Tobacco.

The New York Market. As there is no demand for anything besides old goods, and as there is but little old goods to be had, the market is comparatively quiet. An interesting feature of the present situation is the fact that the large manufacturers of cigars who visit the market with the object of buying, very seldom ask for leaf or any particular crop. They buy what suits best in yield and is lowest in price. Quality and color are apparently imparted to these tobaccos by processes best known to the manufac-turers. The manufacture of cigars on a large scale is to-day carried on in a manner which requires the manufacturers to be of an inventive turn of mind and continually taxing their ingenuity. This constant study for improvement in the industry has brought about the present peculiar feature of our leaf market. Connecticut crops alone are an exception. These tobacco are mainly manipulated by the small cigar manufacturers, who in most cases are also cigar store-keepers. By reason of their peculiar surroundings they are enabled to 38 & 40 WEST KING STREETS.

Having added in connection with our Large stock of Carpets, Yarns, &c., A FINE LINE OF DRY GOODS, such as CALICOES, BLEACH-ED AND UNBLEACHED MUSLINS, TICK-INGS, COTTON FLANNELS, CASHMERES, BLACK ALPACAS, SHEETINGS, NEW STYLE Other '79 tobaccos, especially the Pennsylvania crop, now in the hands of packers.

The views of these three classes are this work these tobaccos to advantage, and The views of these three classes are this year in formidable antagonism to the packers' views. They show the correctness of those so often and persistently expressed by us in regard to the hasty action of the packers. In looking over the summaries of sales during weeks in March and April of 1876, 1877 and 1878, we find that each week showed considerable sales of packing of new tobaccos. With the exception of one or two, no sales of new tobaccos were recorded in March and April of the present year; and it is safe to assert that only a poor 1880 crop will enliven the market and put money into the purses of the packers. The transactions sum up as follows: Pennsylvania-Crop '78: 675 cases wrappers, 27 to 35 cents; running 17 to 21 cents; fillers, 11 to 111 cents.

Connecticut—Crop '78: 130 cases:
wrappers, 25 to 35 cents; seconds, 14 cents. Crop '79: (rumored) 250 cases seconds at 111 cents.

Wisconsin-Crop '78: 150 cases, running Ohio-Crop '78 cases: running, 9 to 101 cents; wrappers, 14 cents. Havana-Market active. Sales 800 bales.

No change in prices. Gans's Weekly Report. Sales of seed leaf tobacco reported by J. S. Gans's Son & Co., tobacco brokers, Nos. 84 and 86 Wall street, New York, for

A Princess's Romance. About the recent marriage of the Princess Frederica, of Hanover, there was not a little romance. "Here," said a London correspondent, "is a princess marrying a private secretary; a descendant of the Hanoverian kings marrying an undistinguished baron, doing it against the will of her brother, making her friends the Cambridges furious, and calling forth the sneers of the imperial family in Germany. She is encouraged by the Queen of England, who applies to the Emperor William for her dowry, and braves the wrath of he family to satisfy the will of her relative. The Princess Frederica has loved the Baron Rammingen for years. She sought long ago for permission to make him her husband. For his sake she has refused more than one advantageous match. It is said that when Prince Leopold began to show something more to her than a mere friendly attachment she determined to appeal to him as the favorite son of the queen. She told him her story and asked his aid. Like a true knight, he devoted himself to her cause. He urged his mother until she caught some of her son's enthusiasm; he arranged matters which without him would have
