MONDAY "EVENING, MARCH 15, 1880.

COMFORT. One autumn eve, before the mellow day Had met the night and faded thence away, While in the western sky there lingered still Soft tints of purple, gold and daffodil,

And while the mountain peak was tipped with Once more, ere shadows stole it from my

I strolled in a sequestered burial ground; And on a crumbling tablet there I found This quaint inscription, marking all alone A little grave with weeds and grass o'ergrown

"Who plucked that flower?" the angry gardener cried. 'The Master,' hastily his mate replied.

"Thereat the gardner paused and held his

Ah! you, who from your sorrow seek release And you, whose hearts with grief are crushed

Because your darling God has called away. Are not the angels whispering unto you These simple words: "It was the Master,"

A. D. F. Randolph.

The most interesting celestial event this week, one of comparatively rare occurrence, will be the occultation of Mars by the moon on Wednesday evening, just after sunset. It is a curious fact that the first occultation of a planet by the moon of which any record exists was an occultaiioa of Mars. It occurred in the spring of the year 357 before Christ, and is mention ed by Aristotle in his book "De Cœlo. The occultation on Wednesday will begin at about 6:35 p. m., New York time, and will last about an hour and a quarter. The planet will disappear behind the dark edge of the unilluminated portion of the moon, and will reappear from behind the bright edge, on the side on which the sun shines. An ordinary spyglass will give an interesting view of the scene. Those who possess astronomical telescopes will be able to watch for certain peculiar appearances that have been recorded at some previous occultations, and which may have a bearing on the question whether the moon possesses any atmosphere. Two or three times observers have seen, during occultations of Jupiter and Saturn, a narrow band of shade on the disk of the partially hidden planet, next to the edge of the moon. At other times the planet's disk has seemed flattened or distorted. Mars is now so far away in his orbit that the features of his surface will not appear to advantage, but a powerful telescope will, nevertheless, show the gradual disappearance of his continents and oceans behind the moon's edge, and any glass will exhibit the striking contrast between the ruddy color of the planet and the brilliant yellow light of our satellite.

A $1,000 Guarantee. Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, will positively cure Bright's Disease and Diabetes; and it is guaranteed that it will also cure 99 per cent. of other kidney diseases, 95 per cent of all liver diseases, and will help in every case without injury to the system, when taken according to directions, and the sum of $1,000 will be paid to any person who can prove that it has failed to do this.—H. H. Warner & Co.

Before you begin your heavy spring work after a winter of relaxation, your sysiem needs cleansing and strengthening to prevent an attack of Ague, Billious or Spring Fever, or some other Spring sickness that will unfit you for a season's work. You will save time, much sickness and great expense if you will use one bottle of Hop Bitters in your family this month. Don't wait. See another column.
