Price Two Cents.

Spring Opening

24 CENTRE SQUARE.

Ready-Made Clothing,

STYLISH DESIGNS.

MEW GOODS

MERCHANT TAILORING,

which is larger and composed of the best styles to be found in the city.

D. B. Hostetter & Son,

24 CENTRE SQUARE.

SPRING OPENING

H. GERHART'S

Tailoring Establishment, MONDAY, APRIL 5.

WOOLENS

Spring and Summer Trade, ver brought to this city. None but the very

ENGLISH, FRENCH

AMERICAN FABRICS, all the Leading Styles. Prices as low as the owest, and all goods warranted as represent-

H. GERHART'S.

No. 51 North Queen Street.

SMALING. THE ARTIST TAILOR.

Closing out our stock of Light Weights at ZAHM'S CORNER,

Fall and Winter Stock.

A Large Line of English Novelties. TROPICAL SUITINGS SERGES AND REPS.

BANNOCKBURNS AND CELTICS, GAMBROON PARAMATA

SEERSUCKERS, VALENCIAS, PAROLE AND MOHAIR COATINGS. A Splendid Assortment of Wilford's Padded Ducks in Plain and Fancy Styles. A Full Line

Marseilles and Duck Vestings.

All the latest novelties. An examination of our stock is respectfully solicited. I. K. SMALING.

ARTIST TAILOR,

121 NORTH QUEEN STREET. FAST FREIGHT,

The Old Bitner Line, Established 1846.

J. R. BITNER'S FAST FREIGHT LINE

Lancaster and Philadelphia,

VIA PENN'A R. R.

All Freight sent to Front and Prime streets, Philadelphia, up to 6 o'clock and to No. 5 Dock street, to 5 o'clock p. m., will arrive same night at Depot, in Lancaster. The Drayage to these Central Depots is lower than to any other. No Drayage charged for Delivery in Lancaster. Delivery in Lancaster.

All Freight loaded in Lancaster, up to 6 o'clock p. m., will reach Front and Prime streets, Philadelphia, early next morning. next morning. jy19,22,26&aug3

ATTORNEYS-AT-LAW

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law
21 Park Row, New York.
Collections made in all parts of the United States, and a general legal business transacted.
Refers by permission to Steinman & Hensel.

BARGAINS IN CALICOES NEW YORK STORE.

5,000 YDS. NEW DARK CALICOES AT 5 CTS. A YARD.

MUSLINS! MUSLINS! Standard Makes of Bleached and Unbleached Muslins from 10 to 20 per cent, below June prices. INDIA LINENS, VICTORIA LAWNS, WHITE PIQUES AND CAMBRICS AT BOTTOM PRICES.

Watt, Shand & Company, 8 AND 10 EAST KING STREET.

SALE OF DAMAGED GOODS.

HAGER & BROTHER will continue the sale of Goods damaged only by water during

WALL PAPER CARPETS,

Mattings and Oil Cloths, Muslins and Sheetings, Linens and Quilts, Woolens for Men's Wear, and Ready-Made Clothing, &c.,

All of the above have been marked at a very low price, as we are determined to close the entire lot.

The sale is going on daily from 6 a. m. until 7 p. m. Saturday evenings until 9 o'clock in

HAGER & BROTHER,

NO. 25 WEST KING STREET.

CLOSING OUT OF SPRING AND SUMMER STOCK.

In order to close out our stock of Spring and Summer Goods to make room for a

In our Custom Department we have a large lot of Piece Goods, which must be closed out before September 1, regardless of profit. In our Ready-made Department we have an unusually fine stock of Summer Clothing, all of which can be purchased at very lowest bottom figures. Gentlemen, our facilities are not equaled in the city. It will cost you nothing to examine our stock.

MYERS & RATHFON,

No. 12 EAST KING STREET,

LANCASTER, PENN'A.

WATCHES, JEWELRY, &c.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

EDW. J. ZAHM, JEWELER,

LANCASTER, PA.

Our largely increased business makes it necessary for us to enlarge our store room. To make room for the alterations we contemplate, we will close out as much of our stock as possible, between this date and the 10th of AUGUST, at

GREATLY REDUCED PRICES.

This offer applies to any article in our extensive stock EXCEPT SPECTACLES, and will afford all who desire goods in our line a rare opportunity to buy from first-class stock at un-

ZAHM'S CORNER.

