The commonwealth closed. For the defense Dr. Greene offered in evidence his diploma, granted him in 1848, and signed by some of the most distinguished professors of the medical art. This was evidence that he was not a quack or empiric. To prove that he was not a transient physician nor subject to the penalties of the act of Assembly he showed that he had already been here for three months, had opened a regular office and contracted with the newspapers for advertisements for six months. He was a graduate of a reputable college, where he had not merely a three years' course but a six years' course; he had studied not merely allopathy, but homeopathy, hydropathy, the eclectic and electric systems, and dentistry also, and had practiced medicine successfully for 31 years. Dr. Greene was subjected to a severe cross-examination by the district attorney, from which it was elicited that he had practiced medicine in Providence, Waltham, Boston, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Reading and Lancaster, and had given series of lectures on medical subjects in all parts of the country.

In defense of Dr. Campbell two witnesses, his son and Mr. Carberry, testified that he had been making and selling his preparations for twenty years, and that these preparations were copy-righted. His counsel argued that he was no more amenable to the statute than the clerk in a drug store, who sold such medicines as were called for or who filled the prescriptions of physicians.

In behalf of Mrs. Sweeney her counsel declared that she was not a doctor at all; that there had not been a particle of evidence offered that she had ever prescribed a dose of medicine for anybody, and that Dr. Carpenter's hearsay evidence was worthless and would be scouted out of court; and that it was most disreputable for members of a great society like the medical society, composed as it is of excellent and eminent men, to be running around through the back streets and alleys searching for some one who might be interfering with their practice, and pouncing down upon a poor, inoffensive colored wo-

After Dr. Greene had made his closing argument, the gist of which was that he was a regularly graduated physician and a permenent resident here, the district attorney closed his argument, claiming that a prima facie case had been made out against each of the accused and demanding that they be held to appear at court.

This morning Alderman Spurrier announced that he had held the accused for the inspectors to leave balances in his hands for which they are charged by the county answer for a violation of that part of the law relating to itinerant physicians; and Dr. Campbell and Mrs. Sweeney for practising medicine without a diploma and without having taken out a license.

COUNTY AUDITORS' REPORT. Interesting Reading for Taxpayers.

Is There Too Much Mest Used at the Prison The report of the county auditors, who have been at work on the different accounts for four weeks past, was presented to the court this morning. It is as fol-

To the Honorable the Judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Lancaster County, the undersigned Auditors of said county beg leave to present the following report:

In pursuance of an act of Assembly, approved March 25, 1876, we convened at the court house in the city of Lancaster and commeneed to audit, settle and adjust the account of Samuel A. Groff, esq., treasurer of Lancas-ter county, from the 1st of January, 1879, to the alst of December, 1879, both days inclusive, and after carefully examining the same and comparing his vouchers therewith we find a balance in his lands on the 31st of December 1879 of 202 727

1879, of $93,787.75.

We have also examined the account of Hugh R. Fulton, esq., treasurer of the Home for Friendless Children, and after comparing his vouchers therewith, and it correct, with a balance in his hands due the Home on the 31st the St December 1870, 1872, 57 day of December, 1879, of $162.57. We have also examined the accounts of [Geo. Spurrier, treasurer of the poor and house of employment of said county and, after comparing his vouchers therewith, find it correct with a balance in his hands due the county of Lancaster, of the 31st of December, 1879, of $5,

We have also examined the accounts of Ambrose Pownall, treasurer of the board of prison inspectors of said county from the 1st of Jan-nary, 1879, to the 31st of March, 1879, both days inclusive, and after comparing his vouchers, therewith find a balance in his hands due the county of Lancaster on the 31st of March, 1879, of $734 79. We have also examined the accounts of Isaac

N. Shaeffer, treasurer of the board of prison inspectors from April 1st, 1879, to December 31-t. 1879, both days inclusive, and after comparing his vouchers, therewith find a balance in his hands of $4,199.45.

We further beg leave to report to the honorable court, that from the foot of the auditors. able court, that from the fact of the auditors last year having called the attention of the court to the heavy costs for cases heard and disposed of before magistrates of the city and county, the auditors were desirous of knowing whether it had had any effect on those officials, so as to show a reform in that direction, and on examination we find that the costs in these cases were $2,356.77 less during last year than for the former, which shows a gratifying retorm, and the auditors hope that these officials will continue in keeping down these costs as much as they possibly can.

The annual costs of public printing for the county came also to our police. These ex-county came also to our notice. These ex-penses are heavy and, in our opinion, might be In examining the accounts of the treasurer of the board of prison inspectors of Lancaster county, we discovered that the treasurers did not charge themselves with all the money received from the county commissioners and prison keeper, which accounts for the auditor having a balance in the hands of these treasurers, and on examination of these and other prison officials we find that it has been the cus-tom of the prison treasurers to draw some-times more money from the county treasury than it required for the payment of their monthly bills. This over-plus, as admitted by monthly bills. This over-plus, as admitted by the prison officials, was placed in the hands of the prison keeper for his convenience in buy-ing revenue stamps, whenever the salesman at the prison could effect a sale of cigars; the allegation being that had they not received this over-plus they would have had no received this over-plus they would have had no money to buy those revenue stamps.

