Pious Smiles.

Jones finds drinking like a fish makes makes his head swim. "Where do the old palm-leaf fans go?" inquires an exchange. "They don't go anywhere. They stay in the other pews.' "Never mistake perspiration for inspiration," said an old minister in his charge to a young pastor just being ordained. A Boston theatrical company recently played a scene laid in a church so naturally that to many of the audience it seemed so real that they went to sleep. At the end of a funeral notice published in an Indiana paper appears: "N. B.— This funeral will not be postponed on account of bad weather." Col. Ingersoll says he believes in the efficacy of baptism, when it is accompanied with a little soap. Come right into the fold then, colonel; while there's lyef there's soap.

Serious gentleman (to youthful cart-wheelist.)—"Youngster, the devil's in that heart of yours." Youthful eartwheelist-"Is 'e? Then I guess 'e gets pretty well shook, ole boy,' congregation on a summer Sunday, a queer old dominie prayed? "Lord, remember those who are prostrated on beds of sickness and lounges of wellness."

A smile overspread the face of the citizen as he read the newspaper heading, " Talmage on the Narragansett." But his face darkened again when he discovered that it was all about a sermon-that was

Sunday school scholar (to the teacher). - "Did you say that the hairs of my head were all numbered?" Teacher,-" Yes, my dear." Sunday school scholar-"Well then." (pulling out a hair and presenting it) "what's the number of that one?"

Elder, will you have a drink of cider?" inquired a farmer of an old temperance man who was spending an evening at his house. "Ah-hum-no, thank said the old man; "I never drink any liquor of any kind-'specially cider; but if you will call it apple-juice I'll take

It was dinner-time in a select boarding house when the new boarder arrived. He was a venerable-looking gentleman, with silvery hair, and his face beamed with a sweet repose betokening a pure and holy life. As he joined the table the landlady said: "Would you ask a blessing, sir?" The venerable stranger shouted, "You'll have to talk louder, marm; I'm so d-d

A Danbury man tells a good story of his aunt, who is a model housekeeper and a scrupulous sticker for a good table. The HOP clergyman called near the dinner hour, and was pressed to stay to the meal. At the table there was good and well prepared food, but the lady felt compelled to make many apologies for imaginary deficiencies. In the grace the clergyman asked our Heavenly Father to "bless the frugal meal." This made the lady very

"Are you prepared for death?" the clergyman asked as he took the woman's hand in his own. A shade of patient thought crossed the invalid's face, and she there was the little bedroom carpet to be Hop from intemperance. said, "she didn't hardly believe she was: taken up yet, and the paint up stairs had hardly been touched, and she did want to put up new curtains in the dining-room, but if she didn't die until next Monday she would be about as near ready as a woman with a big family and no girl ever expected

F. Burrows, of the firm of Burrows & Win! stanley, Sarina and Wilkesport, writes that he was cured of a very dangerous case of inflam-mation of the lungs solely by the use of five tottles of Eclectic Oil. Feels great pleasure in recommending it to the public as he had proved it, for many of the diseases it mentions o cure, through his triends, and in near-veyery instance it was effectual. No Hospital Needed. No palatial hospital needed for Hop Bitters patients, nor large-salaried talented puffers to sell what Hop Bitters will do or cure, as they sell their own story by their certain and absolute cares at home. jy1-2wd&w
