THURSDAY EVEN'G, MARCH 25, 1880.

BIRDIE BELL.

Softly sang a fair-haired maiden,
As the summer sun sunk low;
"He will come again, my darling,
He will come again, I know."

Sat the maiden, ripe and rosy,
On a streamlet's mossy brink,
Where the gently-lowing cattle
Often came to get a drink.

In her hand an opened letter,
On her cheek a pearly tear,
And a little brindle heifer
Standing silent in the rear.

Pleasant dreams are always shortest,
Ever small are boyhood's pies,
Winter comes ere autumn's over,
Merry laughs precede our sighs.

Thus the lovesick maiden found it,
Sitting by the purling brook,
Pawed the earth that little heifer,
As her head she gently shook.

Suddenly a forward movement—
Then the maid began to rise,
And a vista of striped stockings
Passed before the heifer's eyes.

When the maiden's lover got there
Birdie Bell was in the creek,
But, thank Heaven, was still uninjured—
She had struck upon her cheek.

* * * * * * * * * *

In the years that came thereafter,
When the maid and youth were wed,
Oft she told her child the story
Of the heifer that was red.

Inducements to Forest-Planting.

Germantown Telegraph.

If new inducements are needed for forest-tree planting, surely the increasing demand in all our large cities for Christmas-trees ought to lead to the setting-out of evergreen trees, in which the thinnings would surely pay for interest on cost of the whole plantation. In the case of oaks and deciduous trees, we pointed out that the demand for hoop-poles, and other matters in which the thinnings would every year come in, would certainly make such plantations pay, and what with Christmas-trees, bean-poles and similar requirements, the evergreen plantation can be made to pay quite as well. Anyone within hauling distance of a railroad, and within one hundred to two hundred miles of these great cities, so that the trees could be loaded on to open platform-cars, would thus make the thinnings of his plantation a profitable investment. Not less than 200,000 of these trees have been sold in Philadelphia this year at from one to five dollars each, and the trees evidently ranging from six to ten years old. The most popular are our native black spruce, and the pitch or yellow pine. But if plantations are to be especially made for timber, species could be selected that would be more valuable for timber purposes, and which perhaps would grow faster and be just as good in their young state for timber-trees. Of these there is the white pine, the value of which timber everyone knows, and probably the Austrian pine, though we have no information as to the quantity of the timber yielded by this tree in our country. The Norway spruce is a rapid grower, and in its native country extremely popular—indeed, is the leading pine timber of Europe. It is also one of the most popular with our Christmas people. These trees may be set out about four thousand to the acre, and in five years every other one cut out would furnish trees that would retail for Christmas uses at probably $81 or $1.50 each, and no doubt would net the raiser twenty-five or fifty cents each, or $500 to $1030—say $50 or $100 per annum, quite as much as could be yielded by ordinary farm-crops, with the same expenditure of labor on the same class of land. It would not, of course, pay to go into such enterprises on the dearer land near the cities. We are speaking of the cheaper lands, near railroads, at some distance away, and speaking in the interests of timber culture.

It has been over and over argued that individuals cannot be expected to plant timber, as it takes half a lifetime before it comes into profit, and therefore, as timber is a necessity, governments should take it into hand; but it is evident, the more the subject is studied, that there are innumerable ways in which a timber plantation, intelligently conducted, may be made to pay its way as we go along.

LOCHER'S COUGH SYRUP CURES CONSUMPTION,

MEDICAL.

Brandy as a Medicine.

The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physician of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of those afflicted with Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE.

This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims. With a purely philanthropic motive we present to the favorable notice of invalids—especially those afflicted with that miserable disease Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than Brandy.

The aged, with feeble appetite and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly,

A Sovereign Remedy

or all their ills and aches. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is:

REIGART'S OLD BRANDY,

Sold by our enterprising young friend, H. E. SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandies, no matter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case or cases. In proof of the curative powers of

Reigart's Old Brandy,

In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon numbers of witnesses—one case in particular we cite:—

A hard-working farmer had been afflicted with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour eructations constantly—no appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed earnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try

Reigart's Old Brandy,

In his case, he looked up with astonishment, but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he chose to eat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this medicine he has been of very little pecuniary benefit to the doctor.—A PRACTISING PHYSICIAN.

KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE.

WARNER'S SAFE Kidney and Liver CURE.

The greatest of Modern Medical Discoveries. A Vegetable Preparation and the ONLY SURE REMEDY in the world for Bright's Disease, Diabetes and all Kidney, Liver and Urinary Diseases. There are a large number of testimonials of the highest character in support of these statements. Prof. Green, a distinguished allopathic physician of the South, in an article in the Medical Record, gives an account of the cure of two cases of Chronic Bright's Disease by this remedy, and advises all his brother physicians to use it in practice. R. Cushing, M. D., of Rochester, N. Y., writes that he would prescribe the remedy to all afflicted with serious Kidney and Liver Diseases. Rev. J. F. Rankin, D. D., of Washington, D. C., tells of permanent cures effected by it, and says: "I do not doubt that it has great virtue." D. W. Bartine, M. D., D. D., of East Orange, N. J., certifies that it cured him of chronic Bright's Disease in two weeks. Rev. C. A. Harvey, D. D., Secretary of Howard University, certifies: "I am convinced that no remedy heretofore used or described can be held for one moment in comparison with this." These are sample testimonials.

Two compounds: For the cure of Diabetes call for Warner's Safe Diabetes Cure. For cure of Bright's and the other diseases call for Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure.

Warner's Safe Bitters, Safe Tonic, Safe Pills and Safe Nervine are also superior remedies, unequalled in their respective fields of disease.

Warner's Safe Remedies are sold by druggists and medicine dealers generally throughout the country. Send for pamphlet and testimonials.
