THE NATION'S NEW CHIEF.

GARFIELD TAKES THE REINS.

The Ceremonies at Washington Today—Address of the President-Elect.

WASHINGTON, March 4.—The snow storm turned to rain during the night and this morning it was snowing again. The White House, executive departments and a majority of private houses are literally buried in blinding snow.

At 10:15 the presidential party, consisting of Hayes, Wheeler, President-elect Garfield, Vice President-elect Arthur, and Senators Pendleton, Anthony and Bayard, entered their carriages, each carriage drawn by four horses, preceded by the Cleveland Troop.

On arriving at the capitol the procession moved around the building and formed in line on the east front. The presidential party then drove to the Senate entrance.

The party went to the vice president's room where they remained until noon—at that hour 50,000 people were massed in front of the building.

Mrs. Garfield, the wife, and Mrs. Garfield, the venerable mother of the president-elect, occupied seats in the private gallery. Mrs. Hayes sat between them.

After the presidential party had been seated, amid renewed cheering, Mr. Garfield was sworn in. He then delivered his inaugural address.

The free enjoyment and full suffrage is still in question, and a frank statement of the issue may aid its solution. It is alleged that in many communities negro citizens are practically deprived of the freedom of the ballot.

But the danger which arises from ignorance in the voter cannot be denied. It covers a field far wider than that of negro suffrage and the present condition of that State is a disgrace to the nation.

Let our people find a new meaning in the Declaration of Independence. Let our little children learn that the destinies of the republic are in their hands.

concerning things which have been irrevocably settled and the further discussion of which will only stir up strife and delay the onward march of the country.

The elevation of the negro race from slavery to the full rights of citizenship is the most important political change we have known since the adoption of the constitution of 1787.

Our facilities for transportation should be improved by the construction of new railroads and great interior waterways and the increase of our tonnage on the ocean.

only safe foundation for a monetary system. Confusion has recently been created by variations in the relative value of the two metals.

The interests of agriculture deserve more attention from the government than they have yet received.

NEW FASHIONS IN FUNERALS.

An Innovation That Has Several Proper and Interesting Features.

A new fashion, destined yet to become popular, is being quietly introduced into the funerals in New York.

While it has been frequently remarked of late business men that they drive through everything as if they had not a single moment to spare, even to die, it sometimes becomes evident that they have not the time to attend the funeral of a partner, friend or esteemed public servant.

The latest innovation gives all the friends of a deceased person an opportunity for participating in appropriate ceremonies. It also obviates the necessity, whether real or assumed, for hiring a long string of coaches to accompany the body to the grave.

The new fashion provides simply for holding funeral services in the evening. Business men can then attend without losing a moment of office or factory time.

speedy completion of said building, and to avoid, as far as possible, loss to any one, your petitioners entered into a contract with Uriah Bitzer, who was bail as aforesaid, whereby it was agreed that the said Bitzer should pay to us respectively 60 per cent. on the amounts due us at the time of the absconding of said Wilson, and 90 per cent. on the amounts due us on all work and materials that were thereafter to be furnished under the terms and the prices stipulated for in our respective contracts with said Wilson, and on the completion of said building to pay to us pro rata so much of the amount so reserved as remained in his hands unexpended in and about the erection of said building.

An Auctioneer Arrested. Yesterday a search warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Officer Leman, directing him to search the premises of Fred A. Williams, auctioneer, West King Street, for a stolen mattress, two arm chairs and a rocking-chair, believed to be in Williams's possession.

Discharged. The three young men arrested for disorderly conduct in the market fair last Saturday were heard before the mayor last evening and discharged—the complaints having been withdrawn.

Did Not Go. It was a mistake in our stating yesterday that Captain McMiller had gone to Washington. He is confined to his house on account of illness.

KITCHEN ECONOMY. Dr. Edward G. Love, the present analytical chemist for the government, has recently made some interesting experiments as to the comparative value of baking powders.

COLUMBIA NEWS.

REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE. The Shawnee fire company No. 3 held its regular monthly meeting last evening. Company business only transacted.

Freight traffic on the Pennsylvania railroad continues heavy. J. M. Eckert will at once enter upon his duties as pastor of the Bethany Lutheran congregation at Millersburg.

Telephone connections between the exchange in Columbia and the offices of the Chickies iron company, at Chickies, Donegal furnace and Watts, Twells & Co., at Watts station, and Cordelia iron company at Cordelia, on the line of the Reading & Columbia railroad, are completed and give entire satisfaction.

Mr. Chas. Souther, freight brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad, who was caught and badly scolded between two box cars, on Saturday, we are glad to say is getting along as well as possible.

The water in the river is too high to allow of an examination of the Columbia dam to ascertain to what extent it was damaged by the late freshet. It is estimated that the new fishway, on which a large amount of money was expended last summer, has been entirely destroyed.

The following programme of exercises has been prepared for the Fifth anniversary of Cookman Chapel, M. E. Sunday school, on Monday evening the 7th inst.; exercises to commence at 7:30 o'clock.

The State Penitentiary, of Philadelphia, passed through this city last night at 10:30 on a special train. They were en route to the capital to attend the inauguration.

The thieves know where the picnic is, and all trains going to Washington are full of them. In Harrisburg yesterday while crossing the bridge the family are deputed a representative of thieves through them.
