THE TIDE OF BATTLE.

ITS IRREGULAR FLOW AT CHICAGO.

Geo. F. Hoar Chairman of the Convention.

The Field Draws First Blood, but an Adjournment Effected Over the Objections of Blaine's Friends.

The Republican National Convention. CHICAGO, June 2, 11:45 a. m.—The Exhibition building at this hour presents a scene of striking interest.

Chicago, June 2, 11:45 a. m.—The Exhibition building at this hour presents a scene of striking interest. Every available part of the building is decorated with flags and banners.

The location of the various delegations is indicated by shields bearing the name of the state or territory.

At five minutes after one Chairman Cameron, of the national committee, called the convention to order and called upon Rev. Dr. Kittredge, of Chicago, who opened the proceedings with prayer.

Mr. Cameron briefly addressed the convention referring to the bitterness attending the preliminary canvass, which he hoped would now disappear in the desire to put in nomination for president the strongest candidate, one who would command the respect of the civilized world.

He then nominated George F. Hoar, of Mass., for temporary chairman. The nomination was unanimously ratified and Senator Hoar was conducted to the chair.

Mr. Hoar, on taking the platform, addressed the convention at some length. He said the function of the convention, if wisely used, was that of naming the man whom the people would make president.

His reference to the nomination of Mr. Lincoln twenty years ago was greeted with applause. He would discharge his duties as chairman fairly and without respect to persons.

The following were appointed temporary secretaries: John H. Roberts, of Illinois; C. L. Magee, of Pennsylvania; also, Chas. W. Clisby, of Alabama, and I. C. Broadwell, of Missouri, as reading clerks, and Eugene Davis, of New York, as official stenographer.

Mr. Hale, to expedite business, moved a resolution that the roll of states and territories be called and the chairman of each delegation shall name its members of the committee in the following order: On permanent organization; on rules and order of business; on credentials and on resolutions. Adopted without objection.

The roll was accordingly called and the committees named.

First Blood for Blaine. Utah being excluded in the roll of states and territories, Mr. Frye asked that it be included.

Mr. Conkling (N. Y.), rising, was received with applause, and said there was objection, holding as he did that the order of the convention had been exceeded when it had called the roll as prepared by the national committee.

There was a contest in Utah as in Louisiana, and so they were omitted.

The chairman said that as the committee roll had been called, a motion to add any other state or territory was in order.

Mr. Frye said it was agreed by the committee that Utah should be put upon the roll (great applause) and that the secretary of national committee says the Utah omission was made by a mistake. (Wild applause.)

Mr. Conkling said if there had been a mistake it could be corrected.

Mr. McCormick, of Arizona, moved a call of the roll by states and territories for the presentation of credentials and for notice of contests, and that all such papers be referred, without statement or debate, back to the committee on credentials.

Adopted.

On the call of the roll Alabama and Arkansas gave notice of contest. Mr. Henderson of Iowa gave notice of contest in the 10th district of Illinois. (Applause in lery.)

Mr. Warmoth announced a contest in Louisiana.

Contests were also announced in Pennsylvania and Utah, the latter by Mr. Conkling by request.

On motion of Mr. Logan a resolution was passed granting 500 seats daily to veterans of the war.

Adjourned Till To-morrow.

Mr. Conkling moved that the convention adjourn till 11 o'clock to-morrow. Mr. Hale opposed the motion, which was carried at 2:55 p. m.

A SHIP-WRECK. Floating Corpses Dressed in White. LONDON, June 2.—The captain of a vessel which has arrived at Queenstown from Demerara, reports that on the 30th of April in lat. 30, N., long. 60, W., he passed a craft which had apparently been made on board of a man-of-war or a first-class steamer, and that two days afterwards he saw several corpses dressed in white.

P. & R. Foreign Stockholders. At a meeting of the London bondholders of the Philadelphia and Reading railroad company, yesterday, a protection committee was appointed, and also a deputation to wait on Lord Cairns, to ask him to act as chairman of the committee.

Starved to Death. The Altoona local freight yesterday backed a car off at Bridgeport that it might be loaded with sand. It was a box car and, as is frequently the case, was locked. When the workmen in the sand quarry opened the door they were surprised to see the body of a man apparently dead lying inside. He was taken out carefully and some signs of life were still visible. The poor fellow tried to speak several times, but in a very few minutes died. It is supposed that he was stealing a ride and was accidentally locked in, although he may have gone in there and took sick. On his person was found about twenty dollars in money. No clue was left as to his name, but it is supposed that he came from the vicinity of Reading.

Woman's Wisdom. "She insists that it is more important, that her family shall be kept in full health, than that she should have all the fashionable dresses and styles of the times. She therefore sees to it that each member of her family is supplied with enough Hop Bitters, at the first appearance of any symptoms of ill health, to prevent a fit of sickness with its attendant expense, and that it is a woman should exercise their wisdom in this way."—E.D. [11-2] 2nd & W.

