COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

Refore Judge Patterson. Henry Seiberling vs. Samuel Myers This was an action brought in 1867 by the plaintiff to recover wares for services rendered the defendant, who resides in Vo gansville, while in his employ. The plaintiff claimed that he worked for him three months and twenty-two days. He received $41, but there was still owing him $12 with interest. The defense was that the plaintiff had worked but two months and twenty-eight days, and he had been paid all that was owing him. The jury found in favor of the plaintiff for $21.76. In the case of Ann Mary B. Kraybill and Jacob Kraybill, for the use of Ann Mary B. Kraybill, vs. Wiley Brothers, a verdict was taken in favor of the defense.

Frederick Wolf vs. Christian Gast, guar dian of John B. Shroad. After this case was attached the defendant asked to amend his plea by adding non assumsit. The plaintiff's counsel plead surprise and the case was continued.

Joseph C. Brinser, for the use of Jonas Brinser, vs. S. Keller, jr., constable, of Elizabethtown. This is an action brought to recover the amount of a judgment for $77.15, on which execution was issued and placed in the hands of the defendant on February 25, 1879. The plaintiff obtained a judgment againt Richard Heilig and Simon Albright, execution was issued and placed in the hands of the defendant and it was made returnable April 12. The execution was returned, endorsed "Levy made but not sold, for want of time." An alias execution was then issued and so was a pleares execution. The money was never made and this suit is brought on account of the neglect of duty of the defendant in failing to make the money on the execu-

The testimony for the plaintiff showed that the plaintiff went with the constable to levy on Simon Albright's goods. Brinser then said he wanted to make arrangements with with Albright to secure the money : a note payable in eight months was drawn up and it was left with Albright to get security, which he failed to do. While the alias execution was pending, it was claimed that Brinser made arrangements with Albright by which he was to be paid the amount of this execution out of an estate of which the mother of Richard Heilig was an heir. The endorsement on the execution was to this effect, and the defense claimed that in the report now filed in court money had been set aside for this purpose. Exceptions have been filed and the matter has not yet been disposed of, The defense claimed that the interference of the plaintiff caused the delay in pay-

The plaintiff denied having made any agreement as alleged, but claims that it was done by Albright and the constable. Before Judge Livingston.

In the case of Benjamin D. Moyer vs. Henry Netf, the testimony closed at noon to-day and counsel began addressing the jury this afternoon. The evidence for the plaintiff this week was rebuttal of what had been given by the defendant last week in regard to the increase of size of the sand bar and its effect in backing the water into Moyer's tail race. Witt of Estrepment.

The petition of M.H. Hastings, husband of Rebecca E. Hastings, who is the owner of 142 acres of land in Colerain township, was presented to the court this morning. A writ of estrepment was granted on the present tenant, Wm. S. Hastings, to restrain him from committing waste by cutting down the timber, removing the manure and using the straw, which, it is alleged, belongs to the realty, but which Wm. S. Hastings threatens to convert to his own use, against the protest of M. H. and Rebecca Hastings, the latter of whom purchased the property on January 1, 1881, from Henry Webb, from whom the defendant leased it for one year from April 1, 1880, to April 1, 1881.

on Hem Picked up from a Snow Bank. As our reporter was walking along Christian street near Orange this morning, he picked up the following item, intended no doubt for the INTELLIGENCER, and written in the well-known hand of Mr. "Sale of Horses. Samuel Hess & Son, auctioneers, sold yesterday, Jan. 31. at public sale at the Merrimac house, Lar. caster city, for Geo. Grossman, 24 head of Canada horses at an average of $190 per head; four of the lot were sold at $1,000." Reporters are expected to find the news no matter where it may be hid; but we respectfully suggest to our correspondents that a snow bank in a by-street and on a stormy morning is not the most convenient place in which to have their favors deposited. Hereafter please drop them in a

Aggravated Assault. Lastnight while Victor Kasser was walking near the corner of West King and Prince streets, he was accosted by a man who was under the influence of liquor and who asked Mr. Kasser to give him ten cents for a night's lodging. Mr. Kasser, seeing the man's condition, told him he had better go to the station house. This made the fellow angry and he followed Mr. Kasser, who pushed him away and told him to go about his business. The fellow then attacked Mr. Kasser and beat him badly about the face. Mr. Kasser made complaint against him and he was arrested and locked up. He gives his name as Francis Newman. COLUMBIA NEWS.

