Wm. Henry's Hospitality. Thomas Paine's Spectacles and Shoe

We copy from the paper entitled Among the Pines, published at Lake Pleasant, (Ms.,) during the Spiritual camp meeting lately held at that resort—the following interesting fact in relation to Thomas Paine, showing that his spectacles and shoe buckles are now preserved in the patent office at Washington:

"S. M. Baldwin, of Washington, D. C. has presented a bust of Thomas Paine, made by Clark Mills, to the United States patent office, and it has been placed near the front door in one of the most conspicuous places in the building. He has also deposited there the shoe buckles and spectacles which Paine wore while writing the fifth number of 'The Crisis.' The Hon. William Henry was a merchant and manufacturer in Lancaster, Pa., in 1776, and his hospitality was widely known and during the sessions of Congress in that place, he entertained many of the members, and also Paine, Franklin and other illustrious men boarded and lodged in his house and enjoyed his extensive library. It was in that library that Paine wrote the fifth number of 'The Crisis that so thrilled the American heart; and there he left these spectacles and shoe buckles." The spectacles and shoe buckles worn by Paine are enclosed in the same glass case which contains relics belonging to Jefferson and Franklin.

How's the Baby.

"How's the Baby?" "His croup is better this morning, thank you, we gave him some Thomas' Eclectric Oil as you advised, doctor, and shall give him some more in an hour or so." Next day the doctor pronounced the youngster cured. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lan-

"To Be, or Not To Be." DR. GREENE has successfully treated over 800 of the most difficult chronic (so called) in so of the most difficult chronic (so called) incurable cases during a seven month's practica.
The most of them had been the rounds of the