CAMPAIGN GOODS. CAMPAIGN GOODS!

Capes, Caps, Helmets, a variety of Tin and Metal Torches, Coal Oil by the Barrel, Rosin and Political Torches, Political Flags and Streamers, Chinese Lanterns with names of Candidates, Muslin Flags of all Sizes, Badges, STATIONERY.

Also, Velvet and Eastlake PICTIRE FRAMES AND EASELS.

Bunting Flags of all Sizes. FIREWORKS

EVERY DESCRIPTION.

We invite Clubs, Committees and others to give us a call.

D. S. BURSK. 17 East King Street, Lancaster.

GENTS' GOODS. FOR LINEN COLLARS

FOR PANCY STOCKINGS

FOR SUSPENDERS - GO TO-ERISMAN'S.

ERISMAN'S.

FOR NEW STYLE LINEN HANDKERCHIEFS, GO TO

E. J. ERISMAN'S, 56 NORTH QUEEN STREET.

WM. P. FRAILEY'S

MONUMENTAL MARBLE WORKS 758 North Queen Street, Lancaster, Pa. MONUMENTS, HEAD AND FOOT STONES, GARDEN STATUABY, CEMETERY LOTS ENCLOSED, &c.

LANCASTER, PA. BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

NEW STATIONERY! New, Plain and Fancy

STATIONERY.

M. FLYNN'S BOOK AND STATIONERY STORE, No. 42 WEST KING STREET.

JOHN BAER'S SONS, 15 and 17 NORTH QUEEN STREET, LANCASTER, PA.,

have in stock a large assortment of BOOKS AND STATIONERY.

Attention is invited to their FAMILY AND PULPIT BIBLES

Teachers' Bibles, Sunday School Libraries Hymnals, Prayer Books, HYMN BOOKS AND MUSIC BOOKS

For Sunday Schools.

FINE REWARD CARDS. SUNDAY SCHOOL REQUISITES of all kinds TINWARH, &C.

LIPTEEN DOLLARS BUYS A FIRST-CLASS REFRIGERATOR, With Enameled Water Tank, at SHERTZER, HUMPHREVILLE &

No. 40 East King Street, Lancaster, Pa.

LANCASTER, PA., MONDAY, AUGUST 9, 1880

MONDAY EVENING, AUGUST 9, 1880.

Shown—Interviews with Grant which Establish Grant's Guilty Knowledge—Bristow's Manly Position

-The President's Promises
after McDonald's Indictment — Sylph and Babcock's First Meeting.

McDonald, the former intimate friend of Grant and ex-whisky ringster of St. Louis. s about to publish his book on the operations of that concern, and some advance chapters have already been printed there creating the liveliest sensation.

General McDonald introduces his book by prefatory defence of his course in revealing the secrets of a conspiracy in which he and his friends were so deeply involved. The first chapter contains an account of how he came to be appointed supervisor. He was in Washington on private business when President Grant said:

"McDonald, I would like to give you the place if you will accept. All you have to do is to return to St. Louis and procure some recommendations. Make your application and forward your papers."
This was done and General McDonald's appointment followed.

The first proposition to organize a "ring" was male in 1871. Collector Ford at first refused and a consummation of the scheme was for the time being prevented. Ford, however, being menaced with removal if he did not consent finally agreed. McDonald says: "There was, I from which should constitute a campaign fund, to advance the interests of the administration. The first assessment was made in September, 1871, just after M grue arrived. I cannot give the minute details of the collection and disbursement of the illicit frauds for the reason that called for. Much depended on the demand for money made by General Babcock for division among the administratian conspirators and the demand for local purposes. sending commissions into the district for the sole purpose of blackmail. I can have commissioner, for the purpose of searing the St. Louis officials into the payment of large sums of money for their silence. More than $100,000 was paid out of the fund in this way, and that some of this money went into the White House has always been my positive belief." sisted in his utilization of corrupt money to secure his re-election. After this pur pose was accomplished I was anxious to see the ring organization dissolved, because its ramifications were so extensive and in cluded such a vast number of men of every with the other managers, urging the dan-ger of our position and the bad policy of continuing the corruption after our pur-pose was accomplished. I laid the matter before Grant who referred to Babcock, whose judgment he relied upon. The administration at length concurred in the opinion that the ring could be run successfully by creating a fund to advance Grant's third term aspirations. Harmony again prevailed among the members of the ring." McDonald and Ford visited Washington in March, 1871. Ford dined with Grant, and interview with Grant about the campaign the blue room and spent a long while thor- who he thought would possibly be candioughly canvassing the political issues in the West and particularly on schemes for creating a campaign fund. The president distinctly informed Mr. Ford that he had intrusted certain matters to me, that he understood everything and that whatever he wanted would be forthcoming upon re-with the ring the name of John W. Douglass has only been mentioned as a faithful executive officer, performing all the duties as commissioner of internal revenue. It will astonish many when I declare that he, too, was well acquainted with the ring organization, and was, in fact, appoitned to his position through our influence, and that he rendered efficient aid in the promotion of our interests." A letter is given (August 21, 1871), from Douglass, thanking McDonald for his influence in the Senate in securing a confirmation of his ap-pointment, and also thanking Ford for his letter to the president, and Joyce for his friendly interest. The letters written by Woodward in 1874 to Commissioner Douglas are also given, and the inference drawn that Danglas did not not an income. that Douglas did not act on the information they contained because he was parti-ceps criminis. There is a mass of testimony, made up mostly of letters, showing Babcock's connection with the ring. About a year after the ring had commenced open operations McDonald was on an inspecting trip to Colorado, and received the following from Revenue Agent Joyce, his co-conspirator: St. Louis, August 22, 1872.

