COLUMBIA NEWS.

OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE Columbia engine No. 314 has been sent the Altoona shops for a general overhauling. The regular monthly meeting of council will be held this evening. Rain has been steadily falling since the small hours of this morning, and, as a consequence the late excellent sleighing is now about over. Yesterday the streets were bare in some places. Our sleigh loving people are beginning to realize that another fall of snow is necessary.

Nick Roberts's pantomime company appeared in the opera house last evening before a very large audience and gave a performance which perhaps was above the average of its kind. The entertainment appeared to please its "takers in" and judging it from that standpoint it was unestionably a success.

There was a fight last evening at Elbow lane, between a number of the colored residents-men and women-of the locality. Cries were raised for knives, razors, etc., and one woman was heard to scream out, "shoot him." We have not heard that her advice was taken or that any one was seriously injured.

A shooting match for a large hog was to have taken place to-day on the river, in front of the Continental hotel, but the inelement weather may possibly prevent. There was to have been many competitors. The Pennsylvania railroad pay car will be here to-day. Snow failing from the market house

ACCIDENTIAL FIRE.

Sattler's Shoo Store Damaged. This morning about 6 o'clock the shoe store of Louis Sattler, in McConomy's building, No.19 West King street, was accidentally set on fire, and Mr. Sattler's goods damaged to the extent of $600 or $800. which is covered by an insurance of $600 in the Reading fire insurance company, of which Mr. B. F. Shenk is local agent. The building and permenent cases attached to it are damaged to the extent of about $400 and brown. and the loss is covered by insurance in the Home mutual insurance company.

The origin of the fire appears to have been accidental. Mr. Sattler went to his store about 6 o'clock, struck a match and lit the gas, and then went to the watercloset in the second story of the building. On his return he discovered the store to be in flames. He at once gave the alarm and the fire was extinguished, but not until most of Mr. Sattler's goods had been ruined, the glass cases damaged and the building injured to the extent above stated. It is supposed that when Mr. S. threw the match upon the floor, it set fire to some paper behind the counter, and this in turn set fire to the store fixtures. It is thought the fire might have been put out before one half the amount of damage had been done by using the store hose had not the hydrant in rear of the store been frozen. The fire plug in front of the Union hose house was also frozen, and the firemen could get no water until they removed their hose to another plug. on West King near Steinman's store.