OUR REGULAR CORKESPONDENCE William Peiper. In the absence, by reason of sickness, of H. S. Graybill last evening drilled Company H. It is reported that the casting house of the Cordelia furnace was on fire yesterday morning. To what extent it was lamaged we have been unable to learn. Mr. G. M. Pierce, who had been visiting friends here for the past couple of weeks. left town yesterday morning for his home at Urbana, Ohio.

This snow spoils the different coasting places in town. It will require wear and tear to get them in condition again. A passenger from Lancaster on the Frederick accommodation train, west, this morning, in jumping off at the lower yard, was thrown head over heels in the snow.

It now generally requires about twentyfour hours for a treight engine to make a round trip between Columbia and Phildelphia.

This morning's market was very dull. The snow storm was probably the cause. Yesterday a couple of lesser lights hissed dog upon that staid but powerfully built colored individual, Joe Cole. Joe stood the racket as long as he could, and when patience ceased to be a virtue, he ran to he middle of Locust street, picked up a boulder, about the size of a man's head, and threatened to clean out everything within reach. One of his tormenters made tracks down Locust street and the other enscouced himself in Morrison's barber shop. Cole was not afterward interfered

Of this number a total of 33,297 were dispatched east and 35.390 west. Loaded east, 31,999; loaded west, 11,242. Freight is now about as heavy as it has been this winter, and it s thought the report for the month of February will also show a heavy movement in cars.

That billiard match of 340 points has not yet come off. Latest reports have it that no day has yet been decided upon. Baggage-master John Reagan, of the Frederick accommodation train, to day made his first trip as conductor. He has charge of the mixed train (passenger and freight) leaving here for Frederick at about 12:40 p. m. Reagan is a faithful employee and will make a good con-

They expressed themselves as highly pleased at the management of our between 6 and 8 o'clock, and elect the nominces schools.

A fall of about six inches of snow has taken place since last evening. In town, and especially along Front street, the sleighing will be much improved, but on the country roads, where there was not so much travel, the sleighing yet remained excellent and this fall was not necessary to its improvement. If another cold snap sets in and continues long enough for our people to break a road along Front street, we will again have good sleighing. With the advancement of sleighing stock there is a corresponding decrease in that of skating, and it will require a heavy wind or a brigade of brooms to clear off another space to allow our people to again engage in this exhilarating sport. At this writing, (12:58 p. m.), it is still snowing, proved to be wisdom. Two bottles cured her, but not as fast as earlier in the day. It is not gray over head.

This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandies no matter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case or cases. In proof of the curative powers of Reigart's Old Brandy,

In cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon num one case in particular w hard-working farmer had been afflicted A hard-working farmer had been afflicted with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour eructations constantly—no appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Kood Beer. Reigart's Old Brandy, In his case, he looked up with astenishment, but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he chose to cat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this medi-cine he has been of very little pecuniary bene-fit to the doctor.—A Practising Physician.

injured member was restored to his usefulness. Subsequently his Philadelphia blood began to boil and he was just as ready to fight a man who had but one arm as he was to demolish an opponent who had two. In some subsequent remarks he compared Simmons to a bag of wind. It was at this point that somebody was hit. It was Representative Huhn. Theu someody was hit twice in rapid succession. This was also Representative Hunn. At winds, falling followed by rising barom- the third stroke he went down and in falling caught his opponent and pulled him down also. Then followed a little more hitting from the same direction and it was all over. Only Huhn has come to the conclusion that instead of tackling a bag of wind he tackled a simoon.
