A Leper. It may be startling to learn that there is a clearly defined case of leprosy existing in the village of New Oxford, Adams county. The unfortunate victim to this loathsome and incurable disease is a soldier of the late war of the Rebellion, who was discharged from the service in 1865 as a leper having contracted the fearful disease known as leprosy while in service. The veteran now enjoys a pension from the government on account of the disability resulting from this terrible affliction. This, we presume, is the first instance of the existence of this disease known in this section of country.

Oscar Hohein became 50 years of age yesterday, and his friends, including the Mænnerchor, of which he is a member, in celebration of the event called at his residence in Frederick street, last evening, and extended him their congratulations. The evening was pleasantly passed in singing, playing, speech-making, joking and toasting the semi-centennial.
