Account of the prison with itself. Credit is taken, Feb. 28, 1880, for 29 yards of carpet and 60 brooms taken for the prison use from the manufacturing department, $26.89. No charge is found for these as for goods sold.

We are credibly informed that Mr. Rutter, of the board of prison inspectors, laid these facts before the grand jury ; that the vouchers showing one set of credits, were exhibited and testimony was given to show the excess of the vouchers and credits over the amount already paid out; also the credits taken for payments for convict overwork and the varying account with the convicts; the accounts with the prison officials for goods sold them and the lack of any charge; that Carpet Weaver Rettew swore to his books and that the above carpets were woven. the clerk's books showing no charges or only partial charges of the money received for the same ; that Mr. Nimlow's receipt was produced from Geo. A. Tripple for $57.50 and it was pointed out that no charge was made by accountant for the same; and that numerous witnesses were sworn to having received and accounted for goods in varying sums of which no charge has been made by the accountant.

It is rumored that the grand jury voted 12 to 10 to ignore the bills.

The following persons compose the grand jury this week. Washington Bunting, farmer, Colerain. Jacob Bachman, gentleman, Strasburg

In the above cases the present management and prosecution hold that in the cases of Diller, Gasser. Miles, Bitner and Gemperling they have produced testimony outside of the books to show that the amounts stated in the keeper's vouchers, and for which credit was given in the clerk's account, were in excess of the ataomis actually paid.

In the II class, as stated, the clerk's own books show the variance. In the III., IV., V. and VI. classes, the cash book for December, 1879 to April 1, 1880, which is at hand, fails to show any record of the missing receipts. The officials who received the goods and accounted for the same testify to that effect; the weaver swears to the carpets woven and a number of the customers, who were produced, swore to having got them : the cash book makes no mention of them; nor of the Nimlow money; for which his receipt is produced. In the IV. class, manifestly, if credit is asked for goods taken from the manufacturing department, they should appear as charged to the clerk, which they do not.

Mt. Tripple denies the charges in toto; says he is not indebted to the prison, and is guilty of no fraud or irregularity; if any changes have been made in the books they have been made since he left; that the cash book disappeared under his successor's administration and was there when he (Tripple) left; that all moneys received by him were entered in the cash book: that all expenditures were as the vouchers he filed indicates and none were raised, and finally that the prosecution is a persecution and the grand jury so dis-

The Charges. Of the complaints on which the ignored indictments were founded the first charged Charles D. Tripple with destroying or mutilating the cash book of the prison for the three years during which he was clerk, from Nov. 30, 1876, to Nov. 30, 1879. The complaint is drawn under a special act of assembly providing punishment for such offences. The second complaint charged Charles D. Tripple and George A. Tripple, jointly, with feloniously having stolen and appropriated to their own use the sum of $150 of the county money, which came into their hands between Aug. 3, 1879, and Feb. 3, 1880. The third complaint charged the same defendants, jointly, with having feloniously embezzled and stolen the sum of $225 between Feb. 3, 1880, and April 1, 1880.

The Board of Bealth. The board of health appointed by the court met for organization last evening at the office of Newton Lightner, esq. board consists of N. Lightner, esq., Dr. M. L. Herr, Postmaster Marshall and Messrs. Chas. A. Heinitsh and Lewis Haldy. Mr. Lightner was elected president, and Dr. C. H. Brown secretary. The ordinance defining the duties and powers of the board was read and discussed. After talking the matter over informally, the board adjourned to meet again next week, when a set of rules and by-laws will be submitted for adoption, after which the board will be ready to go to work.

COLUMBIA NEWS.

OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE A number of ladies from a Lancaster home communion lodge visited their sisters of the place last evening and had a very pleasant time. They sleighed home through the rain at a late hour. At a raffle last evening for a 700 pound

Kramer claims one of the band instruments for services rendered, but the band does not grant his claim to be a just one, hence the suit.

The Pennsylvania railroad freight trains are having a hard time of it in getting through the cut at E. K. Smith's. The curve is short, the grade heavy and the tracks slippery, hence the difficulty. Several trains have come to a dead stop before rounding the curve and a number of others have separated into sections by the coupling iron breaking. The strain, in all cases is great. The property offered at public sale at the Franklin house last evening was withdrawn. Quite a number of young ladies and gentlemen were skating on the river in front of Swartz's ice house yesterday afternoon. A small stretch of ice had been cleared of snow by a couple of energetic boys during the morning. If a freeze now sets in the ice, from the bridge to the dam, will be as smooth as glass and the skating better than ever before. A SEVERE STORM.

Rain-Wind-Ice-Accidents. Last night about 9 o'clock a severe storm of rain and wind set in and continued almost without intermission all night and the greater part of to-day. The temperature being below the freezing point, the rain froze as it fell, forming a glassy sheet upon the pavements and making it almost impossible for people to keep their feet upon them. Scores of pedestrians, perhaps hundreds, "sat down upon" the pavements, some of whom received severe injuries which will be found reported else-

Great damage was done to telegraph lines by the storm. Twelve of those on the Pennsylvania railroad line were blown down at Kinzer's station, one at Diller ville and five at Locust Grove. Four poles on the Western Union line, a short distance west of Christiana, were blown down. The wires were badly tangled. Emanuel Gundaker's feet slipped from

Dr. J. L. Atlee, jr., attended the KILLED IN YORK COUNTY.

