toward the Indian wigwams. This flow Articles, &c. has been sometimes temporarily interrupted by one of those exceptional treaties which the white men have occasionally forgotten to break within a month after its signature ; but on the other hand, a prosperous campaign against the set-tlers of the states of the border has filled hundreds of wigwams with a wealth of scalps. There must now be preserved, among private Indians, and in the Sioux, Crow and Apache art galleries, nearly five hundred thousand scalps, most of them in excellent preservation. Of course, in the great majority of cases, the original owners of these scalps are not in a condition to identify them, but there must be many men in the West whose hair is now in the possession of the Indians, and Only Vegetable Compound that who would gladly prove property, pay charges and resume their scalps.

Indians, there has been a flow of scalps benefactor.

Who the "Indian Hair Restorer" is has not as yet been definitely ascertained, since he modestly conceals his name, but there is no doubt that he is a noble-minded mar. He has evidently come to the couclusion that the Indians have no good title to the hair which they have seized by force of arms, and he holds that it is their duty to restore it to its rightful owners, or to their legal representatives. He cannot wholly undo what has been done in the way of exasperating with knives and tomahawks the original possessors of the scalps which he desires to restore, but his evident wish to act justly and make the only reparation now possible for stolen hair shows that he is a conscientious, high-minded Indian.

It is to be feared that the Hair Restorer will find much practical difficulty in the way of carrying out his excellent purpose. Many of the Indians will refuse to restore the hair which has been in their families for years, and there will be great difficulty in deciding whether any given hair belongs to any particular applicant for its restoration. Unprincipled bald men will swear that beautiful scalps of curly black hair are their rightful property, and it will probably be the case that all the good hair which the benevolent Indian may offer for restoration will be claimed and carried off, while the red and sandy hair will find no claimants.

These, however, are mere matters of detail. The fact that one Indian has become, from purely conscientious motives, a Hair Restorer, is the important part of the affair, for it is proof that an Indian may be as pure, as unselfish and impracticable as Mr. Gladstone himself.

Brandy as a Medicine

The following article was voluntarily sent to Wr. H. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physi-cian of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice, It is commended to the attention of those af-licted with

Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE. This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims. With a purely philanthropic motive we pre sent to the favorable notice of invalids—espe-chally those afflicted with that miscrable dis-curse Dynamics a smooth made which is ase Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is aothing more or less than
