unfinished orders of the county commissioners and finished auditing them. Major Cox having appeared and testified to the correctness of the poor house ac-counts, the auditors examined about twenty bills and adjourned.

This morning they reassembled and Mr. Currau was excused from attendance, having some other business to look after. Mr. Musser offered the following preamble and resolution :

"WHEREAS, there is an unfinished business standing before this board of auditors in regard to the county treasurer's accounts,

"Therefore, be it resolved, that this board of auditors proceed to audit, settle adjust the accounts of the treasurer of the board of poor directors, treasurer of the prison board, sheriff and coroner of the county, and that after they are through with these officers' accounts they proceed to finish the county treasurer's accounts,'

Mr. Collins objected to the resolution as being entirely uscless. "We have been consuming a great deal of time and doing very little work. Let the resolution go to the dogs and let us go to work and get through."

Mr. Musser-Am I to understand you to hold that there is no unfinished business before this board?

Mr. Collins—No; but passing resolu-tions won't finish it. We may resolve and re-resolve, and die resolving, if we do nothing. I have no special objection to the resolution and will vote for it if you will promise to go to work and continue working until we get through.

Mr. Musser expressed his readiness to go to work, and Mr. Collins voted for the Immediately afterward Mr. Collins of fered the following resolution. Resolved, That hereafter this board of auditors, in consequence of the delay in business will meet at 9 o'clock a. m. and continue in session until 12; meet at 1 o'clock p. m. and continue in session until 4:30 until the business is completed." Mr. Musser suggested that the morning session should commence at 8:30 and closes at 11:30. Mr. Collins accepted the amend ment and the resolution was adopted. Mr. Musser wished to present one other resolution, as follows:

Resolved. That the reporters of the pub lie press be not excluded from the room in which the auditors transact their business. Mr. Collins said the passage of the resolution was useless, because the reporters had a right to come into the room if they chose to do so, and the board had no right to exclude them. He was never opposed to the presence of reporters. He would vote for the resolution, however, for the purpose of getting down to work.

The resolution was then adopted and the auditors went to work. [In this connection we may be permitted to say that the reporters feel no disposition to attend the meeting of the auditors so long as they confine themselves to their legitimate work. It is only when raise a row, or open a circus that the reporters care to make a report of doings.— driving yesterday ran into a gipsy wagon dressing, tragrantly perfumed, repdering it porters care to make a report of doings,-REP. Yesterday afternoon a rather interesting slander suit was heard before arbitrators in the court house. The case was that of Benjamin F. A large number of witnesses were examined in the case.

N. D. Cassel is the name of a Philadel

Cassel formed the acquaintance of a number of Columbia's gay young men, and with a liberal hand he expended his money for everything which his companions thought they would like to have. While the money held out a succession of oyster-stews, whisky punches, etc., disap-peared with amazing rapidity, but all this had an end and the end was not far bethey neglect their work, go on a spree, hind the beginning Cassel, while out ternoon of the same day he met a number article in every toilet. The gipsies recognized him as the party of the morning's collision and proceeded to avenge themselves for the injury to their wagon. Cassel, shorn of his late companions-his money having been played out—was com-pelled to defend himself as best he could, but his defence did not save him from a tendent, announced at the opening of the session that liberal prizes would be award-unmercifully by the incensed itinerants, ed at the end of the session to the boys and he was well hammered before finally having the best average of attendance, escaping. BURGLARY.

Store Robbed at Salunga. Last night burglars broke into the store of S. H. Stauffer, at Salunga, this county, and robbed it of goods to the value of about three hundred and fifty dol lars. An entrance was effected by breaking a hole in the brick wall alongside the back cellar door, large enough to admit the burglar's body. From the cellar he ascended the stairway to the store, the door at the head of the stairway not being locked. The following goods are known to have been stolen and others may have been: One piece of broadcloth, worth $25; two pieces of diagonal cloth, worth $10; fourteen pieces of mixed calicoes, worth $20; three boxes of kid gloves, worth $15; a lot of gold rings, stads, sleeve buttons, collars, etc., worth $15; hair brushes, perfumery, etc.; two pairs of boys' boots and several pairs of shoes; $3 in cash and other articles not enumerated. The clerk of the store and a boy were sleeping in the room above the store but did not hear the burglars, who after securing their booty left the store by forcing open the back window-shutter. They left behind them a file and a spade which they had stolen from John Hertzler's blacksmith shop.

As soon as the robbery was discovered Detective Sprecher, of this city, was sent for, and went up. He is satisfied that the robbery was not committed by profes-sionals. The job was bunglingly done, though the thieves seemed well acquainted with the quality of the goods, and took only the best.

The post office is in the store room, but the thieves got nothing of value in that department. This same store was robbed about three years ago.

fforse Stolen. Last night a bright sorrel horse was stolen from the stable of Joseph F. Wit-mer, of Paradise. The stable was not locked at the time. The stolen animal is about 15 years old, 144 hands high and weighs about 1100 pounds, has a white face, two white legs and is of "chunky" build and in good condition. The case has been put in Captain Sprecher's hands, but as yet there is no clue to the thief. A well equipped cavalcade of gypsies passed through town eastward this forenoon. They had seventeen horses, a pony and a dog. One of the wagons was very handsome and adapted for camp life, They will doubtless be found somewhere along the Philadelphia turnpike offering to trade horses and tell fortunes.

CAPITAL CULLINGS.

An Extra Section of Congress not Probable

Washington, D. C., March 25.—The secretary of the treasury has authorized the payment on the 28th inst. without rebate of the interest due April 1 on the four per cent. ceasuls.

There is a very decided opinion among treasury officials this morning, exclusive of the secretary, that the cabinet will finally conclude that it is not advisable to call the entre section of florgress at this time. The members of the cabinet are still very reticent on the subject, and decline to express an opinion relative to the ultimate decision. The cabinet is now in in session and it is thought that the question will be finally disposed of before adjournment.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 25 .- The state department, in a statement denying the report that Commodore Shufeldt has been sent on a special commission to China, for the purpose of or-ganizing the Chinese navy, says: "Commodore Shufeldt has returned from a special cruise on the Ticonderoga during which he visited Corea. As it seems possible that circumstances might make it desirable to renew the effort to open commercial relations with Corea it was deemed advisable to attach Commo dore Shufeldt to the United States legation at Peking, in order that the United States minister there might have the bens-fit of his information and experience should it be decided to take any further action in the Cores matter."

An Illinois Man. WASHINGTON, March 25 .- The president to-day nominated Robert R. Hit;, of Illinois, to be assistant secretary of state.

THE READING ELECTION.

Argument on the Matter of its Legality. PHILADELPHIA, March 25.—The re-argument the question of the legality of the election of officers of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad company, began in the court of common pleas this morning before Judges Hare, Mitchell and Fell. Judge Hare informed counsel that the only questions now involved are whether or not it was necessary that a majority of the stockholders should be present at the meeting, and whether or not the election should be deferred to the succeeding year. Mr. Bullitt, council for McCalmont Brothers & Co., was asked to define the relief sought for, and proceeded to argue the power of the court in the premises. He presented an affidavit stating that President Gowen had distributed circulars and posted placards in the hall requesting stockholders to withdraw so as to prevent the presence of a majority, and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority, and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority, and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority, and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority, and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority, and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority, and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority, and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority, and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority, and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority, and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority, and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority, and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority and stated that Mr. Gowen claimed more the presence of a majority and the presence of a m