Physicians, clergymen and temperance advocates should encourage the use of this medicine, as it is a powerful and permanent remedy for all cases of weakness and debility. MEETING OF THE LINNEAN. Donations to the Museum and Library—Scientific Goods. At the last stated meeting of the Linnean society a large number of donations were made to the museum and library; among the former being a fine specimen of the "horned grebe," a beautiful bird presented by George Hensel; a tarantula from Missouri, presented by Wm. Roehm; a bottle of grape-leaf beetles; a bottle containing the larvae of the seventeen-year locust; a bottle containing specimens of the great eye of click beetle; a specimen of the rock of Gibraltar, presented by George R. Graef; two boxes containing 100 pounds of specimens of the fossil flora of Pennsylvania, donated by Dr. John D. Wingate, of Carbonate; a cabinet about four feet high, three wide and three feet deep, with six drawers, containing not less than 1,200 specimens of minerals, metals, fossils and Indian arrow-heads, donated by A. J. Steinman, esq., senior editor of the Lancaster INTELLIGENCER, purchased by Mr. Steinman at the late J. Yeates Conyngham's sale, and containing many handsome and rare specimens, received by Mr. Conyngham in his exchanges with some of the best mineralogists of the state; a large specimen of water-bug donated by S. K. Hostetter, of Neffville; a strange fish, a "mongrel," donated by George F. Rathvon, Columbia; a part of the root of a weeping willow, showing the exact outline of the moulding of a tombstone against which it grew, donated by Lewis Haldy; a vial containing leaf beetles and garden fleas; a leaf of the pitcher plant, donated by Prof. Baker, and a "pepper-box puff ball," by Mr. Zell.

To the library a number of books and papers were donated, and to the historical section were added twenty entire arrow and spear heads, and a large number of fragmentary specimens from Florida. These specimens are from Prof. Haldeeman's collection, and were donated to the society by Mr. Wm. L. Gill. What is a special peculiarity about these relics is that they are all made out of finer qualities of stone, and of an average larger size, than we usually find them in Pennsylvania. Some of them are of agate, some of chalcedony, flint, hornstone and jasper, or varieties of these. Dr. Rathvon donated about forty biographical and historical sketches, many of them of a local character. Dr. Davis exhibited under the microscope a specimen of kinate of quinine, and presented it to the society.

Under the head of "Scientific Gossip" Dr. Dubbs extemporized on his examination of what is supposed to be an ancient wall, on a hill, midway between Quarryville and Chestnut Level. The wall is built of sandstone, without mortar. He does not regard it as pre-historic, but thinks it is likely a fortification built in the early history of our country, probably during the difficulties between the Marylanders and the Pennsylvanians, in which the famous marauder Oresspeas exhibited such an active participation. Skirmishing, capturing and recapturing were freely participated in by those old pioneers of the past. The doctor will visit the place again and commit a fuller description on paper, and file it in the archives of the society.

Old Circus Bill. We were to-day shown a bill for a circus performance which took place on the lot on the north side of East King street, east of Ann, on Wednesday evening, Oct. 28, 1818. The circus was owned by Messrs. Campbell & Bullard, and the performance was a benefit, at which both appeared as clowns. They were the main features of the show and they also performed a number of feats in horsemanship. The bill shown us is printed on white silk, the work having been done at the INTELLIGENCER by William Hamilton, who was at that time the publisher of this paper. One of the dash rules used in the bill is still in this office and is the press on which the job was worked.

Our Pharmacologists. The third annual meeting of the Pennsylvania pharmaceutical association will be held in Allentown, commencing on Tuesday next. Several of our Lancaster pharmacologists will attend and there will be present representatives from all parts of the state. The several railroad companies will carry delegates at excursion rates; and on Thursday the members of the society will make an excursion over the celebrated switchback railroad at Mauch Chunk.

A Surprised Physician. A DYING PATIENT RECOVERS THROUGH THE INTERPOSITION OF A HUMBLE GELMAN.—Some weeks ago Dr. G. was a very reputable and widely-known physician, residing on Chestnut street, was called to attend a very complicated case of Rheumatism. Upon arriving at the house he found a man about forty years of age, lying in a prostrated and serious condition with his whole frame dangerously affected with the painful disease. He prescribed for the patient, but the man continued to grow worse, and on Sunday evening he was found to be in a very alarming condition. The knees and elbows and larger joints were greatly inflamed and could not be moved. It was only with extreme difficulty that the patient could be turned in bed, with the aid of three or four persons. The weight of the clothing was so oppressive that means had to be adopted to keep it from the patient's body.

The doctor saw that assistance would be of no avail, and left the house, the members of the family following him to the door, weeping. At this critical hour, a neighbor, a poor and humble German shoemaker, appeared to the grief-stricken ones as a saving angel. He had heard of the despair of the family, and now asked them to try his remedy, and accordingly wrought forth a better result. As a drawing man will catch at straws, so the poor wife applied this remedy; she had no hope, but would try anything, as a matter of duty. The first application eased the patient very much, after two hours they used it again, and wonder of wonders, the pain vanished entirely! Every subsequent application improved the sufferer and in two days he was well and out. When the doctor called a few days after, he was indeed surprised; for, instead of a corpse, he found a new-made man—Exchange.

The aged and infirm are strengthened and faculties brightened by Salt Bitters. The mystery has been solved at last; Our teeth no longer need decay. All troubles of the mouth are past. By SOZOPHON they're swept away: In a prostrated and serious condition With lips and teeth so bright and pure. [117-124] W.M. & S.

For tender and inflamed faces Cuticura Shaving Soap is worth its weight in gold. SPECIAL NOTICES. Sore eyes, letter, salt rheum &c., are cured by "Dr. Lindsey's Blood Searcher." Sold by all druggists. Try Locher's Renowned Cough Syrup.