There is a hitch somewhere, even now; but from a telegram I received from B. (Babcock) at the White House, I gather that all will be right. Keep your shirt on. Put me down for a gold mine, a silver gulch and a diamond quarry. Yours, on the rush,

JOHN A. JOYCE. The appended letter furnishes another link in the chain of documentary evidence connecting General Babcock with the ring organization at an early date: "Our Friend to the End."

LAWRENCE, Kan., April 25, 1873. DEAR GENERAL-I arrived here this and party. The mayor and citizens of

To General JOHN McCONALD, St. Louis, On one occasion Joyce went to look after

Lantaster Intelligencer. | you my day's rambles in very brief style. I saw and talked (sic) with Douglas, Clayton, Babcock, the President, Belknap, Rogers and Avery. You can just imagine what I said to each, and can just bet your last nickel that I got what I wanted. The THE GRANT WHISKY RING. White house people were very pleasant, and Douglass was all peaches and honey. Brasher has no authority to visit St. Louis, ALD RESPECTING THE FRAUDS.

This is an authority to visit St. Education of the frauds and if he troubles you or yours put him "where he will do the most good." I am going to ride with Bab (Babcock) to-morrow. Just keep our kettle boiling (sic.) and don't let anything interrupt the good cause of patriotism. Yours always. JOHN A. JOYCE.

" Reliable and Trustworthy." On another occasion a rumor reached St. Louis that revenue agents were again to be sent here. Joyce wrote a letter to Avery in Washington to know if this was true, and if he did not feel authorized to reply to see Babcock or the president. Babcock was absent and Avery took the letter to President Grant, who indorsed it as follows:

Joyce and McDonald are reliable and trustworthy. Let them have the information they want.

Signal 1. S. Grant. Louis that revenue agents were again to [Signed.] A Present to the President. McDonald makes a detailed statement of the present of a team of horses to Grant. The horses, harness, gold breastplates, buggy, &c., were bought in St. Louis in Grant's name, and sent in a special car to Washington. Shortly after this, on December 5,1874, McDonald started for Washington. He says :

"On the day before I left Col. Joyce had collected $5,000 from the distillers and rectifiers, which he requested me to deliver to Gen. Babcock, in accordance with the understanding he had between them when the latter was in attendance at the St. Louis fair. This money, as I saw it counted, was in bills in the denomination of $1,000 and $500. I reached Washington on the morning of December 7, and directrepeat, an understanding between the President, Ford, Joyce and myself that a 'ring' should be formed, the proceeds Gen. Babecok, whom I found seated at his dark in the proceeds of the proce desk in the secretary's room, and after passing the usual greeting I took the money from my pocket and handed it to him, with the remark: 'Here is $5,000 which Joyce collected from the boys for your benefit before I left St. Louis.' took the package and placed it in his

