The Pennsylvania railroad company are about to erect at Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Altoona, Harrrisburg, Columbia, Jersey City and other points along the line of their road, a number of buildings for the tully used by physicians, and found to be abaccommodation of their train hands. Each building will contain a waiting-room, dormitories, wash and bath rooms and a large reading room, supplied with daily and weekly newspapers and periodicals.

Coney Island Excursionists. Many of the excursionists from this city and other points on the Reading railroad to Coney Island were dissatisfied when they found the tickets they had bought were good for only one day at Coney Island and three from Philadelphia instead of three at Coney Island as had been believed. Consequently Mr. Hayes Dickinson, the excursion manager, succeeded in effecting an arrangement with Mr. Hancock, the general ticket agent of the Philadelphia and Reading company, whereby all who chose to remain until to morrow at Coney Island could do so, and upon their return the "difference" in fare should be paid from New York to Philadelphia. Persons who remained more than the day at Coney Island and had to pay their fare to Philadelphia can have it refunded upon application at any office of the company.

BURIED ALIVE.

APPALLING DISASTER IN JERSEY CITY. Twenty-one Men Entombed by the Caving of a Well-Seven of Them Rescued Alive but the Remainder Beyond Hope of Recovery.

JERSEY CITY, July 21.-At five o'clock this morning the caisson surrounding the deep well leading to the entrance of the Hudson river tunnel in course of construction at the foot of Sixteenth street in this city caved in, carrying with it an immense quantity of earth. Twenty-one men were buried, seven of whom were extricated alive and fourteen remained underneath. The water from the river flowed in rapidly and the steam fire engines were set to work to save if possible the other men from drowning.

The workmen residing in the vicinity of the tunnel and a very large and excited crowd of persons soon congregated. Gangs of men are at work digging a new passage, but will not be able to reach the places where the men are supposed to be, before three days. The names of the men in the tunnel are: Peter Woodland, assistaut superintendent; Frank Alston, fore man : Thomas Burns, James Crevy, A. Erickson, Peter Fisher, Patrick Kerwin. Charles Nelson, William F. Bagley, Andrew Jackson, Bryan Sheridan, Charles Stevenson, P. Anderson, F. Burk, Mat McCarthy, Patrick Broderick, Otto Bestine, John Jensen, Patrick Collins, Michael Broderick.

The official report says seventy-eight men were in the shaft when it collapsed, of whom twenty were killed. The work will be prosecuted night and day until all the bodies are recovered. Details of the Affair

The following statement was made by one of the men who escaped: "After the men had escaped one man in trying to pass through the door leading from the air lock into the temporary chamber of the tunnel, was jammed in the doorway, and despite the efforts of those ahead could not be brought out, as the door closed upon him and held him fast. Peter Woodland, the assistant superintendent, told the men to try and get out, and when the ninth man was fastened in the doorway he called out to those who had escaped, telling them to hurry and try to get assistance to help the rest and himself who were left behind. He refused to leave himself, saying that he would stay and make every effort to get the men out, and if it were not possible that those who were escaping must try to get the rest and himself out alive if possible.

The men who were rescued did not reach the surface a moment too soon, for the water rushed after them with amazing rapidity till it reached a level within five feet of the shaft. The supervisors were so bewildered that they seemed to lose all presence of mind, even if assistance could be rendered to the poor fellows in the pit.

Nearly all the men in the tunnel lived in proximity to the works in Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, and relatives rushed to the place in a most excited frame of mind. The news of the disaster spread like wildfire through the surrounding cities. From all points immense crowds thronged to the scene. About the fatal excavation curious and awe-stricken spectators stood. A cordon of police officers were stationed about the shed and engine room to prevent any interference with the laborers at work to recover the bodies. Through the broken windows of the shaft house the faces of distressed wives, mothers and children were seen with anguish, and they sought in vain for forms that would probably never be seen again

We make SCREENS to order, and in such a manner that you need not remove when you close the window; a very great advantage.

Where a Screen is made that must be taken out when you lower the sash, it is troublesome to handle, always in the way and will wear out in half the time.

We make them in Pine and Walnut Frames and cost you no more than the Patent Screens, and are much more desirable.

A lot of Ends of will be sold low in order to close out. Our store will close at 7 p. m (except Satur-days) until the 1st of September.
