I. O. O. F.

Official Visit to Rawlinsville.

On Saturday afternoon E. J. Erisman, District Deputy Grand Master, accompanied by Past Grand George Spurrier, of Lancaster lodge No 67, J. P. Ackerman, L. DeW. Breneman, Charles A. Young, Frederick Quade and son, of Monterey lodge No. 242, went to Rawlinsville to officially visit Kosciusko lodge No. 374. They were met by a committee and escorted to John Smith's hotel where a most excellent supper was spread in the best style of mine host Smith and wife, after which Albert Hagen, chairman of the committee, announced the time and a committee then escorted them to the lodge room in Odd Fellows hall. The entire unwritten work of the order, including the degree of Rebekah and past official degrees, was then fully exemplified.

The newly installed officers are L. F. Armstrong, N. G., B. N. Jones, V. G.; S. C. Stevenson, Sec.; Sam'l. Hare, Ass't. Secretary; John Monteith, Treas.; Franklin Breneman, Representative to G. L.

The lodge numbers 132 members; paid for relief during last six months, $396; assets, $6,251.05; no liabilities.

The meeting was an interesting one, and all present will remember it with pleasure. Remarks were made by E. J. Erisman and George Spurrier. The meeting adjourned at a late hour and the visiting members returned home well pleased with the workings of the lodge and its members.

Westminster Presbytery.

At the opening of the Westminster presbytery in York this evening the Lancaster church will be represented by Rev. J. Y. Mitchell, D.D., and Elder A. R. Byerly. Besides the regular ministers and elders of the presbytery, Rev. James A. Wordan, of Philadelphia, secretary of the Sabbath school missionary work, will take part in the services. Also, Rev. Dr. Rendall, president of Lincoln university. The opening sermon will be preached this evening by the retiring moderator, Rev. Wm. L. Ledwith, of the Bellevue church, Lancaster county.

Palm Sunday.

Yesterday being Palm Sunday services were held in the Catholic, Episcopal and some other churches, having reference to the event commemorated—Christ's triumphal entry into Jerusalem just before his passion. The churches were generally largely attended. In the Catholic churches the ceremony of distributing branches of palm, which had been blessed by the officiating minister, was the principal feature, every member of the congregation receiving a piece of palm. The present is Passion week; Friday will be Good Friday and a legal holiday, the banks being closed; next Sunday will be Easter.

Unfortunate Boy.

On Friday J. Ira Stanley, aged 8 years, son of Mrs. H. K. Stoner, residing in West Lampeter township, met with a painful accident. He was looking at a man making posts and was standing beside him while at work. He reached into a hole which was being mortised and when he did so the axe descended on his hand, cutting three of the fingers so badly that Dr. Harry Musser found it necessary to amputate them.

Committed to Jail.

Joseph Swem was before Alderman McConomy this morning charged with drunkenness and disorderly conduct. He was committed to jail for 10 days.

On Saturday Constable Warfel brought in from the country two drunken tramps. They were put into the lockup until this morning, when Alderman Barr sent them to jail for 10 days each.

Finger Crushed.

A ten-year-old son of Wm. Scheurenbrand, express driver, while playing with the chopping machine at Henry Doerr's butcher shop, North Water street, had one of his index fingers caught in the gearing and so badly crushed that it will probably have to be amputated.

Assault and Battery.

"Sime" Roberts, colored, has been committed by Alderman A. F. Donnelly, to answer the charge of assault and battery upon Jane Walker, also colored.

Mayor's Court.

This morning the mayor gave two drunks 10 days each, one 12 and one 15. Two paid their costs and one was discharged.

Don't Your Canary Sing?

Then get a bottle of Bird Bitters, which is an unfailing restorer of song and a cure for all diseases of cage birds. If your druggist does not keep it, or will not get it for you, send a postal card to the Bird Food Company, 597 Federal street, Camden, N. J., and they will see that you are supplied. Price, 25 cents.

