A CASE OF CONSCIENCE.

A Democratic Senator Who Would not Qualify. HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 4.—The first biennial session of the Pennsylvania Legislature convened here at noon to-day, and the Republican caucus nominees were duly elected as officers.

In the Senate a sensation was caused by E. B Coxe, the Democratic senator from Luzerne county, declining to take the "iron clad" oath. He made a lengthy statement showing that he had used money in securing his own election, and that therefore he could not conscientiously allow himself to be sworn in. Coxe's statement says his money was spent for usual election purposes and none for corrupt purposes.
