DETAILS OF THE FIRE AT NICE.

The Flames Break Out Shortly After the Rise of the Curtain Upon the Opera of "Luca " and Plunge an Audience into Panic,

MANY DEAD BODIES RECOVERED.

Measures of Report.

NICE, March 24-3 A. M .- Up to this hour fifty-nine bodies have been recovered from the ruins of the Italien opera house. which was destroyed by fire last night. It is feared that many more persons lost their lives. The fire commenced soon after the curtain had risen for the performance of "Lucia di Lammermoor." The subscribers for the orchestra stalls and boxes of the grand tier had mostly not arrived. A $1,000 pay. working class.

Shortly after the fire began the gas exploded and the house was plunged into complete darkness. A scene of terror and dismay ensued which beggars description. A detachment of sailors from the squadron in the harbor arrived on the scene with pumps and displayed great gallantry in rescuing people and combating the fire, which was subdued towards ten o'clock.

M. Strakosch, the impressario, was slightly hurt. Signora Bianca Danodi, one of the leading artists, made her way from the stage to the street safely. One whole family of five persons and another family of three persons are known to have perished. Relief subscriptions for the sufferers have been opened throughout Nice. The regatta here has been countermanded, and the value of the prizes to have been contested for will be contributed toward the relief of distress."

Many of the Singers Burned PARIS, March 24 .- A dispatch from Nice states that in the opera house fire last night many of the actors and chorus were burned to death. One hundred and tifty charred and dead bodies have been dug out of the ruins to-day and many more remam in the debris. The city is in a state of the wildest excitement and sorrow.

The Cause of the Catastrophe.

NEW YORK, March 24.- A Paris special says : "It has been ascertained that the cause of the fire which destroyed the opera house at Nice last night, was a leak in the gas pipes behind the scenes. The leak was caused suddenly in some way yet unknown and allowed great volumes of gas to escape. This ignited, before the leak was discovered, from the rear stage lights, and the explosion which followed at once set all the scenery and inflammable material on the stage on fire, and before the audience recovered from their first horror the entire building was in flames "To add to the calamity some one turned ed. The audi then a terrible p

John Strohm, who knew and was known to many of the Southern delegates in Congress, heard and heeded them. Unhappily "reconstruction" was not left to such as they and he. Party profit and sectional pride ruled the hour, and sorry work they made of it.

John Strohm has been a justice of the peace for twenty years, and recently lifted his commission for another term. He knows tothing of the arts by which this office is now so often prostituted for the individual gain of its incumbent. Nor his the function to exercise it to the stirring up of strife, the multiplication of complaints and the swelling of fees. Ho is a conservator of the public peace, and a has oftener been called upon to adjust the contentions of litigants, nor with such satisfactory results to all concerned. Some years ago he had referred to him a knotty calculation, viewed very differently by parties interested in it, involving a hopeless complication of the accounts of two co administrators, each act ing on his or on her own responsibility, and both inextricably confusing their rights and duties as administrators, heirs, and agents. Principals, counsel, and auditors struggled vainly with it. Out of fourteen foolscap pages of figures John Strohm evolved conclusions so clear and equitable that everybody was satisfied. He fixed the fee for his services at five dollars. He has been school director and township auditor ; for forty-five years secretary of the Farmers' mutual insurance company, he was last year elected president. As administrator, guardian and trustee, road and bridge viewer, and in the many capacities in which intelligent citizenship is to be exercised for the public good, he is repeatedly called upon to act. Specr's Port Wine Is recommended by physicians above all others as a gentle stimulant, tonic and diuretic. It is something they can prescribe to patients with confidence, knowing they are using an article that is strictly pure, and possesses the highest medicinal virtues.

Charles A. Sceley, a skillful chemist of New ) ork city, after making a careful and thorough analysis, says: "I have examined the wine with the view of determining the presence or absence of various injurious substances which are contained in so-called Port Wines, such as logwood, crude spirits, etc. 1 have not found any of these substances in Mr. Speer's wine, and it does not contain anything but what is found in pure Grape juice wines. This wine is recommended by Drs. Atlee and Davis, and for sale by H. E. Slaymaker, Lancaster, Pa. m15-2wd&w
