a defeat of the best principles of municipal government; his election will be a triumph of law and order and progress, and retrenchment and a business-like administration of municipal affairs.

True Democracy.
How they Harmonize Things in Allentown.
Dissatisfied Republicans who are chafing under the Cameron collar that has been riveted on their necks, may read with profit the following particulars of the Democratic city convention of Allentown, held on Saturday, and by which Edw. G. Martin was nominated for mayor and John Koch for city treasurer:

Eight delegates, openly chosen from among the body of the people, whose representatives they were, without any of the manipulating machinery common to political conventions, gathered at the court house on Saturday night and in answer to the roll call responded one and all of them that Edwin G. Martin and John Koch should be the standard bearers of the coming municipal contest.

There was no jar whatever in the proceedings, not a single discordant note to mar the harmony of his work, but from the moment the convention was called to order by Mr. Wright until the motion to adjourn was carried, a perfect and complete unanimity of sentiment and unity of purpose marked its very act.

No coteries of politicians, no faction of the Democratic party, no class of individuals can claim title to the honor of these nominations; they were emphatically the people's choice, and when Hon. John D.
Stiles nominated Eli G. Schwartz, esq., to preside over the deliberation of the convention it was an open proclamation that cliques and factions must be forgotten, that real and imaginary wrongs must be forgotten and all dividing lines obliterated, in the presence of the supreme command of the people, that harmony and peace and unity should be summoned to bring success to the Democracy.

If after reading the above and contrasting it with the dark ways of the Cameron state convention, and the Eshleman county committee, our Republican friends have pluck enough to break the collar, they will feel all the better for it.

of official duty, he shows himself unworthy." (New Era, Oct. 17, 1877.)
From that day to this I have watched his course closely, and though I have never asked nor received any favors of him I have found him to fully justify all the expectations formed of him, and to have fully carried out all his pledges.

His first official act was to direct the attention of councils to a refunding of the city debt at a lower rate of interest, and loans made under his administration have been at a reduced rate of interest, and have at the same time commanded a premium in the market.

He has consistently favored the opening and improvement of streets where required for the public need and not for private interest; while at the same time he has resolutely opposed every expenditure of the public money for individual benefits, or for any purpose not justified by law.

He has aided and urged the promotion of all laudable and timely public improvements, and to his zeal and indefatigable attention are largely due the present satisfactory condition of the water works, the erection of the Lime street railroad bridge and other necessary improvements; though he has as steadily opposed additions to the city debt for expenditures which the municipality is not in a condition to legally incur under the constitution and law of the commonwealth.

From the first day of his administration to the present, he has been energetic in expending and endeavoring to prevent a system of making current expenditures in excess of the appropriations and of contracting permanent municipal obligations for temporary purposes, which had hitherto led to a rapid increase in the city debt, swelling it to the verge of its constitutional limit—increasing the tax rate and burdening property holders and renters, of this and future generations, with incumbrances for which they had no "value received."

furnished to the city by bid and contract,
to be done and the supplies to be furnished at a fair price, instead of the ex-
official favoritism.

He has earnestly and successfully endeavored himself to carrying on and en-
to the suffering poor of the city.

cised the veto power to prevent hasty, il-
considered or improper legislation and in
this interposition of his executive influence has so commended itself to the citi-

The Cameron Strength.
If Prevailing at Harrisburg. Why Not at Louisville Courier-Journal.
The Republicans who are honestly opposed to the restoration of General Grant to the head of the government may console themselves with the notion that the excessive which Don Cameron has wrung from Pennsylvania has a which in it, and, at most, is but partial and qualified. They may lay the flattering unction to their souls that it is the result of coercion and chicanery, the triumph of organization over numbers. And indeed, so it is, but what of that? The Keystone affords a fair test and, taking it as such, why might the forces which have prevailed at Harrisburg not prevail at Chicago? If it be true that eight out of every ten Republicans in Pennsylvania are averse to the nomination of General Grant, and yet the Camerons were able to pull him through and throw the state for him, what reason can the dilettante politicians of the Republican press give for the belief that the boom, thus started, may not thus proceed to the end? Speedily the manuver in Pennsylvania will be followed by a movement in New York, against which the gentlemen in bird-tail coats and white cravats and kid gloves will be powerless.

With New York and Pennsylvania in the East, and Illinois in the West, the Grant people have possession of the keys to the position; and neither Blaine nor Sherman has given any proof of a diverting strength sufficient to stand against a perfectly drilled body of resolute and expert managers, who know what they are about and mean to have what they are after. "Bray is a good dog but Holdfast is a better." During periods of excitement, may, of revolutionary feeling, temerity and passion send reason to the rear, and the objections of those who consider General Grant a weak candidate will be treated as the mollycoddles, who let "I dare not" wait upon "I would." After the nomination, it is calculated, there will be no bolt, and as for threats, brave men do not care for them.

CUTICURA!
HUMORS OF THE BLOOD, SKIN AND SCALP.
CUTICURA RESTORES the most powerful Blood Purifier and Liver Stimulant ever compounded. In forty minutes after taking the first dose it is manifested in the saliva, blood, sweat and urine, showing that it has entered the blood and been distributed throughout the system. It is a powerful purgative, restores the circulation of fluids it meets with the corrupt particles of the blood which foster and maintain disease, with which it does its work, destroying and gradually eliminating them from the system.
Hence its power to forever expel Scrofulous, Cancerous and Cancer Humors, which unchecked fill the body with foul eruptions, and rot out the delicate machinery of life.
CUTICURA, the great external remedy for all Humors of the Scalp and Skin, Ulcers, Sores and Discharging Wounds, is the most soothing and healing of outward applications. It speedily destroys fungus and parasitic growths, restores the oil glands and tubes to a healthy condition, and cures the most obstinate CUTICURA SOAP, Diseases of the Skin and Scalp which have been the torture of a life time.

SKIN DISEASE.
Great Suffering for Sixteen Years. A Wonderful Cure by the Cuticura Remedies.
Misses, W. & F. FORTY: Gentlemen.—CUTI-CURA REMEDIES have done me a power of good.
I have been afflicted with skin disease for sixteen years, and have tried every medicine, but nothing has done me any good, but at night the itching nearly drove me wild.
I would speak until the blood would run down my limbs.
I have consulted several physicians. Some said they could cure me, but others said no.
I will say that before I used the Cuticura Remedies I was in a fearful state, and had given up all hope of ever having any relief.
But, like a drowning man grasping at a straw, I thought I would try the Cuticura Remedies, as I about which I had read so much.
They have performed a wonderful cure for me, and of my own free will and accord I recommend them. Yours truly, S. A. STEELE,
68 W. Van Buren St., Chicago, Ill., March 17, 1879.

I can cheerfully speak of the healing qualities of your CUTICURA SOAP, and its perfume is superior to any of the standard ones in use.