Amusements.

"Hearts of Oak" To-night.—Under Mr. John D. Mishler's management will be produced at Fulton opera house to-night and to-morrow night the new drama, "Hearts of Oak," by James A. Hearne's company, specially organized for the performance of this play. The piece has been received with favor in Philadelphia, New York, Boston and other large cities. A special feature in its representation is the scenery, which is claimed to be of an uncommonly high order.

The Hyers Sisters.—On Thursday and Friday nights this noted organization will produce the musical drama, "Out of Bondage." From a very complimentary notice of the entertainment in the Albany Argus the following is extracted: "The company throughout is a very excellent one. The singing of Miss Madah was a great surprise to all, her voice is clear, sweet and melodious. She handles the higher notes with comparative ease. Her rendering of the Aria Linde was superb while the celebrated duets from Martha were the best of the evening and carried the audience by storm."

The Bolton House.

The Bolton hotel property in Harrisburg, so long and well managed by the late G. J. Bolton, will be offered at public sale on Tuesday, April 12, 1881, at the court house, Harrisburg, by the executors of the estate of Mr. Bolton, under an order of the orphans' court. At the same time and place the furniture in the hotel will be offered at public sale. 1td

Kidney Complaint Cured.

Bruce Turner, Rochester, N. Y., writes: "I have been for over a year subject to serious disorder of the kidneys, and often unable to attend to business; I procured your Burdock Blood Bitters, and was relieved before half a bottle was used. I intend to continue, as I feel confident that they will entirely cure me." For sale by H. B. Cochran, 137 N. Queen street.

"You Don't Know Their Value."

"They cured me of Ague, Biliousness and Kidney Complaint, as recommended. I had a half bottle left which I used for my two little girls, whom the doctors and neighbors said could not be cured. I am confident I should have lost both of them one night if I had not had the Hop Bitters in my house to use. I found they did them so much good I continued with them, and they are now well. That is why I say you do not know half the value of Hop Bitters, and do not recommend them highly enough."—B., Rochester, N. Y.

A Cough, Cold or Sore Throat should be stopped. Neglect frequently results in an Incurable Lung Disease or Consumption. Brown's Bronchial Troches do not disorder the stomach like cough syrups and balsams, but act directly on the inflamed parts, allaying irritation, give relief in Asthma, Bronchial Coughs, Catarrh, and the Throat Troubles which Singers and Public Speakers are subject to. For thirty years Brown's Bronchial Troches have been recommended by physicians, and always give perfect satisfaction. Having been tested by wide and constant use for nearly an entire generation, they have attained well-merited rank among the few staple remedies of the age. In the Whole History of Medicine

No preparation has ever performed such marvellous cures, or maintained so wide a reputation, as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which is recognized as the world's remedy for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Its long-continued series of wonderful cures in all climates has made it universally known as a safe and reliable agent to employ. Against ordinary colds, which are the forerunners of more serious disorders, it acts speedily and surely, always relieving suffering, and often saving life. The protection it affords, by its timely use in throat and chest disorders, makes it an invaluable remedy to be kept always on hand in every home. No person can afford to be without it, and those who have once used it never will. From their knowledge of its composition and effects, physicians use the CHERRY PECTORAL extensively in their practice, and clergymen recommend it. It is absolutely certain in its remedial effects, and will always cure where cures are possible. For sale by all dealers. apr5-lwdeod&w

COURT PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, The Honorable JOHN B. LIVINGSTON, President, and Honorable DAVID W. PATTERSON, Associate Judge of the Court of Common Pleas, in and for the county of Lancaster, and Assistant Justices of the Courts of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery and Quarter Sessions of the Peace, in and for the county of Lancaster, have issued their precept, to me directed, requiring me, among other things, to make public proclamation throughout my bailiwick, that a Court of Oyer and Terminer and a General Jail Delivery, also a Court of General Quarter Sessions of the Peace and Jail Delivery, will commence in the Court House, in the city of Lancaster in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, on the THIRD MONDAY IN APRIL (18), 1881.