A Resident of Maytown Struck by a Trais. In York county, on Tuesday, on the line of the Northern Central railroad company, the second section of the day express struck and instantly killed John Greenleaf, a resident of Maytown, Lancaster county. The deceased was a day laborer, about 47 years of age, and had been spending a few days with his brother, Philip Greenleaf, in Codorus township. At nine o'clock a. m. he left the residence of his brother, stating that he was going to Seven Valley, and if he did not return in the evening the family would know that he had gone to his home. It is the supposition that he had visited Seven Valley, and had taken the railroad by which to walk back to his brother's, and was walking on the track on the south side of the bridge when he was overtaken by the day express, which was about an hour late. He was struck in the centre of the back : several ribs were broken, his skull fractured, an ugly gash cut in his neck and throat, beside several other minor cuts and bruises. The body was precipitated down a steep embankment of several feet, the train promptly stopped, and backed to the scene, when several men went to his aid, but found life entirely extinct. The body being taken to the almshouse an inquest was empaneled, and inquired into the death of John Greenleaf. The engineer of the day express, Jas. Akehurst, was sworn and stated that he saw the deceased upon the track about 15 or 29 feet ahead of the engine, on the outside of the track, the smoke at the time being so thick as to prevent him from seeing farther. He was running at about 35 miles per hour and could not stop his train in time to prevent running over him. He gave the proper signals of approach, at the crossing a short distance above, but the deceased was either walking or standing just ahead of the engine, evidently unconscious of its approach. They were passing a long freight train at the time, and the steam and smoke issuing from the bridge through which it had of Gen. Welsh Post, No. 118, of this place. just passed, obscured the vision greatly. Greenleaf were also sworn, and substantiated the statement of the engineer. From the testimony it appears that the deceased had become bewildered somewhat at the passing train, and failed to take nowith a large sled belonging to the Colum- tice of the approach of the train. After deliberation the jury returned a verdict that the said John Greenleaf met his death cidents will it require for the enforcement from injuries received by being struck on of the ordinance relating to coasting? ANOTHER CASE OF SUFFOCATION.

The new warehouses of the Messrs. Baumgardner, erected on Lemon street, between Prince and Market, are under roof and rapidly approaching completion. For the purpose of drying them out as fast as possible and preparing them for the lessees, six large stoves have been placed in the basement (which contains a great deal of snow and ice which fell therein before the buildings were roofed). Isaac Rittenhouse, whose residence is on Concord alley, is the watchman and firemen having charge of these stoves. Last evening about 7 o'clock his wife went the warehouse taking with lancheon for her husband. Knocking loudly at the door and receiving no answer she made her way to the base ment by a rear intrance and found her husband lying unconscious on the ice. She raised an alarm and some of Mr. Banngardner's men carried Mr. Rittenhouse to Coroner Mishler's residence, near by, where every effort was made to arouse him. Dr. A. J. Herr was sent for and at once saw that the patient was suffering from stove gas. The usual remedies were applied and in the course of two or three ours Mr. Rittenhouse was able to go to is home. To day he is better but still suffers from pain in the chest and head. It appears that the draught of the stoves was insufficient to carry off the gas, which was inhaled by Mr. Rittenhouse till he became unconscious and fell to the frozen ground where the air was purer, but where he might have been badly frozen had it not been for the timely discovery of his condition by his wife.

Last night burglars broke into the stove. inware and plumbing store of Shertzer, Humphreville & Kieffer, and robbed the safe of about $150 or $160 in cash, consisting of gold, silver and bank notes. The burglars effected an entrance into the store room by forcing off, with a jimmy, the wooden shutter covering the upper part of the door. The upper part of the door is a sash filled with glass except one pane, which is filled with tin. This tin pane the burglars removed, and reaching through the opening thus made it was an easy matter for them to push back the bolt and remove the iron bar which fastened the door on the inside. Once in the store the barglars appear to have gone at once to the safe, an old-fashioned one, and to have picked it with a false key, as the safe is not in any way damaged. the safe the thieves took, as stated above, slid in a sitting position for several yards. all the money therein, amounting to over Mrs. Kate Curran, residing on East $150. PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 21.-Robert Me-Calmont, Hugh McCalmont and Wm. J. Newell, trading under the firm name of McCalmont Brothers & Co., filed a petition in the United States circuit court this morning. It states, first, that on the 24th of May, 1880, Moses Taylor, of New York. filed in the circuit court of the United States for the Eastern district of Pennsylvania a bill in equity against the Philadelphia & Reading railroad and Philadelphia & Reading coal and iron companies; second, that upon this bill the court did the same day enter a decree appointing Edwin M. Lewis, Franklin B. Gowen and Stephen A. Caldwell as receivers; third, that the present petitioners are the holders of the bonds secured by a certain mortgage which is properly specified; and, fourth, the petitioners aver their readiness to be re sponsible for their due proportion of the costs of the proceeding. They therefore pray the court to make a decree permit-
