Here, too, would he see the machine that would have saved the weary arms of his wife, whether in the dairy or the kitch en, in the sewing room or in the wash house; here would be see the means of redeeming the "farmer's wife" from a life of drudgery to that of a scientific manipulator of labor-saving machinery; here would be see the means of reducing farming to a science and the life of a farmer to that of a gentleman of comparative leisure; here in the machinery department alone would be see the progress of invention, and here would be marvel what strides it has made and what more it has to make, and he would wonder where it would be twenty years hence, when he would lie cold in the grave and his deseendants would go on with the work that he had left off, only to find in due time and season themselves left far behind by the ever-onward strides of progress.

BURGLARIES AND ROBBERIES. Money and Goods Stolen and Lives Threat-

Late Saturday night a party of burglars went to the residence of George Resch, at Marietta, and got into the second-story window by means of a ladder. Mrs. Resch, awakening, was confronted by one of the burglars with drawn revolver. She screamed and awakened her husband, both of whose lives were threatened if they made any noise. Their son and daughter sleeping in adjoining rooms, heard the noise. The son, going to his parents room, was met by a in the face, knocking her out of the window. The robbers escaped without securing anything. About an hour previous to the above occurrence, the hotel of John P. Finn, at Marietta, was broken into probably by the same gang. Mr. Finn, hearing a noise, took a light and went down stairs, and as he opened the door he was confronted by four burglars, with a light, who exclaimed: "By there's Johnny," and threatened to shoot him if he made an outery. Finn brew out his light and closed the door, ran up stairs and gave the alarm, when the thieves left, after robbing the till of about $8 in money. They also took some liquor, tobacco and

A stranger, whose name is not given, but who had been working in the country and walked into town late at night in search of lodgings, was attacked by a gang of men, probably the same parties who committed the above burglaries, and was robbed by them of all his money, eleven dollars, his carpet bag and a coat.

Attempted Burglary in this City. Last night between 9 and 10 o'clock an attempt was made to break into and rob the grocery store of C. G. Bates at the junction of Walnut street with the New Holland turnpike. Hearing a noise in the rear of the house Mr. Bates's daughter opened the back door and was confronted by a man in the yard. She screamed and the fellow made a hasty exit and escaped over the fence in rear of the premises.

A New Church Organ.

The new cabinet organ built by Alexander McKillips, for St. John's Lutheran church, having been put in place was for the first time tested at the church service yesterday morning, and gave great satisfaction to the congregation present. The organ which was in charge of Mr. Samuel J. Cross, contains five sets of reeds in the treble, and five sets in the bass, and has also Carpenter's world-renowned voxhumann, which is the only genuine patent voxhumana in use. It also contains the patent octave coupler, coupling right and left, up and down the key-board. The magic flute reeds are a solo set of great beauty and brilliancy, combined with the melodia and voxhumana or saxiphone treble, when under the control of a good per-former its effect is charming. The organ is worth $300; is enclosed in a fine walnut case with raised French walnut panels. It is of beautiful design and excellent workmanship, reflecting credit upon Mr. Mc-Killips as an organ builder.

OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE.

Public School Teachers—Brotherhood of E-gineers—Company H. Invited to Freder-ick, Md.—Reopening of the Schools— Other Items of Interest. Pursuant to the call of Prof. B. G. Ames, superintendent, the teachers of the public schools of Columbia met at two o'clock on Saturday afternoon, in the high school room of the public school building at Fifth and Locust streets. The meeting was opened by Prof. Ames, who addressed the normal class teachers particularly. He said: The opening of the normal schools is only an experiment, but it is hoped it will prove a success. The two teachers to be placed in one room should have the same manner of teaching and of discipline, said manner to be agreed upon out of school hours. The teacher who disciplines is to take entire management of the school government, and to call out and dismiss the classes, while the teacher who instructs will instruct only and alone. In addressing himself to the teachers in general, Prof. Ames spoke of the responsibility of their work and the need of earnestness of thought in their work and the determination with which their thoughts should be carried out. He informed teachers that non resident pupils are required, during the first week of school to bring a permit from the secretary or president of the school board to attend the Columbia public schools. Any non-resident pupil failing to do this will be sent home. At this meeting the teachers were all present with the exception of Misses Flora Pfoutz, Sallie V. Paine and Mazie E. Strawbridge Miss Ellen Preston, the new high school principal elect, who held the position to which she has been returned a few years ago, was warmly greeted by her co-workers. The teachers' institute, which the teachers are required to attend, will be held on two Saturdays in each month, from 9 o'clock a. m. to I o'clock p. m. The services were conducted by Rev. J. W. Deshong, of this place, and the interment was made in the church cemetery. The funeral was largely attended. On Saturday night between cleven and twelve o'clock burglars attempted to effect an entrance into the residence of Rev. J. W. Deshong, at Seventh and Wal-nut streets. They were discovered on the back porch by a young man named Simon Brown, and beat a hasty retreat through a vacant lot immediately below Mr. Desh