""General, I have some papers in con-nection with the team which, with my explanation, I wish to give you." He asked me to come on the following day at noon, saying he would be at leisure then. "In addition to this the Washington noon, saying he would be at leisure then. segment of the ring was in the habit of I told the president that I had the papers with me and if he could spare me a few moments I would give them to him then. no doubt that Hogue, Brasher and others He assented and together with me walked who appeared here as revenue agents were | into the executive room, where I handed sent by Babcock, and Rogers, the deputy him all the bills, which were in his name for every article Colonel Joyce and I had purchased in completing the buggy and outfit, each bill being receipted in full. At the same time I asked him to give me a small sum of money, so as to enable me to say, if the question were asked, that I had sold the team to him. He handed me "Grant's collusion with the 'ring' con- a $50 bill, which I declined, assuring him that a much smaller sum would answer my purposes. He next gave me a $10 note and I returned him $7 in change, leaving me with the sum of $3 for a $6,000 outfit. One half of the actual expense of the team, buggy and harness, and the cost character that I was in constant dread of public exposure. Time and again I talked Joyce, who united with me in making the present. I told him that I had just given General Babeock $5,000, which I remarked was a part of the proceeds of our campaign fund in St. Louis He assured me it was all right, as he had intrusted Babcock with the details of Western matters, and whatever we did with him (Babcock) would be quite satisfactory."

Third Term Prospects "General Grant then requested me to get into his buggy and take a ride with him, which I did, going out nearly to Bladensburg, and returning, making a cir-McDonald and Ford called at the White cuit of the city and driving through all the House at eight in the evening and had an principal streets. During our ride the conversation recurred to political matters and und.
"After saluting Mrs Grant we retired to He mentioned the names of several parties dates. Among these were Governor Mor-gan, of New York; Morton, Conkling, Logan and Blaine. He criticised each of these and appeared satisfied that his chances were much better than were those of the parties discussed." That night McDonald telegraphed to Joyce :- " Had a long ride with the president this afternoon." In chapter 11, McDonald says: "In the the next day, after an interview with Comdisclosures and connections of individuals with the ring the name of John W. Doug- telegraphed:—"The goose hangs altitidu-"SYLPH."

McDonald returned home, and the day following received the following from Babcock, in regard to the threatened visit of revenue agents :-WASHINGTON, Dec. 13, 1874. General John McDonald, Supervisor, St. I succeeded. They will not go. Will write you.

General McDonald here gives a lengthy description of "Sylph" and General Babcock's relation to her. "Sylph's" real name, he says, was Louise Hawkins, formerly a respectable young girl who fell into bad ways. She was known as Lu Hawkins. He alleges that while Joyce and Babcock were walking down Fifth street, in St. Louis, they met Miss Haw-kins; that Joyce tipped his hat to her, and Babcock, enraptured by her beauty, pro-nounced her "as lovely as a sylph." That at Babcock's request Joyce followed her and arranged for a meeting at a Fifth street restaurant; that after drinking a McDonald relates that "Louise Hawkins is still a resident of St. Louis, and that Cigars and an Enclosure. The fourth chapter winds up with the following: "Shortly after my return to move St. Louis, in December, 1874, I told Colonel wife's Joyce that it would be well to make another small contribution to the presimorning in company with General Grant | dent and General Babcock. To do this, we procured a box of the finest cigars we Lawrence met us at the depot, and the could find and enclosed in the box with the presidential party rode around the city. I was in a carriage with Miss Nellie Grant we sent by express addressed to General I was in a carriage with Miss Nellie Grant Miss Kimall, of St. Louis, and Major Dunn. General Babcock and his brother went together. General O. E. and the subscriber had a splendid chat on the train. He is our friend to the end, Yours, &c., John A. Joyce.

To General John Mclonald St. Louis.

To General John Mclonald St. Louis.

To General John Mclonald St. Louis.

The Briohtest Flowers must fade, but young lives endangered by severe coughs and colds, may be preserved by Dr. Thomas' Eelectric Oil. Croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, in short all affections of the throat and lungs are relieved by this sterling preparation, which also remedies rheumatic pains, sores, bruises, piles, kidney difficulty and is most economic, flavor of those cigars.''

Exposure.

promptly administered to by a wealthy gentleman of that city, in whose elegant residence, near Grand avenue, she is

Chapter fifth begins with the year 1875,

Washington to see Babcock; the order was rescinded, and McDonald continued at St. Louis. Real trouble began in March, 1875, when Revenue Agent Yaryan arrived. It was about this time Joyce wrote:

"The war has begun and there is no telling where it will end. You must consult with our friends at Washington."

