be in condition to audit any more accounts for a month." Mr. Musser took away his hand, but insisted that the major should leave the room instantly or he would be put out. The major protested that he had a right to be there and would stay there as long as he wanted to; and Auditor Curran also put in a word in behalf of the major, saying he had an undoubted right to be present. After sitting in the room long enough to convince Mr. Musser that he had no respect for his order to leave, Major Griest left the room, and the side show closed.

It appears that after Auditors Collins and Musser had signed the poorhouse report, Mr. Musser thought better of it, there being one bill that he could not approve, whereupon he erased his signature and induced Mr. Curran to withhold his signature also. In the meantime Mr. Collins had left town.

An Important Book " Lost."

A book containing an account of the boarders at the almshouse, which was placed in the hands of the auditors about a week ago, and which was in the auditors' hands yesterday, is to-day reported lost! Mr. Cox says the loss of the book will put the poorhouse authorities to much inconvenience and the county to considerable loss.

The funeral of Andreas Young, the Napoleonie veteran, took place yesterday from his late residence, at Sixth and Cherry streets, and his remains were interred in the German Catholic burnal grounds, on Lancaster avenue, beyond the Reading & Columbia railroad crossing.

The funeral of Mrs. Lindsay, the aged lady who died on Sunday morning, took place this morning from her late residence at Fourth and Locust streets. The cor tege proceeded to Old Donegal cemetery, where the interment was made.

The E. E. Lutheran Sunday-school association met in the lecture room of the church last even in and elected a number of the teachers and officers to fill the vacancies caused by resignations which had been tendered and accepted. There is much disaffection in both church and Sunday-school, and these resignations are the outcome of it.

The entertainment given in Mount Zion A. M. E. church last evening was very much of a success. A programme, consisting of recitations, dialogues, instrumental and vocal music, etc., was acceptably well rendered and will be repeated this evening. At this evening's exhibition a number of young ladies will sing for a prize silver cup. We have not learned who will be appointed judges. The entertainments are for the benefit of the Sunday school connected with the Mount Zion church.

Notwithstanding the many efforts that have been made to remove it the big canal boat, which stack on a rock below the dam a few days ago, an account of which was given in the INTELLIGENCER at the time, still lingers in the same old resting place, and it now begins to look as if the boats will remain where it is until the water falls or until a big rise carries it off. This ship, senator, has not cleared from the White House, nor is its voyage in quest of federal spoils. It is simply bound to a Georgia senator because he has anchored himself in the further trouble was expected.
