

THE REPUBLICAN PARADE

GRANT NOT HERE. BLAINE NOT HERE.

THE PHILADELPHIA INVINCIBLES

A Big Outpouring of the County Folk.

Today is a gala-day in Lancaster, and the town presents a very brilliant and animated appearance.

Of course these appeals had the desired effect. The city Republicans made ample preparations to receive their country cousins and to entertain them with a profusion of the decorations.

Early this morning the clubs began to assemble and the town was soon well filled with a concourse of country people.

There were not many points in the parade worthy of special notice. There was the usual amount of hunting, caps, espers, topcoats, men, boys, and wagons.

John Cassma's mules and camel boats formed a feature in those sections which rode through their eyes.

It was noticeable that many of the delegations were very small, numbering only from 20 to 30 men.

The number of mounted men in line was much smaller than was anticipated, and for the purpose of stringing out the line to as great a length as possible they rode two abreast.

The Eden township club, as it stacked arms for two hours in front of the INTELLIGENCER office this morning, consisted of one man from Drumm, thirteen from Eden, and eight little boys who will hardly be of age to vote for Grant in 1884.

There were several fights to-day, two of which occurred in Centre square. Nearly all who took part in them were arrested, and about three were committed to jail.

his men, and after waiting a reasonable length of time, brought them to Lancaster. Dr. Davis insisted on waiting for the "Major delegation," but no delegation came, and he was at last obliged to harness up his horse to his business wagon, bundle up his saddle and uniform, and come to town again.

At 2 o'clock the mass meeting was held on the porch grounds, just east of the city. It was presided over by Henry Baumgardner, and addressed by ex-Attorney General Lear and Gen. W. H. Kooz.

COLUMBIA NEWS.

The telephone exchange, yet in embryo, destined to connect Columbia with several points of the county, is being pushed as far as possible.

There will be a general parade of the Democratic clubs of the city next Saturday evening. Further arrangements will be announced shortly by Col. Fordney, Battalion Commander.

A meeting of the Second Ward Hancock and English club will be held Thursday evening, at 7 o'clock, for the purpose of distributing the balance of uniforms and turning out in general parade.

The regular meeting of the Ninth Ward Hancock and English club will be held at their club room on Saturday evening, at 7 o'clock.

The Republican Relief Committee last evening accepted the invitation of the Young Men's Republican club of Lancaster.

The curious feature connected with the running of the special trains to York and Lancaster by the Pennsylvania railroad company, is that the ticket agent here has no waiting wharves or platform.

The Frederick accommodation train has just come in with five or six extra cars. There was a harvest-day to the railroad companies.

One of our Democratic merchants says to-day's political jubilee, with dollars now scarce, will take thousands of dollars from town without leaving anything as a remembrance.

The following telegraphic correspondence passed between Thomas J. Davis and the editor of the Philadelphia Times this morning.
