Runaway This Morning. This morning Frank Bowman, residing at Harris Station, on the Quarryville railroad, was driving along the Willow run, on a pike near Steinman's powder house when one of the spindles of the front axle broke off. His horse frightened and started to run throwing him out bruising him badly; the animal was caught at the toll gate after the buggy had been broken up considerably.

To Beer Drinkers. A party of us started out the other evening, accompanied by a stranger, to taste Lancaster beer. We stopped at half a dozen saloons and tasted Cincinnati, Philadelphia, Rochester, Milwaukee, and other foreign beers. Then we went up to C. Wacker & Bro.'s, corner of Water and Chestnut streets, and the whole company pronounced their beer the best they had met during the entire evening. It was gratifying to our local pride to discover that this fine purpose by excellent material and skillful brewing restores to Lancaster its old-time fame for larger beer, and we believe they can challenge comparison of their stock with any imported article. Patrons: home industries and drink Lancaster beer.

$500 Reward. The above offer appeared in the Christian News of yesterday, signed Frank J. St. Ingham. This party has for the last five years been trying to mislead the public in regard to the manufacture of organs in Lancaster by me, which I am happy to say has not succeeded. Now the offer is 7 o'clock, p. m., when attendance will be given and terms made known by B. F. ROSS, Agent. [dec-18]

COLUMBIA NEWS. OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE. It was the misfortune of Robert Wadell to fall into the chilling waters of the Susquehanna yesterday. He was taken into an air hole, enjoyed a cool bath and made a very voluntary exit from amidst the floating ice. The transparent water covering will be closely scrutinized by him in the future.

The business of the Columbia postoffice has been footed up and has been found to be considerably over and above the mailing at last year's showing. The figures are not very high, but they will do. Following is the count made by the Post-Office Inspector in attendance. Mr. Schroeder returned last evening. The Columbia fire company elected their president a delegate, and at the same time vested in him the power to appoint a substitute in his inability to attend.
