

corps acquitted themselves handsomely, the City coroner band as usual taking the lion's share of applause.

After passing over the route agreed upon and escorting the Empire boys to their quarters the parade was dismissed.

The Hook and Ladder boys were afterwards the guests of Al. Fulmer in his new saloon and summer garden (formerly Franke's) where a handsome spread was set out for them, and they were in condition to do practice to such a festive board.

The City band were also guests of the occasion and there was a fine display of fireworks.

Just before the parade started, and as Chief Marshal McMellen was riding on Duke street, between Orange and Chestnut, his horse became unmanageable and threw him off, severely spraining his right wrist and probably breaking or splitting one of the bones of his hand.

The horse ran down Duke street to Vine, where it was caught. Several persons narrowly escaped being run over, as the horse ran upon the sidewalk a part of the way. One young lady fell fainting in front of Alderman Barry's office, and had she not fallen she would probably have been run over and hurt.

Notwithstanding Capt. McMellen's painful mishap, he at once sent for another horse and took charge of the parade.

Adjudged April Term. Friday Afternoon.—Court re-assembled at 2 o'clock. The case of the commonwealth vs. Thomas Chamberlain, Levi Eckert and Peter E. Hess, charged with the larceny of oysters, oranges and peanuts from Stephen Lamber, at the Gap, on the night of January 20, was resumed.

The defendants denied having taken any of the articles from prosecutor's wagon. They allege if anything was stolen, it was done by others, who are now fugitives from justice.

Mr. Eckert, father of one of the defendants, testified that the prosecutor had, on three different occasions, offered to settle this case, asking the first time $40, the second $60, and the third time $70. A number of witnesses testified that Peter E. Hess's character for honesty was good.

The argument in the case was not concluded when court adjourned until 7 o'clock.

Friday Evening.—The whole of the evening session was taken up with the argument of the cases of Levi Eckert, Peter Hess and Thomas Chamberlain, charged with larceny.

An "Episode." During the examination of the witnesses the district attorney had reflected upon Messrs. Reynolds and Brubaker, of counsel for defense, for their examination of witnesses who had been subpoenaed by the commonwealth; but who, it was satisfactorily shown, had been represented to them as witnesses for the defense.

In his closing speech to the jury District Attorney Eschman said that in making this charge he had simply been giving expression to a principle of professional etiquette taught him by his lamented predecessor, and that he regretted giving expression to it, but repeated his opinion that the conduct he complained of was outrageous.

Messrs. Reynolds and Brubaker at once sprang to their feet and denounced the insinuation as cowardly, and Mr. Brubaker said that if the district attorney charged him with improper relations with the witnesses the charge was that of a blackguard. Mr. Reynolds also resented it with great spirit and indignation.

Judge Patterson rapped and ordered them to be quiet and sit down. They declined to do either until they had repelled the assault made upon them.

Judge Patterson apologized for the district attorney's offensive remarks and said they had no greater significance than as his own individual opinion. But Messrs. Brubaker and Reynolds insisted on their right to have the court say to the jury that the district attorney's remarks were unfounded.

For a time there was considerable excitement over the episode in the bar, which was finally suppressed by the court. After this breeze the jury was charged and the court verdicts of guilty were rendered, the court having said in its charge that in passing sentence it would take into consideration the "sadness" of the case.

Regular Proceedings Resumed. Saturday Morning.—Com'th vs. Lancaster City. The city was indicted for neglecting to keep North Prince street in a passable condition. The chairman of the street committee stated that if the case would be continued until August the street would be repaired. The court said that they would do all in their power to break up the practice which constables indulge in of returning cases of this kind to court on complaint of a few persons on the street.

The complaint should be general on the part of the citizens of the street, to warrant the constables in returning a neglect of duty case.

The counsel for John B. Dennis filed reasons for a new trial, and the defendant gave additional bail in the sum of $500. John C. Groff, of Mount Joy, became his surety.

The surety of the peace cases were taken up shortly after court met and the jurors were discharged.

Com'th vs. E. Wellington Yundt, surety of the peace. Caroline Hartman swore that the defendant had threatened to kill her, and he was ordered to pay the costs and to enter into a recognizance in the sum of $200 to keep the peace.

a bill of $300 without his orders; The main cause of this trouble was that his wife and child had been set against him by meddlers; witness has a great deal of land, but has no money, and has no idea what it is worth. He is unable to sell the land and cannot obtain any money.

The defendant was ordered to give bail in the sum of $300 in the surety of the peace case and to pay the costs. The desertion case was continued until August term.

Sentenced for Attempted Rape. i Charles Wilmer, colored, who was convicted of attempted rape at the regular April term of quarter sessions court, was sentenced to pay a fine of $500 and to undergo an imprisonment of five years.

The applications for new licenses and for stands against which there were remonstrances were taken up.