On receipt of this McDonald at once went to Washington and had an interview with President Grant and Bristow. He had a long talk with Grant, informing the president that Bristow was collecting evi dence to show the revenue officers had been assessing the distillers for campaign purposes, and appealing to the president to protect the officers. McDonald says: "I futher told him that the secretary had place it in a vault, where no one could get at it?' 'That will subserve present necessities,' I answered, 'but it will be resur-rected some time when there is a change of officers.' He then told me that he would prevent a further accumulation of the evidence by having the agent recalled, and that he would confer with the secretary as to the most desirable means for preventing any of the evidence from becoming public. I responded by saying, 'Well, General, if you have an understanding with the secretary you can control things'. He the secretary, you can control things.' He acknowledged that he had no understanding with the secretary, but that at all events the evidence would be controlled. 'Well,' I said, 'you and the secretary ought to work together.' His response was, Yes, we ought to, but we don't. One of us will have to quit, and it will not be me."

Grant promised that none of the revenue officers should be hurt. McDonald re-turned to St. Louis, and in spite of the President's pledges the distilleries were seized and the officers indicted within a Plotting to Escape Puntshment. The succeeding pages contain an account of the visit of Grant and Babcock to St. Louis, en route to the meeting of the Army operations. One month an assessment of $20,000 may have been levied on the distillers and rectifiers, and during the next month five times that sum may have been called for. Much depended on the descriptions of gratitude, remarking that he understood the source from which the money came." McDonald asserts that Grant and his private secretary came via St. Louis expressly to consult with him relative to the indiction and said: in a room over Connel's restaurant, on Fourth street, where the two dined and discussed the situation for two hours. Babcock said Grant was very sorry he had appointed Dyer to the United States attorneyship. When McDonald told Babcock the result would be the conviction of both himself (McDonald) and Joyce, Babcock drew up his hands and exclaimed: Why we will dismiss every one that is in enmity with us, and thus we can at least > measures until Grant's term of office ex-Babecek gave the assurance that upor the smallest excuse Bristow, Wilson, Dyer and Henderson would be dismissed. Anand Henderson would be dismissed. An-other interview was had that night at grades of COAL that are in market, which we the Planters' house, during which Babcock prevent the further progress of these

"They will never turn a key on you because the old man (Grant) tells me that if they convict you he will pardon you the moment the verdict is announced. Don't have any fears about that." That night McDonald and Joyce called on the president at the Linden hotel and Grant said: "All that Babcock promised will be fulfilled. Under all circumstances you shall be protected.

McDonald's conviction shortly followed While he was still in jail and before he was committed to the penitentiary Babcock visited him and endeavored to get his letters. A long statement is made of how Babcock afterward visited T. F. Welsh, McDonald's brother-In-law, and offered large sums of money for certain letters. Babcock's Rake, McDonald says Babcock realized $25,-

000 directly fram the "ring," besides what he shared with the revenue agents, who came on blackmailing expeditions here. Among the items specified are a package of $5,000, a $1,000 bill sent in a box of cigars, a bill sent by mail and a $2,-000 diamond, &c. McDonald has prepared a number of engraved fac-similes of letters from Babcock to McDonald, under the signature of "Horace Houghton," but in the well known handwriting of Babcock. These letters have been seen by ex Senator Henderson, ex-United States district attorney Dyer and others, and positively identified as Babcock's. The following is one of the Haughton letters:

DEAR FRIEND—Keep steady on. Do not lose your gait. Some of the gaugers and distillers want to squeal and have by such action defeated the plans in a measure. They will not be allowed to turn informers and then go free themselves. Whoever goes to your city will be instructed to make no such promises. When the attention of the public is called to Milkwankee, Chicago, Louisville and Cincinnati, as it will be in a very short time, no special attention will be called to your city. You want to help any one that goes to your city and trust to the reliability of the friend to whom you telegraphed. Sorry your officials have to leave the service. Steer your ship in the tempest; any one can do it in the calm. Yours truly,

May 7, 1875. HORACE HOUGHTON. To General John McDonald, St. Louis. Three Millions of Revenue Lost. McDonald estimates that in his supervisory district the government has been debott'e of wine Babcock and the woman frauded out of or nearly quite $3,000,000 of went to McDonald's sleeping rooms, and revenue during the Whisky Ring period that after that Babcock always referred to The amount realized by the members of her as "my sylph" and signed a number of telegrams and letters with the sobriquet. of this amount went into the pockets of five men. These five men he names as McDonald, Jovee, Ford, McKee and Fitzthough unmarried, yet her every want is roy, each pocketing about a quarter of > Jacob H. Bloomer, of Virgille, N. Y., writes: "Your Dr. Thomas' Eelectric Oil cured a badly swelled neck and sore throat on my son in swelled neck and sore throat on my son in forty-eight hours; one application also removed the pain from a very sore toe; my wife's foot was also much inflamed, so much so that she could not walk about the house; she applied the Oil, and in twenty-four hours was entirely cured." For sale by H. B. Cochran, Druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street Lancaster, Pa.

