

OBITUARY.

Death of Yeates Conyngham. J. Yeates Conyngham, an old and well-known citizen, died at his residence, corner of South Queen and Millin streets, this afternoon at a quarter past one o'clock.

Deceased came of good stock, both on the paternal and maternal side. His father, Redmond Conyngham, was a brother of the late Judge Conyngham, of Wilkesbarre, and a grandson of Sir Redmond Conyngham, of Ireland. His mother was a daughter of Judge Jasper Yeates, who in his day stood at the head of the legal profession in the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Conyngham was born July 26th, 1809, and lived all his life in the house in which he died, as did also his mother before him. He was an honest, kind-hearted man, led a very quiet life, and was celebrated for nothing more than for his piety and works of charity. He was all his life, until about ten years ago, a consistent member of St. James church; and since that time has been a faithful member of St. John's.

For several years past Mr. Conyngham was nearly blind, but as long as he could keep his feet he insisted on taking his daily walks and going regularly to church. Though regarded as somewhat eccentric, he had a clear head and managed his estate with care and judgment. He was never married and has no near relatives, we believe, except his brother, David Conyngham, and family, who reside near Paradise, this county. His funeral will take place on Tuesday next. The religious services will take place in this city, and his remains will be taken for interment to the burying-grounds attached to All Saints church, near Paradise, where his father, mother, and other relatives lie buried.

Change of Schedule. A new schedule goes into effect on the Pennsylvania railroad to-morrow night at 11:30. There are no important changes in the time of trains with the exception of Harrisburg express. This train now arrives here at 7:35 in the morning, but hereafter its time will be 8:05; returning in the evening it will arrive from Philadelphia at 7:30, instead of 7:55. York accommodation will arrive 8:00 a. m., instead of 7:30.

The Belgian Pavement. Monday morning at 10 o'clock is the time at which George Nauman, solicitor to Mayor MacGonigle and Wm. Millar, will ask the court to grant a preliminary injunction to restrain the street committee and Cunningham & McNeil from laying the first square of North Queen street with Belgian block pavement. The argument before the court will probably take place on Saturday, March 27th.

Also, Too True! The editor of the Marietta Times gets to Lancaster sometimes, and this is what he thinks of our streets: "We believe that Lancaster is the dirtiest city of any we have ever been in, after a rainy season. We think it bad enough to have mud in the country, but the streets of Lancaster city are in a worse condition than Marietta."

Sold His Interest. H. Linville Hendrickson, one of the proprietors of the Marietta Register, has disposed of his interest in that paper to his partner, Percy P. Schock. The change was made on account of the poor health of Mr. Hendrickson, who has accepted a situation in Florida, where he thinks the climate will be beneficial to his health.

A Sweet Singer. We learn that W. W. Bentley, the vocalist, who accompanied Rev. Hammond, the evangelist, during his religious campaign in this city a few years ago, will reach Lancaster this evening and attend the services at the First Baptist church to-morrow.

Tobacco Packers' Party. Last night the employees of E. Hoffman & Son's tobacco warehouse, of which John Reck is foreman, held a sociable in Schiller hall. About thirty couples were present and all spent a pleasant time.

Soup House Closed. The soup house was closed this morning and a statement of the number of rations, &c., given out during the season will be published shortly. There were not as many applicants for aid this year as last.

Police Officer Sick. J. P. Killinger, constable of the Fifth ward, is confined to the house on account of illness. L. E. Fulmer has been appointed to serve on the force in his stead.

Serious Accidents.

Shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon a young man named Clare Carpenter, in attempting to enter the mayor's office, made a misstep, and striking the toe of his boot against the granite step, pitched forward and fell against the door-jam with his head, stunning him so severely that he rolled down the steps and lay upon his back on the pavement until he was tenderly taken up by Officer Pyle, who assisted him into the mayor's office where he soon recovered. The young man was perfectly sober at the time.

Yesterday a tree in front of the residence of Mrs. C. Landis, North Queen street, near James, was dug up by the roots, and those having charge of the work failed to fill up the hole. Last night about 11 o'clock, as Mr. Myers, a tobacco dealer, was walking past the place he fell into the hole, and hurt himself considerably. Such man-traps should not be allowed open at night.

Sale of Real Estate. Major James Malone has sold the property in Marietta, which is occupied by Henry Wolfe to John A. Strine for $1200.

Amusements. "An Arabian Night."—This is the somewhat deceptive title of a comedy that is to be produced in this city on the evening of the 19th, by the company which secured such success at the Walnut, Philadelphia, this winter, and is now making a tour of the state. It is not as its name suggests, a spectacular exhibition, but a well-acted play, as described in the bright, light, brightest, funniest of comedies, without dull scene in it. The company includes Messrs. E. F. Thorne, Harry Joseph and other well known comedians.

Tommy Mack's Minstrels.—On Monday evening Tommy Mack's minstrels will give an entertainment in the opera house, when the "Big Three," which is composed of Mesdames Turner and Mack, will appear in their grotesque songs and dances. Sam Maxwell, of New York, will occupy one of the end chairs and will do a specialty in the second part. A number of Lancaster favorites will take part, including Dan Clemmens, Andy Foley, Charles Shay and Levi Nixdorf. John McCann, a new performer to this city, will make his first appearance here and will sing a favorite ballad. A clog dancing contest and a pie-eating match will close the performance.

A young man by the name of William Keat, coachman for Mr. Charles McClellan, came to my store one morning complaining that his feet were very sore and he was unable to go to work. He had in vain tried to get relief by consulting physicians, and had endeavored, without success, to ease the pain by rubbing his feet with snow and ice, the remedy applied in such cases. Being exposed a great deal to the cold by his occupation, his feet got worse daily, until one day he fainted in the street. A few days after he again came to my store and showed me his feet. I have seen a great many sores in my life, but nothing to equal this, and was afraid the poor fellow would never be able to get on his feet.

While yet the new haags on the throne, I shall less sweetness than is wont. To breathe from lips that SOZODONT. Has touched with a soft crimson glow That shows the dazzling teeth off-so.

New York, March 13.—Fire broke out this morning in the three-story brick building No. 643 Eighth avenue, occupied as a dry goods house by Stephen McPartland, and spread to No. 641, occupied by Thomas Anderson, tea dealer. McPartland's loss is $38,000, and Anderson's $24,000; all insured. Before the firemen arrived the flames had completely gutted the building. Mr. McPartland had just laid in a heavy stock for the spring trade and the shelves were filled with inflammable material, on which the flames fed.

Thomas Anderson's tea warehouse, corner of 41st street, and next door to the burning buildings, was saved from destruction by holes being cut in the floor. Only the upper stairs were badly damaged. Mr. Anderson states that his loss could not exceed $1,500 at the most. The loss on the building will probably reach $4,000. The stock and the building were fully insured. Mr. McPartland estimates his loss at $60,000, while it may reach $70,000. His total insurance is $55,000, distributed among a number of companies Building No. 643, Eighth avenue, occupied by him, is the property of a gentleman named Rice, who lives in Frankfort-on-Rhine. It is badly wrecked and can hardly be repaired for $8,000. The stock is a total loss.

There was in the building no heater or fire of any sort except three gas jets burning in the show window on the Eighth avenue front.