Captain Case: My DEAR SIR-Permit me, in compliance with the unanimous sentiment of the agricultural society of Frederick county, Md., to tender you and your gallant command a cordial invitation to honor us with your presence during our approaching exhibition in October next. The public school vacation of three months-from June to September-is, in Columbia, a thing of the past, and to-day the school boys and girls, with their books in their hands, trudge school-ward with but a dim prospect of another of the everwelcome vacations before them. Nine month's work and three month's play is to the average school boy an imposition, and it is so viewed by a majority of the Columbia youths, but with the characteristic goodness of the sex they lay their grievances aside, and with "duty" their watchword march unfalteringly to the dreaded school room, there to spend six miserable hours daily-and possibly half as many more if they do not know their lessons. The girls either have more matter of course. The schools to-day with regard to attendance, have a right good showing, and the opening we infer, was a

BOSH HASMANAH.

The Hebrew New Year. Last evening, in accordance with the Hebrew custom of reckoning from the sunset immediately preceding, their new year's day. Rosh Hashanah, began on the first of the month Tisri, corresponding this year with September 6, and ushering in the year 5641 of their era. Last fall the 1st of Tisri corresponded with the 17th of September. The celebration of new year's day among the Hebrews, is a mat ter of religion. It resembles, not the first of January among Chris-tians, but the first Sunday in Advent, the begining of the ecclesiastical year, and is founded upon an idea that on that day the Creator weighs the merits and demerits of all. The day is therefore observed both in house and synagogue with ceremonies exceeded in solemnity only by those of the great Day of Atonement, Yom Kippur. In the synagogue services the shophar or ram's horn is used in commemoration of the sacrifice offered by Abraham as a substitute for his son Isaac. It is blown with three sounds, the first soft and pure, symbolizing conviction of sin: the second loud and strong, as a warning or alarm; the third soft and clear, like the first as denoting penitence and renovation.

All the Hebrew places of business in this city are closed to-day and will remain closed until Wednesday morning. The synagogue last evening and this morning was attended by almost all the

Hebrew families in this city and the serv ices were of a solemn and interesting character. They will be continued this even ing and to-morrow. Prison Inspectors' Meeting. The prison inspectors held their monthly meeting to-day. All the members of the board were present. They approved a number of bills and transacted some other business of minor importance. The bids for the furnishing of 200 tens of coal for use at the prison were opened. The bids were as follows: Furnace. Range. H. Baumgardner & Co.... 3 67 3 79 ner & Co.

Death of Two Horses. When he arrived at that place one of the horses took sick and After procuring another horse, for which he had gone to McCall's, Mr. Brinton drove back to Quarryville, where he arrived in the evening. While there the other horse, which was the mate to the one that died at McCalls, took sick and John K. Rynier was elected a delegate died in a very short time. Runaway.

Madame Rentz's Minstrels To-night.-No one who has seen Madame Rentz's excellent minstrels negds to be told that the performance they give is an attractive and pleasing one, while to all others the high praise of reputable newspapers throughout the land will bear witness that the entertainment afforded by this troupe is worthy of their patronage, rollicking and laugh-provoking, but withal devoid of vulgarity, clean and wholesome. They appear in this city to-night in a new bill abounding in new hits, pretty music and some of the liveliest of minstrel attractions. "Fun on the Pacific."—The Baltimore papers

"Fun on the Pacific bubbles over with mirth from beginning to end, and is comprised of the most pleasing and car-taking tunes from seven of the brightest of recent comic operas. Those charming, little ladies, Belle Mackenzie, Marie Bockel and Bianche Thompson, with Messrs. Cushman and Archer, and other favorites, head a cast of uncommon strength, and the performance will doubtless attract a large audience.