The auditors would further report that from the quantity and quality of the provisions con sumed at the county prison, they cannot resist the conclusion but that there is a leak some-where, but just how to find it the auditors where, but just how to find it the auditors think is beyond their ingenuity. The difficulty seems to be the lack of a proper system of accounting between the prison keeper and the board of prison inspectors. That the prison keeper with the power of disposing of the large quantity of goods manufactured by the inmates should fall so har behind the precessary funds as to require treasurer and directly responsible to him, argues a system of house keeping which reflects on all parties connected with this institution; destroys that system of checks and vouchers by which alone the peo-ple can be protected, and leaves a loophole from which to escape the closest scrutiny of the accounting officers. If the prison cannot earn enough money to pay for its own revenue stamps, without requiring the county treasur-er to do so, the public ought to know it, and prison labor might be made more remunerative by hiring it out under a system of con-tracts, as is done in other localities, when the public have become tired of the experiments of running reformatory and corrective institu-tons on a non-self-supporting basis.

The auditors, find from an examination of the bills rendered, that lover $800 worth of ment has been puressed at prices far above that allowed to be paid for the meat furnished to the prison—it is a fair inference that the meat is used by the prison family. It so there must be either the prison family. It so, there must be either great consumption of meat or else great ex-travagance, as this sum, on a careful calcula-tion, would supply the table of an ordinary hotel with not less than twenty pounds of fine meat per day. It must be remembered that this meat bill does not include the other large this mean bill does not include the other large bills for poultry. While upon this subject the auditors would further beg leave to call atten-tion to heavy bills of dry goods, charged to the prison keeper's personal account, and not shown to have been used outside of the prison family, amounting in the aggregate to $500. The auditors likewise find a bill or $50 charged for horse hire by the prison keeper besides for horse hire by the prison keeper, besides what he is allowed for keeping his own horse. We, as auditors, cannot too strongly advert to the loose manner of accounting which at to the loose manner of accounting which at present exists in prison circles, especially the freedom with which the treasurers of that institution pass over the items which should fortify their accounts and deal only in balances, which the public when these accounts are filed according to law for inspection, have no more means of verifying than if no accounts had been filed.

The auditors however in conclusion are auditors, however, in conclusion are able to give the taxpayers the gratifying in-formation that at least some of the unneces sary appendages of the prison have been lop-ped off by the new inspectors, such as matron, at a salary of $80, and cigar boss at a salary of $650; and other retrenchments are promised. We have also inquired into the financial standing of the county and find that the bond-ed indebtedness on the 1st of January, 1880, was $58,971.79, with a balance in the treasury of $63,787.75. The bonded indebtedness of the county on January 1, 1879, was $340,766,99, with a balance in the treasury of only $16,107.76, which shows that the debt of the county is on the decrease and that the present board of county commissioners has managed the county affairs economically, In testimony whereof we have hereunto set Ministerial Appointments and Final Ad-journment—Expulsion and Suspension. SCHOOL MATTERS.

Lancaster School Directors Visit Reading, and Take a Look at the Schools. Yesterday morning a number of member of the Lancaster school board visited Reading for the purpose of inspecting the schools and school buildings and comparing them with those of Lancaster. The party consisted of the following named members: Marriott Brosius, Thos. B. Cochran, E. J. Erisman, Wm. McComsey, Peter McConomy, H. Z. Rhoads, Luther Richards and H. E. Slaymaker. Postmaster Marshall and William Riddle, who are not members of the board accompanied Arriving at Reading the visitors were met by a committee of the Reading school board and City Superintendent Buehrle and escorted to their hotel. After dinner coaches were furnished and the visitors were driven to several of the schools. The first school house visited was a two-story building erected last year. It is built rooms on each floor, each room having its own private ingress and egress, and disconnected from any of the others. The schools are furnished with single desks and seats, there being a space between each desk equal to the size of the desk, thus giving plenty of floor room to each pupil. The desks are so arranged that the light comes from the left in each of the school rooms--an arrangement acknowledged to be the best for the eyes of the pupils. The visitors were next shown through two other new school houses two stories high, and built on the same plan as the one above described, except that each building contains only four rooms. Some of the old school houses were then visited. They are also twostories high and the schools are conducted on the single-room plan. The old houses are furnished with double desks and seats. There are no special colored schools in Reading, the white and colored pupils occupying seats in the same schools, and the Reading directors say there has no acquired.

trouble grown out of this arrangement. The Lancaster directors returned home last evening. They say they were most tentions at the hands of Superintendent Buehrle, Secretary Lyons and the memschool system and especially the school those of Lancaster. The single room plar, the city superintendency and the arrangement of the buildings give Reading a decided precedence over Lancaster; and the necessity of new and improved school accommodations in this city is unquestioned by anyone who has had an opportunity of comparing our schools with those of Read-

Argument Court.

The usual viewers were appointed by the court to open South Marshall street, from East King to Juniata street.

In the case of P. Brubaker vs. John Baer, sr., rule to show cause why appeal should not be stricken off, the rule was made absolute.

The prothonotary was directed to make deed of transfer of the property of J. B. Amwake, esq., to Adam J. Eberly, esq., who was the assignee and purchaser. Henry Eaby, of Manheim, was yesterday arrested because of his failure to file his account on citation issued. He was

" My Back Aches So. and I feel miserably," said a hard-working man. The doctor questioned him and found that he had been habitually costive for years, that now his kidneys were disordered and his whole system deranged. Kidney-Wort was recommended and faithfully taken and in a short time every trouble was removed. The cleansing and tonic power of this medicine on the bowels and kidneys is wonderful.

Try Locher's Cough Syrup. Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? It so, go at once and get a bottle of MRS. WINS-LOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately-depend upon it: there is no mistake about it. There is not a mother on earth who has ever used it, who will not tell you at once that it will regulate the bowels, and give rest to the mother, and relief and health to the child, operating like magic. It is perfectly safe to use in all cases, and pleas ant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Sold everywhere
