LANGAN MUST GO.

THE TROUBLE AT MILLERSVILLE.

A Student of the Normal School Expelled. For some days past there have been rumors of a serious unpleasantness at the Millersville state normal school. An attempt has been made by parties interested in the school to prevent giving the matter publicity, but the story has found its way from the gossips of the village to the gossips of the city. Shorn of embellishment and exaggeration the affair appears to be a tempest in a tea-pot, caused by an overcautious professor and a somewhat contumacious student.

It appears that on the night of the 22d of February a number of the faculty and students of the normal school came to Lancaster to witness the performance "Hazel Kirke"at the opera house. At the conclusion of the play the Millersvillers took seats in the street cars to return to Millersville, the lady students occupying the front car and the gentlemen the second car. A student named Langan, from New Jersey, (who, we are informed, was not one of the party who came in to attend the play) stepped upon the platform of the front car, but before he had had time to enter, was pulled vigor-ously by the coat-sleeve by some one behind. Looking around, he saw that it was Dr. Brooks, principal of the school, who had hold of him. The doctor requested Mr. Langan to leave the car and take a seat in the car behind. Mr. Langan said he preferred to remain where he was. Dr. Brooks pereputorily ordered him to leave. Mr. Langan replied that he was in a public conveyance, had paid his fare, was guilty of no misbehavior and was entitled to stay where he was. Dr. Brooks retorted that if he did not leave the car at once, he would be expelled from the school. Mr. Laugan still declined to move and told Dr. Brooks to go on with the expulsion. Dr. Brooks called upon the conductor of the ear, Mr. Beck, to put the man off. That officer, however, declined to act, as Mr. Laugan had paid his fare and was behaving himself genteelly. Mr. Brooks expelled from the school. This ended the matter for the time being and Mr. Langan rode to Millersville in the ladies' car. Dr. Brooks lost no time in formally expelling Mr. Langan from the school, for a violation of one of the rules, which, we are informed, prohibits lady and gentleman students from traveling together. The affair has created there is considerable diversity of opinion as to who is to blame. Dr. Wickersham, state superintendent, was sent for and visited the school on Saturday with a view of pouring oil on the troubled waters. Dr. Brooks is reported to be unvielding in his determination to keep Langan out of the school, and Langan is as determined to get in again. It is a mattter of no small importance to him, as expulsion from Millersville prevents him from being received as a student or teacher in any other Nor mal school. If not speedily reinstated he threatens to bring suit against Dr. Brooks for heavy damages.

The big fight will be for sheriff and prothonotary. These are the best two positions at stake, and for them the contest is already clear-cut and well defined. The Hiestand-Brown-McMellen-Mentzer faction is for Abe Keller for sheriff and Sam Matt Fridy for prothonotary. Jac. Kready is only to be used as a decoy; he will be cheated. For sheriff the New Era-Johnson-Sensenig-Martin wing is for John High, and for prothonotary, John D. Skiles is their man. Abe Settley has no chance to get in; he may as well spare his

For the other offices the combinations will be subordinated to these two, on both sides. At present the Examiner party is inclined to Geo. Spurrier, for clerk of orphans court; Tobe Hershey, for quarter essions clerk; Steve Grissinger, for treasurer; Dr. Compton, for register; Sam'l Slokom and C. Coble, for commissioners, On the other side the combination now talked of is Jos. Reeser, for clerk of orphans' court ; Geo. W. Eaby, for clerk of quarter sessions; John M. Grider, for county treasurer; Ben Wissler, for regis-ter; S. M. Myers, and D. M. Mayer, of Straburg, for commissioners. These lates are, however, subject to entire rearrangement and to a show of what strength the candidates can bring to the choice of the rings for sheriff and prothonotary.

Going to the Inaugutation.

The Lititz cornet band, whose services have been engaged by the Philadelphia invincibles for the inauguration demonstration in Washington next Friday, will start for the national capital on Thursday morning. Two members of the Eden band, two from Womelsdorf and one from this city, will accompany them, and Tayler's orchestra of six pieces, of this city, will swell the number of local musicians, who will contribute to the festivities, to about twenty. On Wednesday evening the entire party will give a concert in the hall at Lititz.

MARIETTA MATTERS.

OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE.

Prof. Haldeman's Collections-The Budget of Borough News. The valuable and interesting collections of the late Prof. S. S. Haldeman, of Chickies, have, after several months labor, been divided, arranged and shipped to their several destinations. They were packed in 60 or more boxes, and the total weight was about 5,000 pounds. The books alone filled one car. Of thase, a box of the most valuable works were sent to the Philadelphia library company, one of the oldest if not the oldest library in that city, and with the exception of some private donations the remainder were sent to Leavitt & Co., New York city, to be sold at auction. The professor had some time ago sold the most valuable part of his library to a college, but that institution, being unable to make payment for them, will give them up, and they also will be disposed of in

New York. For a number of years past the professor had been intensely interested in American Archæology, and science is indebted to him for his valuable services in throwing light upon the customs and condition of the pre-historic natives of our country. By his untiring zeal, deep penetration and correct judgment, he succeeded in collecting and selecting a large cabinet of Indian

The most interesting and valuable of these are those found in Chickies Rock Retreat. This is a small oven-like cave at the base of Chickies Rock which attracted his attention many years ago. He examined it about five years ago and found it to be rich with scientific store, producing about 400 arrow heads and a number of other implements which his previous research enabled him to classify as knives, chisels, scrapers, borers, spear heads, hoes and diggers, sinkers for nets, hammers and tomahawks, also he discovered a pipe and some pottery. Had this all fallen into the hands of one less capable of turning it to the best advantage, it had better been left undisturbed, but he enhanced the value of the discovery by a care ful examination of all the surroundings, and prepared a paper on the subject, which was read before the American Philosophical society in 1878. Previous to this a preliminary sketch was sent to the Societie des Americanistes, Luxembug, which was published in the Compte-reudu. This collection has been presented to the American Philosophical society, and they have gone to considerable expense to publish the paper read before them, in pamphlet form, with fine illustrations. On account of this accompanying paper and the completeness of the collection, it is considered the most valuable one extant, for it tells of an arrow manufactory that. from its formation of 30 inches of vegetable mold, has been in existence 2,000 years. The Linnaun society of Lancaster, of which Prof. Haldeman was an honorary member, received two boxes of the remainder of the collection. The house, as usual, was packed in every part, and it is needless to say the audience was delighted The plays were "Widow Hunt," with Mr. Clarke as Major Wellingion DeBoots and Paul to his brethren of Susquehanna lodge No. Pry. They are both very strongly marked characters and Mr. Clarke has made them so entirely his own that they can scarcely be dissociated in one's mind from the personages as he represents them. Time serves only to make the assumption of such parts more easy and natural, the peculiar walk and method of talk which marks Major De Boots of course remain : they are a part of his character, and can no more be thrown off or materially changed than the Major in real life could alter his features. Mr. Clarke has an excellent company supporting him, and with two very funny plays well represented, a most enjoyable evening is assured. Mr. Clarke starts this week on a tour playing at Lancaster this evening; Reading, Tuesday: Harrisburg, Wednesday; Williamsport, Thursday; Pottsville, Friday, and on Saturday night at Wilmington. At each place Mr. Clarke will appear as Major Wellington De-Boots and Paul Pry, and will be supported by Mr. W. H. Vernon and other members of the company, lately playing at the Walnut.
