AUTUMN.

The leaf is red—the leaf is serene as a rotten almond...

The leaf is red—the leaf is serene—See yonder muffled train...

The leaf is red—the leaf is serene—Ay, redder than the gold—A royal splendor crowns the year...

The leaf is red—the leaf is serene—Think you my sun is set? With wine, and song, and friendship here...

The Way of the World.

Fresh gleanings from the Home and Foreign Crop of Humor.

Fruit is put up to be put down. So also are ten pins.

The remark of Mrs. Malaprop at the time when she was a young party, that the butter offered her guests was fresh from the creamery, was not very relishing.

Wyoming ranchmen frequently come across their own branded cattle which they have missed for four or five years.

A boy in New Haven made a sensation for a short time by quietly transferring a card bearing the words "take one" from a pile of handbills in front of a store to a basket of oranges.

The writer for the press always has two chances. One is that his matter may be crowded out for want of room, and another is that it may go in for want of something better in its place.

We see by the Milwaukee Sentinel that Daniel Webster died twenty-eight years ago. The Milwaukee papers are constantly hunting some fresh sensational item like this and springing it upon an unprepared public.

Miss Patey said, when a Chicago clergyman, in a marriage ceremony, asked her if she would love, honor and obey her husband: "I will love and honor him, but whether I will obey him depends on circumstances."

A crash is heard in the kitchen of a house on Galveston avenue. The head of the family calls out to the cook: "What have you broken now, you black idiot?"

Madly stopping singing a hymn to answer, "Taint the first commandment, bress de Lord!"

A Galveston school teacher had a great deal of trouble making a boy understand his lesson. Finally, however, he succeeded, and drawing a long breath remarked to the boy, "If it wasn't for me you would be the biggest donkey on Galveston island."

"I have a little poem that I tossed off in an idle hour the other day; what shall I do with it?" writes a young lady in Iowa. Go up on the roof and toss it off again, selecting a day when the wind is high. Perchance it may fall in waste places and nobody ever be bothered by it.

A Cincinnati youth in a two-column account of a wedding, says that a bride wore a gown with "surplus neck," that the bridesmaids had gowns that were "surplus in the neck," and the bride's mother wore a lavender satin "cut surplus in the neck." In fact, he seems to have thought that too many clothes were worn.

"Henry is so practical!" said Mrs. Youngwife. "When mother went into the country last year Henry sent all her things after her the very best day; he said she might want some of them, you know. 'And it's a kind of funny,' she went on, 'mother did want them, for she has not come back to live with us since. Wasn't it queer?'"

A negro passing along Fleet street, London, was asked to sing. He sang a voice called out: "How dy'e do, Massa Mungo? How do ye do, Snowball?" and, on looking up, observed it proceeded from a parrot in a splendid gilt cage.

"Ala, massa parrot," said blackie, "you great man here! You live in a gold house, but I don't know your father very well. He live in lush."

Justice Smith said, on opening his court at Connersville, Tenn.: "William Henry Smith is arraigned for assaulting his father. The magistrate had on the previous day knocked his father with a club, and it was himself that he was now arraigning. He continued: 'The evidence is conclusive, and I'm not sure but I ought to send myself to jail for ten days. But, as this is my first offence, and I certainly had a good deal of provocation, I will simply impose a fine of $10.'"

Workmen. Before you begin your heavy spring work after a winter's inaction, your system needs cleaning and strengthening to prevent an attack of Ague, Biliousness, or some other spring sickness that will unfit you for a season's work.

A Good Biddance. For Nauseous Drings, no use there soon will be. For Sals, Magnesia, Senna, no pretence, Dispensing Chemists, all men will agree; But when Dispensia suits us then's the time to get Spring Blossom, best of remedies, the very best thing in all bottles is.

A Happy Restoration. I can truly say that I never present existence and happy restoration to the hopes and joys of life, to the use of Warner's Safe Kidney Pills. I have cured many cases of chronic suffering from any manner of kidney, liver or urinary trouble. "Use this remedy and recover!"

Economical Advice. If I were going to buy a violin what method should I take to get it cheap? I would tell father or mother that the Rheumatism and then buy a bottle of Electric Oil. For I should not only get them cured but the violin, too. For sale by H. B. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster, Pa.
