

COURT.

Current Business Transacted This Morning Court met at 10 o'clock this morning for the purpose of transacting current business.

In the case of Susan Seitz, by her next friend, Joseph Mumma, vs. Christian Seitz exceptions to master's report, Judge Patterson delivered the opinion of the court, sustaining the master's report.

Henry J. Lind, of this city, was divorced from his wife, Ella E. Lind, on the ground of desertion.

Jacob Shell, who was in prison for costs, was discharged under the insolvent laws. Catherine Bowers and George Bossley, brought down to be discharged, were sent back again, the costs in their cases not having been paid by the county.

Notice was directed to be served on their creditors and their cases will be heard next Saturday. By a mistake of the prison officials a boy named Sickels was brought down to be discharged under the insolvent laws, the papers calling for Gideon Williams. As he was about being discharged, Deputy Clerk of the Quarter Sessions Eady informed the court that at the April sessions defendant had been sentenced to an imprisonment of 30 days for assault and battery. He was remanded to prison to serve the balance of his term, and Gideon Williams will be brought down next Saturday.

A restaurant license was granted to Peter C. Reinhardt at the Northern market house.

A tavern license was granted to Arnold Haas, North Queen street.

A tavern license was refused to Gustave Reichman, corner Rockland and Low streets.

Constable Appointed. John K. Erb was appointed constable of Martic township in place of Jacob R. Shenk, who declined to serve.

RAFTING NOTES.

The Marietta Times says: "For a few days the past week rafting was quite brisk on the river, but the water fell rapidly, and on Thursday only a few rafts passed to Peach Bottom. The course from Marietta to that point was in fair rafting condition yesterday, but owing to the low water above, no rafts were here to run. There are now lying at Shamokin dam about 95 rafts waiting for water to bring them down. During the past week oak and pine timber sold at 15 and 22 cents, and hemlock 9 and 11 cents; pine boards ruled at 18 and 19 cents, but there was none in the market; hemlock scantling and boards sold at 11 and 12 cents. Although the rafting business is very dull to what it was years ago, yet it still brings considerable money to Marietta. About 100 rafts were sent through to Port Deposit this spring, and estimating the expenses paid to the pilots and hands for running them down at $40 per raft, it would amount to $4,000. In addition to this it is believed that fully $1,000 more was left in Marietta by lumbermen and others who came here on business."

BELLIGERENTS.

The Columbia Spy says: The New Era and Examiner are just now on very bad terms. Editors and reporters are calling each other naughty names and saying very naughty things about each other. The lie is freely given. One paper calls the local reporter or its rival a "lazy reporter," and the latter retorts by calling his rival a "lying reporter." And while the reporters are exchanging these endearing names, the editors-in-chief are saying very naughty things of each other, too. Judging from what one says a stranger would naturally infer that the associates and friends of the other were all criminals; and vice versa, that the editorials contained nothing but lies, misrepresentations, deception, and hypocrisy. We expect one of these bright May days to record the particulars of a duel. Don't use such naughty words—it don't comport with the dignity and mission of responsible journalism.

WILD HARRY AT WHAT GLEN PICNIC.

An interesting feature of the picnic at What Glen on Monday will be the presence of Mr. Harry McAlpine, better known as "Wild Harry," one of Gen. Custer's famous scouts and Indian hunters, whose reputation as a "dead shot" with a rifle is widely known, and has occasioned columns of comment in the newspapers. He will give an exhibition of his skill at the picnic, both at target and glass ball shooting. Among other marvelous performances he shoots apples or potatoes off one's head, and shoots a 22 calibre bullet through a hole barely large enough to receive it.

PAUL QUIGLEY'S CASE.

Paul Quigley, charged with stealing from the shed in the city reservoir park two pigs of lead belonging to the city had a final hearing before Alderman McConomy this morning. Joseph Bostick, a dealer in old metal, testified that Quigley offered to sell him two pigs of lead, but that he would not buy them, fearing they had been stolen. Davis Kitch, superintendent of the water works, identified the lead as that stolen from the city. The accused was committed to answer for the larceny at the next term of Quarter sessions.

ANNIVERSARY.

The fourth anniversary and rededication of the Drummer Baptist church, will be held on Saturday and Sunday, May 29 and 30. Rev. W. B. Owen, pastor, will be assisted by eminent preachers from Philadelphia. The church will spare no pains to make the occasion a grand success, and a cordial invitation to attend has been extended to the community.

NOT INSPECTED.

The announcement that the fire apparatus and premises of the several fire companies of the city was to be inspected yesterday afternoon by the committee of council, was premature. The inspection was deferred on account of the absence of the chairman of the committee, Walter M. Franklin, esq., who was in attendance at the supreme court, Harrisburg.

A LARGE FUNERAL.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary Freeland, colored, widow of the late Louis Freeland, took place from St. Mary's church this morning and was very largely attended by both white and colored people. St. Bernard's benevolent society turned out in a body. Father Christ, of St. Anthony's church, sang the high requiem mass.

CONVALESCING.

Christian Arlath, whose serious injury by a runaway team a few evenings since was noted in these columns, has so far recovered as to be able to be about again.

MICROSCOPICAL SOCIETY.

The Microscopical society, of this city, have received and accepted an invitation from the Philosophical society of West Chester to a public "microscopical soiree" to be given in that place under the auspices of the last-named society, next Thursday evening. The Lancaster society will probably be represented by Prof. J. F. McCaskey, Mr. J. D. Pyott, Mr. W. F. Duncan, and Mr. E. W. McCaskey, who will take with them five large microscopes with which to exhibit the work that has already been accomplished by this young and vigorous organization. It is expected that there will be upwards of a hundred microscopes on exhibition at the soiree, including the fine instruments of the two West Chester societies, with many from Philadelphia and Camden.

The Lancaster society has lately received a very fine oxy-hydrogen light of the latest improved pattern, which it is proposed to put into operation at an early day in pursuit of scientific study. It is especially adapted to microscopical investigation, as by its use, objects under the glass may be thrown upon canvas and subjected to the most minute examination. The operation of the light was shown in this city last winter at the astronomical lectures of Proctor and Warren.

WIFE BEATERS LOCKED UP.

Casper Dittman, arrested by Officer Weitzel on complaint of his wife, who charges him with drunkenness and assault and battery, was locked up for a hearing before Alderman McConomy on Monday at 10 o'clock.

Frantz Keppel, of St. Joseph street, was arrested this morning by the same officer, charged by his wife with cruelly beating her and threatening her life. He was committed for a hearing before Alderman McConomy on Wednesday afternoon.

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.

On Thursday night or early yesterday morning thieves attempted to break into the saloon of Jacob Adams, under the Sorrel Horse hotel, on West King street. They broke off the lock of the door but nothing was taken by them. It is supposed that the attempt was made about 2 o'clock yesterday morning, as the ostler of the hotel heard a noise at about that time. It is likely that the thieves were frightened off before they stole anything.

HOW TO EXTINGUISH A KEROSENE FIRE.

It ought to be more generally known that wheat flour is probably the best article to throw over a fire caused by the spilling and igniting of kerosene. It ought to be known because flour is always within convenient reach, and often valuable articles of clothing, blankets, etc., are destroyed in extinguishing such fires. Ashes or sand are equally as good.

Three well soaked suckers were dragged in last night by the police seine and presented this morning to his honor the mayor, who directed that they should be put in pickle at Castle Weisse for a fortnight.
