MONDAY EVENING, JULY 19, 1880.

SENTIMENT ON THE SANDS.

We wandered away from the crowd,
The blare of the noisy band,
By the loving lips of the ocean,
Over the golden sand.

Talking ridiculous nonsense,
Inspecting preposterous shells, Flotsam and jetsam, various,
With singular maritime smells.

A bottle, a barrel, some seaweed,
Some muscular bivalves agape,
The remains of their edible persons Survived and dried out of shape.

Past children interring each other In jocular tombs of sand, Digging, and delving and laughing,
A merry sepulchral band.

"Might I smoke?" "As a matter of course."
She lighted the smell of the weed.
A light from a son of the soil,
And back with impetuous speed.

She was poised in a pensive pose,
As I noiselessly neared her stand,
And I saw that she wrote with her parasol, Lines on the golden sand.

My heart it patted my ribs:
She's writing, no doubt on the sly,
The name that pleases her best,
"My own, I'll be bound," thought I.

Over her shoulder I peeped—O'er her ruffling collar,
On the golden sand she'd scrawled:
"My own,"

—Harper's Bazaar.

THE THIRSTY STRANGER.

It was a weary traveler
Who came unto an inn:
From west to east his journey led
The man through thick and thin.

Sore spent with toilsome wintry ways,
He pined for drink and food:
Curses for such a fainting soul
The host was none too good.

"No! dammed!" quoth the thirsty lips
To one who seemed the maid,
"Go brew me hot, from boiling pot,
A mug of lemonade."

"And let the merry peep float there,
For that's the best way,
To make the liquid comforting, I've heard old people say."

The awe-struck maid looked up aghast,
As one who hears a sound
That rends the whole astonished air
From caves of guilt profound.

Then low replied, with eyeballs wide,
To him who would carouse:
"The lemon is forbidden here, We keep a temperance house."

—Harper's Magazine for August.

E. H. Perkins, Clerk Centre, N. Y., writes:
"I was afflicted with Asthma for four years before using Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, and for many months after returning I had to sit up at night, suffering from intense, while the cough was so severe that the bed-chamber would be saturated with mucus. Two bottles of your Electric Oil effected a complete and perfect cure, and I cheerfully recommend it to all, as I know of no other medicine that will cure Asthma." For sale by H. B. Cochran, Druggist, 157 and 159 North Queen street, Lancaster, Pa.

A Fool Once More.
"For ten years my wife was afflicted to her bed with such a complication of ailments that no doctor could tell what was the matter with her, and I used up a small fortune in hunting out. Six months ago I saw U. S. flag with Hop Bitters on it, and I bought a bottle and used it. I tried it, but my wife would not be wiser. Two bottles cured her, she is now as well and strong as any man's wife, and it cost me only two dollars.
My wife says—H. B. Cochran, Mich."

What do you do when you have a cold? Ask a little boy of Jones the other day. Cough replied Jones, "I don't, for my mother gives me Hop Bitters, and it always stops my coughing. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 157 and 159 North Queen street, Lancaster, Pa."

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE.

The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. B. Cochran, Druggist, for insertion in this paper, by a prominent practicing physician of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice.
It is commended to the attention of those afflicted with Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE.

This much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the most distressing diseases, which sweep away their annual thousands of victims.
It is a purely palliative medicine, and we present the following notice of its value—especially those afflicted with that miserable disease, Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than Brandy.

The aged, with feeble appetite and more or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly,

A Sovereign Remedy.

Small thin and achy. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is

REIGART'S OLD BRANDY.

Said by our enterprising young friend, H. B.
Cochran, Druggist, "This Brandy has been the best for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other brands, no matter how many jaw-breaking French terms they are brandied with, and the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such disease. In proof of the curative powers of Reigart's Old Brandy,

In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon numbers of witnesses—one case in particular we cite:

A hard-working farmer had been afflicted with indigestion and dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had lost all creatations constantly—until, in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used Reigart's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, preached at times, and in his discourses often mentioned earnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try

Reigart's Old Brandy,

In his case, he looked up with astonishment, but after learning of its wonderful effects he at once consented to follow our advice. He drank the Brandy faithfully and steadily, the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he chose to eat. He still keeps it and uses it occasionally at stated intervals, and he has this medicine he has been of very pecuniary benefit to the doctor.—A PRACTISING PHYSICIAN.
