LANCASTER, SATURDAY, APRIL 23, 1881.

P. T. Barnum To The Public.

I pledge my personal honor and managerial reputation of nearly fifty years, that never before within the memory of man nor the pages of history, and probably not since the creation of the world, has there been a combination of exhibitions of such a supendous nature as my "GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH," in conjuction with "THE GREAT LONDON SHOWS," that could bear any comparison with ours, either in regard to its unparalleled extent, its wonderful talent, its numerous extraordinary performances, its immense collection of rare living animals and human phenomena, its more than royal gold, silver and enameled equipage, its gorgeous and exceedingly brilliant tout ensemble, the almost incredible amount of money invested in its out fit, and the $5.500 required each day to pay it ordinary expenses.

The Public's Obedient Servant,
P. T. BARNUM.

AN OPEN AVOWAL. Certainly no sane man in or out of the pro-fession would dispute the apparent fact that P. T. BARNUM'S GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH and THE GREAT LONDON CIRCUS, EARTH and THE GREAT LONDON CIRCUS, before the present consolidation, were each individually unequaled in every appointment necessary to make up a periect exhibition. The unprecedented popularity and the unusual success of both more than attests this truth. Then, with the admission which every honest man is compelled to make, is it not just as significantly apparent that the harmonious union of both establishments multiplies their strength and attractiveness twofold, and their strength and attractiveness twofold, and that they are now many times larger than any other twain of the Biggest Snows on Earth? We have little hope that this experimental season will prove a very great financial success to us, because of the tremendous expenses attending such a colossal combination; but, should any loss occur, we are able to stand it, and shall experience lively satisfaction in the gratifying knowledge that we have presented to a liberal and critical public—our friends—fully three times the grandest and greatest tented exhibition ever before organized, and which can never, probably, again have its parallel. their strength and attractiveness twofold, and PHILADELPHIA, April 9.—The court has decided against Gowen in the matter of the late Philadelphia & Reading railroad election and declares Frank S. Bond and the directors chosen at the late meeting, when Gowen declined to vote his proxies, the duly chosen officers of the road. The Decision of the Court.

By Associated Press. PHILADELPHIA, April 9 .- In the court of common pleas No. 2 this morning Judge Hare read the opinion of the court in the equity suit of McCalmont Bros., to estab-lish the legality of the election for officers of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad company held March 4th. The opinion is lengthly and opens with the declaration that the main question involved is whether the election was held under the fourth and fifth section or the twentyfirst section of the charter of the company. The meaning of the sections is reviewed, and the judge declares that all the -arguments of counsel proved that the election was certainly held under one of them. charter imperatively provides in the fourth section that the annual meeting of the stockholders shall be held on the second Monday in January. The fifth section provides that if it shall happen that the election of officers shall not be made it shall be lawful to hold an election any day thereafter by giving ten days notice of the time and place thereof. These two sections are analogous and the delayed meeting should be held at the earliest possible time. The object of the twenty-first section are referred to and the difference between that section which provides for special meetings and the other is defined. The opinion closes by saying that the court is of the opinion that the master's report of the votes of the stockholders, who held stock at least three months prior to the meeting were eligible, and that the persons returned as elected are legally elected. This approves the election of the McCalmont ticket headed by Major Frank Bond as Messrs. Gowen and Johnson, of counsel for the company, have just taken a carriage for Franklin B. Gowen's residence at Mt. Airy to consult him about an appeal to the surface court. A meeting of the board of directors has been called for this afternoon.
