WEDNESDAY EVENING, APRIL 7,1880 A NAME.

TO G. W. P. The name the Gallic exile bore, St. Malo! from thy ancient mart, Became upon our Western shore Greenleaf for Feuillevert.

A name to hear in soft accord Of leaves by light wind overrun Or read, upon the greening sward

Of June, in shade and sun. That name my infant ear first heard Breathed softly with a mother's kiss; His mother's own, no tenderer word

My father spake than this. No child have I to bear it on ; Be thou its keeper; let it take From gifts well used and duty done New beauty for thy sake.

The fair ideals that outran My halting footsteps seek and find-The flawless symmetry of man, The poise of heart and mind.

Stand firmly where I felt the sway Of every wing that fancy fiew, See clearly where I groped my way,

Nor real from seeming knew. And wisely choose, and bravely hold Thy faith unswerved by cross or crown,

Like the stout Huguenot of old Whose name to thee comes down As Marmot's songs made glad the heart Of that lone exile, haply mine

May in life's heavy hours impart Some strength and hope to thine. Yet when did Age transfer to Youth The hard gained lessons of its day?

Each lip must learn the taste of truth, Each foot must feel its way. We cannot hold the hands of choice

To whisper of the inward voice Is more than homilies. Dear boy! for whom the flowers are born, Stars shine, and happy song-birds sing,

That touch or shun life's tateful keys:

What can my evening give to morn, My Winter to the Spring! A life not void of pure intent,

With small desert of praise or blame, The love I felt, the good I meant, I leave thee with my name. -John Greenleaf Whittier, Portland Tran

The Way it is Done by the Best Society.

New York Times.

Mrs. E. S. Higgins, No. 137 Fifth avenue gave a very brilliant and unique entertainment yesterday afternoon, at which some 75 ladies of our best society were present. The spacious parlors were decorated with smilax, palms and flowers and some twenty-five round tables, of the kind now in use abroad, were brought into requisition and distributed at proper intervals for artistic effect. Each table, capable of seating three or four ladies, had a tall silver candelabrum, carrying several lights placed in the centre. The lights shaded with screens of ornamental silk. Upon the plate assigned to each lady was placed a gold-bordered menu, upon which her own name was printed, and near at hand a beautiful bouquet and an exquisitely ornamented and gilded bonboniere. Beyond the screen of evergreens a band of music was stationof evergreens a band of music was station-

MEDICAL. Brandy as a Medicine.

Mr. H. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physi-cian of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of those af-Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE. This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims. With a purely philanthropic motive we pre-sent to the favorable notice of invalids—espe-cially those afflicted with that miserable disease Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than Brandy. The aged, with feeble appetite and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly, or all their ills and aches. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is: REIGART'S OLD BRANDY, Sold by our enterprising young friend, H.'E. SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandies, nomatter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to care any such case or cases. In proof of the curative powers of Sale to com-C. HULL. Reigart's Old Brandy, In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon num bers of witnesses—one case in particular we A hard-working farmer had been afflicted with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour cructations con-kind of food; he had sour cructations con-stantly—uo appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed carnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try Reigart's Old Brandy, In his case, he looked up with astonishment, but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he chose to eat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this mediciae he has been of very little pecuniary benefit to the doctor.—A Practising Physician.
