TENT AND TABERNACLE.

The Campinecting at Landisville. LANDISVILLE CAMPMEETING, Friday Afternoon, July 30. §

Revs. Moore. of Germantown, S. O. Garrison, of Lancaster, Harkins, of Safe Harbor, and McIlvain, of Mooresville, have arrived.

On Tuesday next, Rev. Thomas Guard, the eloquent Irish preacher recently transferred from California to Baltimore, will be on the ground. Ex-Congressman S. E. Ancona, ex-Sheriff Albright and Daniel Yurch, hardware merchant. of Reading, arrived on the ground this morning and are the guests of Mr. Harbster, of Reading, located with his family on the ground. Mr. Harbster is one of the proprietors of the Reading iron works and is very social and a kindhearted man. Five years ago at the Landisville campmeeting he was converted, and ever since has felt a deep interest in the campmeeting. He has the neatest and most convenient arrangement of cottage life in the woods. A number of personal friends who visited his home in the grove all spoke in admiration of its convenience and comfort.

shipers of the M. E. church at Cornwall. The children's services at 11 p. m. was addressed by Revs. Frank Moore and Rev. J. W. Geiger.

To-morrow afternoon Mr. II. Wheeler, of Columbia, will address the children at so much that half a dozen fine big mounthe stand. Mr., Wheeler is a pleasant tain sweets rolled off and were hopelessly speaker.

At three p. m. Rev. Mills of Reading who feasted on their rosy, juicy flesh. was the preacher. Text, I John iv. 19: "We love Him bacause He first loved us " The existence of a God is acknowledged, but conflicting opinions have prevailed as to His true character. Nature and science do not reveal God to us in Histrue nature. The Bible reveals liss nature and character. He is a God of love ; a love manifested. The exuberance of His love is seenin creation. The crowning manifestation of God's love is seen in redemption. It was a sermon well conceived, closely studied, full of thought, classical, and eloquently expressed. If the preacher had strength of voice equal to his grasp of intellect his sermon would have swept over the audience with irresistible power. We shall seek to ascertain when Doctor Guard shall preach, and duly notify the readers of the INTELLIGENCER. NARROW ESCAPE.

A Child Under a Carriage. Yesterday afternoon as Robert J. Evans was giving his family an airing, in a twohorse carriage, on South Queen street near Woodward Hill cemetery, a little child of Harry S. Deichler, ran in front of his horses, and before they could be stopped, the child was knocked down and the horses and carriage passed over it, but luckily the child was neither tramped by the horses nor struck by the wheels. It was taken out from under the carriage with no other injury than one or two slight bruises. Mr. Evans says there were a number of children playing on the street in the vicinity. and that while he was in the act of pulling his horses to one side, to avoid running over another child, Mr. Deichler's child, unseen by him, got in front of his team. Had he been driving rapidly, or had his horses not been gentle and stopped instant-

The mule was very valuable and flag.

The Hancock club of the Eighth ward, having procured an immense pole, cut one. from Hostetter's woods, some miles bcyond Millersville, erected it to day, at the corner of West King and Mary streets. It is a solid tree, unspliced, measures nearly five feet in eircumference at the butt, and is 117 feet in length from the curb to the top. The preliminary arrangements for its erection were made last evening, and drew together a great crowd. Although the managers had determined to defer putting up the pole until to-day. many of the boys were so enthusiastic that they insisted in elevating it then and there. utterances. and the managers yielded so far as to give them a try, although the derrick was not on the ground, nor were there any appliances suitable for lifting such a giant of the forest. The boys, however, went to work, placed the butt in the trench dug to receive it, and lifted the tree by main force this city. Among them was Henry Baumand placed it upon the shears, so as to have it ready for the final erection to-day. This morning a derrick was erected and the necessary tackle attached, whereupon the boys adjourned to dinner, satisfied that they could put the pole into place turn this evening at 6:30. without difficulty in ten minutes time. After dinner they went to work and were as good as their word, the immense tree gracefully raising its bushy top, and gradually assuming an upright position, while the assembled Democracy swung their hats and greeted the emblem of liberty with loud huzzas. The pole is much the heaviest that has been put up in Lancaster during the present campaign. It, of course, bears the names of our gallant standard bearers

The club tender their thanks to Mr. Jacob L. Frey for the use of his team in hauling the pole into town ; to John Best for the use of his derrick, and to Maj. C. M. Howell for the use of his ropes and