Flowers Must Fade. The REIGHTEST FLOWERS must fade, but young

The Pleasures of Hope

I can truly say that I owe my present exist-ence and happy restoration to the hopes and joys of life, to the use of Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, and I say to everyone suffer-ing from any manner of kidney, liver or uri-nary trouble. "Use this remedy and recover."

W. E. SANFORD.

Holley. N. Y., Feb. 25, 1880. DRY GOODS.

HOW TO GET

almost everything below value.

Every day during summer all sorts of goods-remnants and goods that for one reason or another are in our way-are picked out and put together to be sold at such prices as they will bring. They are undesirable for us to hold; but they may be as good for the buyer as anything we have.

We have sold already this summer not less than $100,000 worth of goods at irregular prices in this way for, say, $50,000; and many thousands more are going. There is something marked down at nearly every counter in the

Everything sold is returnable if unsatisfactory at the price.

Chestaut, Thirteenth, Market and Juniper.

PHILADELPHIA.

John Wanamaker.

COAL. B. B. MARTIN.

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in all kinds of LUMBER AND COAL. #2-Yard: No. 429 North Water and Prince ireets, above Lemon, Lancaster. n3-lyd

COAL! COAL! COAL! COAL Coal of the Best Quality put up expressly est market prices.

TRY A SAMPLE TON.

4# YARD-150 SOUTH WATER ST. PHILIP SCHUM, SON & CO. (OAL! COAL! COAL!!!

are selling as low as any yard in the city. Call and get our prices before buying else M. F. STEIGERWALT & SON.

234 NORTH WATER STREET. COAL! - - - COAL!!

GORRECHT & CO., For Good and Cheap Coal. Yang-Harrisburg Pike. Office-20% East Chestnut Street.

P. W. GORRECHT, Agt. J. B. RILEY. W. A. KELLER. COHO & WILEY. 350 NORTH WATER ST., Lancaster, Pa.,

Wholesale and Retail Dealers in LUMBER AND COAL. Connection With the Telephonic Exchange. Branch Office : No. 3 NORTH DUKEST.

JEWELRY.

LOUIS WEBER,
WATCHMAKER.
No. 159½ NORTH QUEEN STREET, near P. R.
R. Depot, Lancaster, Pa. Gold, Silver and Nickel-cased Watches, Chains, Clocks, &c.
Agent for the celebrated Pantascopic Spectacles and Eye-Glasses. Repairing a specialty.
apr1-lyd

E. F. BOWMAN,

106 EAST KING STREET, LANCASTER, PA.

To get a better WATCH for the money than the WEST END,

No. 20 NO USE TRYING No. 20

Lancaster Watch Company.

FOR SALE AT No. 20 East King St., Laneaster, Pa. AUGUSTUS RHOADS.

JEWELER.

ROBES, BLANKETS, &C.

CIGN OF THE BUFFALO HEAD. ROBES! ROBES!! BLANKETS! BLANKETS!!

I have now on hand the LARGEST, BEST AND CHEAPEST ASSORTMENT of Lined and Unlined BUFFALO ROBES in the city. Also LAP AND HORSE BLANKETS of every descrip-

Trunks and Satchels, Harness, Whips, Collars, &c. Repairing neatly and promptly done.

A. MILEY, 108 Horth Queen Bl., Lane

HOUSE CARPENTER,

No. 120 North Prince street.

Prompt and particular attention paid to al eration and repairs.

The Pleasures of Hope.

When the body is bowed with pain an intense wires to expose and punish those engaged in frauds on the revenue. An order was made by which McDonald was to be transferred to Philadelphia. Joyce went to bringing hope, health and happiness and the joys of a renewed life. All work guaranteed and satisfaction given in every particular.

M. B.—Remember, works at the extreme end of North Queen street. eration and repairs.