SATURDAY EVENING, MAR. 12, 1881.

VERNAL PAITH. When heaven was stormy, earth was cold, And sunlight shunned the world and wave, Thought burrowed in the church-yard mould, And ted on dreams that haunt the grave.

But now that beeven is freed from strife. And earth's full heart with rapture swells, Thought soars through fields of endless life Above the shining asphodels.

What flower that drinks the south wind's breath. What sparkling leaf, what Hebe morn, But flouts the sallen gray-beard Death,

And laughs our arctic doubts to scorn ? Pale scientist, scant of healthful blood. Your ghastly tomes one moment close Pluck freshness from a spring-time bud, Find wisdom in the opening rose.

Mark the white lily, whose sweet core Hath many a wild-bee swarm enticed, And drew therefrom a honeyed lore Pure as the tender creed of Christ!

Yea, even the weed, which upward holds Its tiny ear past bower and lawn, A lovelier faith than yours unfolds, Caught from the far faint winds of dawn. -Paul H. Hayne Amusement Notes.

What is Going on in the Show World. The chart for Mrs. Siddons looks ve Maude Branscombe has gone to Er land. W. W. Cole's circus is doing well Australia.

Pauline Markham has signed a contr for next season with Mr. M. B. Leavitt Columbia has been doing very well theatrical attractions lately. A. J. Talbot is one of the comedia with Haverly's New Mastodon minstre Dan Rice has at last struck oil and circus is doing well in New Orleans. Louis James, Marie Wainwright a Charles Plunkett are re-engaged w Lawrence Barrett next season.

Sara Bernhardt returns to Europe May 4th. It is probable that Mr. Abl will go on the same steamer. Fanny Davenport will produce "Princess of Bagdad" in Boston short

The adaptation is by Hart Jackson. Gus Williams and company go to Ca fornia. They open in San Franci about the latter part of April. Mrs. John Drew told an interview that the dullest audiences she has played this season were those in Boston. Harrigan & Hart's new piece, " Mu gan's Silver Wedding," is said to be best of their series. Billy Andrews, proprietor of the Theatre Comique, in this city, will br a female minstrel show here next week Mary Anderson closed a very success engagement at the Boston theatre receily. The receipts for one day amounted over $4,000. Denier's pantomime troupe will h one of the largest houses of the seas They are in Baltimore this week to business.

Saturday night are rehearsing a new act entitled ' We Got Left."

Hooley, Morton and Homer's minstrels are making a hit in San Francisco. Johnny Morton of the old "Big Four." is the leading comedian.

Another new company, entitled M. B. out next fall under the management of Thatcher & Ryman's minstrels in Phila. delphia have struck a bonanza in the burlesque of "All of It." This troupe will visit France this year.

It is spoken of as among the possibilities that Nat Goodwin may travel next season under J. H. Haverly's management.

Jennie Hughes has been engaged with the D'Oyly Carte company to sing Eliza in "Billee Taylor," opening next Monday in Philadelphia.

J. H Haverly has purchased the piece called "The Strategists," and will put it upon the road shortly with a strengthened company of his own.

A few days ago Tony Denier presented his treasurer, Frank Hildreth, with a beautiful seal ring having the letter "H" set

John Sheridan, of "Fun on the Bristol" troupe, is the husband of Alecia Jourdan, who died last season while traveling with the same party. The "Strategists" have closed their season and are now in New York, Thomas J. Hind, who died a few days ago, was a member of the company and he appeared here with them. One of the bloodhounds belonging to Jay Rial, and used by him in "Uncle Tom's Cabin," fell under a moving train in Waterville, Me., a short time ago and was killed.

The Sparks brothers, Irish comedians, with Tony Denier, were last seen here with Maffitt & Bartholomew, several years ago. Little Todd was here five years ago with George L. Fox's pantomime company.

"The Fun on the Bristol" party travel in a special car, on the Reading road over the Mishler circuit. Mr. Mishler is with them. Nearly all of the troupes are furnished a car to themselves by this road and it is found to be very convenient.

OLIVET BAPTIST CHURCH—AT Y. M. C. A. Rooms.—Rev. M. Frayne, pastor. At 10½ a. m. and 7½ p. m. Subject—"Blind Eartimeus." Sunday school at 1½ p. m. and it is found to be very convenient.

The Salsbury Troubadors celebrated their fifteen hundredth performance of "The Brook" at the Globe theatre, Boston, last Friday. Satin programmes were distributed. The receipts of the week in Boston were the largest they have yet known, being within a few dollars of eight thousand.

The Dramatic News says: "Charlotte Thompson is now reported by the associated press to have lost in Toledo, O. 'her jewel casket centaining diamonds valued at fifteen thousand dollars.' If Miss Thompson ever possessed fifteen thousand dollars' worth of diamonds the fact would probably have created a good deal of interest in the minds of actresses and actors to whom she has owed salary for services due for a week salary school at 13/2 p. m. for services due for a number of years

A New York reporter has been among the photograph stands where the pretty and picturesque photographs of actresses are sold, and finds that many of the old footlight favorites have lost their hold upon the popular fancy. The variety queens have been compelled to give way to stage beauties of the more "legitimate" drama. Lydia Thompson, Pauline Mark-ham, Ada Harland, Rose Massey, Rosina Vokes, and other favorites of a few years ago, have almost disappeared, because nobody buys them any more. Even Maud Branscombe, of whom 300 negatives are said to have been made, in postures ranging from simparing prattily in a smith of the said to have been made, in postures ranging from simparing prattily in a smith of the said to have been made, in postures ranging from simparing prattily in a smith of the said to have been made, in postures ranging ford. Miss Anderson is now the empress of the photograph stand. Detchon, Eleanor Carey, Catharine Lewis, Effic Ellsler, Annie Pixley and Ada Gil man. There has been only a moderate demand for Sara Bernhardt.

She's Coming. A society fact of some interest is the intention of Mrs. Mackay, wife of the famous California bonanza king of that name, to quit Paris, where she has been residing for a long while past, to take up her per-manent residence in New York. Within the past day or two, Mr. Mackay has purchased the well-known Stevens property in Fifth avenue, not far from Central Park. The price paid for it is said to be about three quarters of a million dollars. Mr. Mackay is at present with his family in France but is expected to return with them to New York in the course of a few weeks. He will stay here but for a brief period, however, new enterprises in connection with the Comstock mines requiring his presence in Nevada. Mrs. Mackay is alleged to have become very much dis-pleased with the Parisians, chiefly because of their refusal to accede to her patriotic wish to have the Place de l' Etoile illuminated, on the occasion of the memorable visit of General Grant. The story is that she offered to buy out the whole neighborhood, including the Arc de Triomphe, if the Parisians would but say what they

e.	would sell it for, but as she could not strike a bargain she had to be content to see only her own dwelling illuminated.
