LANCASTER DAILY INTELLIGENCER. MONDAY NOVEMBER 15, 1880

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.

Regular November Term. This morning the regular November term of quarter sessions court began, with Judge Livingston on the bench. Frank Mussleman. of Strasburg township, was chosen foreman of the grand jury. After he and the members were sworn Judge Livingston instructed them in regard to their daties while in their rooms. He then spoke (as follows in regard to their visit to the public institutions :

After having passed upon all the bills presented to you by the district attorney and performed all the duties required of you in the grand jury room, it will be your duty in your official capacity to visit the poor and house of employment, the hospital, home for friendless children and the Lancaster county prison, of which you are he legal visitors. While visiting the poor and house of Warfel refused to give them, after some employment it will be well for you to examine the new barn just completed, and in view of the number of buildings in close proximity thereto, as well as the fact that the barn on the premises has been several times, within the last few years, destroyed by fire, it will be proper for you to inquire whether or not some arrangements should be made for an increased supply of water, so as to afford increased security to the buildings, and to make such suggestions as you deem advisable with reference thereto.

While visiting the Lancaster county prison, it will be well for you to inquire why it is that while other prisons report considerable nett earnings in their manufacturing departments, such as carpet, weaving, shoe and eigar departments, ours usually reports a deficit.

How should this convict labor be managed and utilized?

Should we continue to purchase raw material and lose annually from $1,000 to $2,000, or even more, under the present system in its manufacture. Or would it be better to have arrangements made so as to let out by contract, and let the contractor supply his own raw material, such as leather, carpet, 1. oom and basket material and tobacco? This question we deem worthy of your inquiry and consideration.

Another question with reference to this institution, demands strict investigation on your part. I refer to the escape and freescape. How do they escape? and who room. furnishes to them so many implements for that purpose. Where and how do they get implements to enable them to eat through iron-clad cells? and where are the officials while the cutting is being done? Who furnished the prisoner who cut through the iron-clast cell a short time since with the bar of soap containing a hammer, the loaf of bread in which a file was concealed, and the case knife ground down to a point found under the lining of his hat? Where did he get them. He was sentenced to separate and solitary confinement at labor for a long term.

The law requires the keeper, in presence of any of the inspectors who may be present, and the underkeepers, who can conveniently attend, when a convict is received at the prison, to strip him of all money, effects, and clothes on his personand then bathe, clean and clothe him in the uniform of the prison, and conduct him the Shawnee furnaces, but at present a duties you will make and present to the afternoon. It appears that a fire had been court a full and complete report of your whole proceedings. Regular Business.

The first cases attached were those of commonwealth vs. Abraham Harris and Henry Green, colored. Both were charged with riot, and Green was charged also with carrying concealed deadly weapons. The evidence showed that on the 30th of July last, the defendants and a colored woman went to the hotel of Jacob D. Warfel, in the village of Intercourse. They took several drinks and became very abusive and noisy. Warfel asked them to keep quiet while a funeral was passing the hotel; they did keep quiet for a time, the trouble, and soon had things put to but soon began to get noisy again. rights. In your investigation it may be well for you to inquire whether or not he obtained them from visitors, and what is the practice of the prison with reference to the visitation of persons sentenced to separate and solitary confinement.

While our prison was nothing more than an ordinary county jail, it did not make so great a difference, because all our worst grade of prisoners were then sent to the Eastern penitentiary. But when an act of Assembly was passed prohibiting us, except in two or three cases which rarely oncur in this county, from sentencing to the large. Eastern penitentiary, our prison became as to all, except in these two or three classes, a penitentiary, and the rules and regulations with reference to visiting that class of prisoners should be as strict as those of the ponitentiaries in which they are usually confined. We fear, however, that upon examination you will find that short. the inspectors and officers continue to couduct our prison on the old county jail plan road shifting engine was working at the reports of her acting in this piece indicate a and permit any one who desires to visit prisoners, whether convicts or not, when and so often as they see proper, without any regard to the law governing the prison.
