COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

The Case of the City Against Welchans. This morning the second week of common pleas court began with Judge Patterson on the bench. In the case of David L. Witmver for the use of Tobias H. Hershey vs. George Moore, the plaintiff suffered a non-suit. Pritchett, Baugh & Co. vs. Samuel Kurtz and Jacob H. Strickler, partners as Kurtz & Co. Judgment entered in favor of the plaintiffs for $1,366.09.

John C. Christian, for the use of Mary A. Barcraft, Samuel K. Kille and Wm. M. Runk, trading as Barcraft & Co.,, vs. the Commonwealth Mutual fire insurance company. Judgement confessed for amount of plaintiff's claim.

The following cases were settled. J. W. Hummel, et al., executors vs. Heny Rupp. Cyrus Shartzer vs. John A. Brush.

The City Treasurer Case. The case of the city vs. Edw Welchans, suspended city treasurer, was again argued this morning, being presented in the form of an application for a mandamus to compel the treasurer to turn over the successor Wm. S. Shirk. Messrs. D. G. Eshleman and G. M. Kline argued it on behalf of the city, and Messrs. Atlee and

J. Hay Brown for Welchans. A replication filed by the plaintiffs, denying the allegations of the defendant's return, and praying for judgment for want of a sufficient answer was withdrawn. because the court held that it should have been a demurrer and the defendants would consent to no amendment : a demurrer was filed and the argument went on.

In substance the respondents held that a mandamus does not lie where there is another remedy, and that remedy is by quo warranto whenever the right to any corporate office is in dispute as is the present case; respondent denies that Shirk is legally city treasurer, or that he himself has been legally removed or suspended; holds the council proceedings to be invalid, and that as treasurer he has proper custody of the Looks, &c., and is prepared and willing to pay all warrants drawn upon him. Controverted facts being thus involved in the Latter before the court they can only be decided by the legal investigation of a jury trial.

Counsel for the city argued the insufficiency of Welchans': answer; the statute and ordinance give councils the power to remove him; his saspension was sufficient answer to his allegation that he had properly conducted his office; he had been duly informed of his suspension; his retention of the money, books, &c., is evidently done to protract the settlement of this matter beyond the end of his term and to drive plaintiffs to an issue: the ordinance authorizing his suspension directs the transfer of his official property to his successor and the court had declared, in its without seeing a tail or fin. recent opinion on this case, that this is the against Shirk.

Mrs. Grubb's Tea.

The society editor of the Philadelphia Times notes that Mrs. Clement B. Grubb gave a very large and beautiful tea on Tuesday afternoon. "Her daughter, Mrs. Bell, who received with her, wore white satin, and Miss Daisy Grabb white silk, while Mrs. Heber Smith, Miss Willcox, Miss Corliss, Mrs. Bonsall Taylor, Mrs. Andrews and the Misses Sellers, who assisted their hostess, were all in full dress Mrs. Grubb's tea was in every respect one of the most costly and elegant that has been given this winter. Good music, always a delightful accessory to these entertainments, a profusion of flowers decking both parlors and dining room, and a very beautiful supper table, combined to make it attractive and succeeded. Although it is no longer the custom for a hostess to confine herself rigorously to the cake and frozen coffee prescribed last winter as the proper refreshment for afternoon teas, it is still very seldom that a table is spread with the lavish hospitality displayed in Mrs. Grubb's dining room. cian. Brandy as a Medicine The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. Slaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physi-cian of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice It is commended to the attention %; these dicted with Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE. This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims.

With a purely pidlauthropic motive we present to the favorable notice of invalids—especially those afflicted with that miscrable disease Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than

Brandy. The agest, with feeble appetite and mere or less debility, will find this simple medicine, when used properly,

A Sovereign Remedy or all their ills and acies. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and use but one article, and that is REIGART'S OLD BRANDY,

Sold by our enterprising young friend, it E SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandies nomatter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case or cases. In proof of the curative nower of cases. In proof of the curative powers of Reigart's Old Brandy. In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon num bers of witnesses one case in particular we A hard-working farmer had been sufficted A hard-working farmer had been sufficted with an exhaustive byspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour eractations constantly—no appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGram's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, preached at times, and in his discourses often decly insect emestly against all kinds of strong declaimed earnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try Reigart's Old Brandy, In his case, he looked up with astonishment. but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which helchose to cat. He still keeps it and uses a lit-tle occasionally; and since he has this medicine he has been of very little pecuniary bene-fit to the doctor.—A Praccising Physician.