Martin Metzroth was an applicant for a license to keep a hotel at Walnut and Mulberry streets, in this city. This was an old stand for which there has not been a license for several years. After hearing the argument the court refused the license.

Jacob Ruth, of Brecknock township, old stand. This hotel has not been licensed since 1877, but since that time it has been kept by a man named Brendell who was convicted of sell liquor without license. The court refused the license.

Gertrude Ruppert, of Columbia was an applicant for a license for a hotel at the corner of Fourth and Walnut streets, Columbia, which had a license two years ago, but it was refused by the court because a variety theatre was run in connection with the hotel. This license was granted.

James S. Eckman. This was an old stand for which a license was refused last year on account of a remonstrance against it. After hearing the argument the case was continued until the third Monday in June.

Going to the Seashore. Capt. Ambrose Gable, formerly of this city, and for some years past engaged in business in Parkersburg, will leave Lancaster on Tuesday for Atlantic City, he having taken stock in a company that run a line of omnibuses at that favorite resort.

Disorderly Conduct. There was a great deal of disorderly conduct in and about Breneeman's court last night, and the police were sent to quell the noise; but before they reached the spot the trouble had ended.

Obituary. The wife of George Hunter, janitor of the court house, died last evening at her residence, No. 201 South Lime street, after a lingering illness of pulmonary consumption. She had many friends especially in the lower end, where she and her husband resided many years.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. We desire to call attention to our complete line of FLATWARE, SPOONS, FORKS, KNIVES, LADLES, &c., &c.

In addition to a full stock of the celebrated Rogers' bro. goods, we have the exclusive sale in this city of the electro-plated ware of the Gorham Manufacturing Company. These are the best finished and most durable in the market, and in recommending them to the trade this company (whose representations are always reliable) claim for them the following merits:

"The base of the Gorham electro-plate is of nickel silver. The silver-plated wares made upon this silver itself. One of the remarkable features of the process of electro-plating is perfect accuracy and delicacy with which the finest line of the engraving or chasing traced on the surface of the nickel base is reproduced on the surface of the silver coating. Thus all the excellence of workmanship which has earned for the company its reputation as makers of sterling silver wares is made tributary to the production of unsurpassed electro-plate. The quantity of pure silver deposited on the finely finished base exceeds that upon the best of foreign plate. This silver surface which will not abraded last more than a generation. The object is to produce plated ware which shall have all the beauty of the solid wares. This high grade of ware is undistinguishable from work in Sterling silver. Its pattern, ornaments and workmanship are made equal to those for which the Company's Sterling Silverware has been so highly commended. To these conditions is added the undefeatable air or style which distinguishes the genuine in everything from the work of imitators and which naturally transfers itself from the Sterling to the plated ware." The prices of these goods is only a trifle higher than some of the inferior productions.

STRIKEN MILTON. The Pennsylvania Movement for its Relief. Condition of Things There. SUNDAY, PA., May 15.—The scene at Milton this morning beggars description. Nothing remains except the black and desolate ruins of the once prosperous town. The people spent last night in the houses that were left standing, principally the nail works and planing mill.

The entire number of buildings destroyed was 666, and only two places of business escaped destruction. The vaults and books of the banks were uninjured. The people of the town are almost entirely destitute. Provisions have been pouring into the town from the surrounding country.

The body of the strange man who was burned to death was identified this morning. He was 85 years old and was attempting to save the stable of the poorhouse.

The principal losses areas follows: Wm Raber, tanner, $135,000; Herer Schrober & Co., $75,000; Academy of Music, $20,000; E. Krouser & Brother, $8,000, insured for $3,000; C. B. Brown, butcher, $20,000, no insurance; ex-Senator Bound's residence, $10,000.

The churches destroyed and the losses thereon are as follows: Reformed, $18,000; Catholic, $10,000; Baptist, $15,000; Methodist, $15,000; Covenanters, $8,000; Evangelical, $6,000; Presbyterian, $10,000, insured for $4,000.

The insurance companies, represented by two agents, loss as follows: American of Philadelphia, $100,000; Girard, $75,000; Phoenix of London, $50,000; Lyeomng, $100,000; Fire association of Philadelphia, $29,000; Farmers of York, $24,000; Franklin, $40,000; North American, $40,000; Aetna, $125,000; and two Danville companies, $13,000. The aggregate loss is now estimated at $1,600,000.

Relief Measures. Mayor Stokley, of Philadelphia, had a citizens' meeting at his office at noon today and raised $3,380 on the spot for the Milton sufferers. Another meeting is called for Monday.

Gov. Hoyt in another appeal to the people of the commonwealth says: "Although liberal contributions have been made to Milton, the necessities are that they will be exhausted soon. Knives, forks, coffee pots, clothing and blankets are most needed. The emergency is very pressing. They will give twice who will give at once."
