peared in great numbers. They ran around the feed bins in a wild chase. So rapidly did they turn corners that their tails snapped with a report like that of a bull whacker's whip. The boys with the dogs were signalled, the doors opened, and the hungry caniues let in on them. The unfortunate rats scemed to be under a spell, and made no attempt to seek holes. For five minutes slaughter reigned supreme and when it had subsided the floor was covered with the bodies of forty-three rats. Again were the drums called into requisition and the same scene ensued again. This time 38 rats bit the dust. The boys continued their operations with their drums and dogs all the afternoon and when evening came there were piled up in front of the stable, mangled, cut and torn, the bodies of 479 rats.