In pursuance of which precept public notice is hereby given to the Mayor and Aldermen of the city of Lancaster, in the said county, and all the Justices of the Peace, the Coroner and Constables, of the said city and county of Lancaster, that they be then and there in their own proper persons, with their rolls, records and examinations, and inquisitions, and their other remembrances, to do those things which to their offices appertain in their behalf to be done; and also all those who will prosecute against the prisoners who are, or then shall be, in the jail of said county of Lancaster, are to be then and there to prosecute against them as shall be just.

Dated at Lancaster the 19th day of March, 1881.

THIRD EDITION.

MONDAY EVENING, APRIL 11, 1881.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—For the Middle states, fair weather, northwesterly winds, shifting to northeast and southeast, a slight rise in temperature, and during the night falling barometer, and Tuesday areas of rains.

FLORAL REWARDS.

Senator Johnston Handsomely Complimented.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 11.—The contest in the Senate has again to-day been made somewhat suggestive of the War of the Roses, the desk of Senator Johnston at the hour of assemblage being literally covered with a floral shield which bore the following inscription:

"Virginians to Virginia's true son. May he continue to shield her honor and traditions from all assaults of her enemies, foreign and domestic."

Windom's Decision Completed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 11.—Secretary Windom's decision on the maturing United States bonds has been completed and is now being printed, as soon as this is done it will be made public. Treasury officials decline to give any indications as to the nature of the plan so be pursued, hence until it is printed, nothing of a definite character can be said on the subject.

It has been decided not to make public the statement prepared by Secretary Windom relative to the maturing bonds until 4 o'clock, when it will be given to representatives of the press simultaneously.

Beaconsfield's Condition.

LONDON, April 11.—Lord Beaconsfield passed a moderately quiet night. His condition is unchanged from yesterday.

A bulletin issued at 11 o'clock this morning says Lord Beaconsfield's strength is somewhat diminished. The condition of the patient is very critical, although the doctors have not abandoned all hope. It was announced at noon that Lord Beaconsfield's condition had in no way improved.

Daring Robbery of a Court House.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, April 11.—A special dispatch to the Times-Star from Little Rock, Ark., says: "A party of masked men yesterday rode into Toledo, a country town sixty miles south of here. One-half surrounded the court house while the others entered the treasury, blew open the safe and stole from $5,000 to $20,000. They all escaped."

Killed By His Wife.

JERSEY CITY, April 11.—Charles Stoke, of Kearney avenue, was found dead in the basement of his home this morning. He and his wife quarreled on Sunday and the woman pushed him down. His head came in contact with a bureau and his skull was fractured. Mrs. Stoke is under arrest, but refuses to say anything.

On a Field of Floating Ice.

MONTREAL, Quebec, April 11.—While a number of persons were crossing the St. Lawrence river on the ice last evening it broke up and they were carried some distance down the river on a field of ice. They were rescued from their perilous position only with great difficulty.

Call Still Speaking.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—In the Senate the unfinished business was a resolution for the election of Senate officers. A motion to go into executive session was defeated by a vote of 19 to 20.

Mr. Call then took the floor in continuance of his speech of Thursday.

The Blackmailer.

NEW YORK, April 11.—Vogel, the blackmail conspirator, was remanded until to-morrow. He will be a witness at Sagert's inquest. He still says he and Sagert were the only men engaged in the plot. The police are still working, however.

Senator Edmunds Back in Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—Senator Edmunds reappeared in the Senate to-day and received many congratulations from his associates on both sides of the chamber upon his return from Florida in restored health.

Stoical Nihilists.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 11.—The convicted Nihilists received their sentences with perfect composure. Sophie Pieoffsky asked that she be dealt with regardless of her sex. Jeliaboff asked that his speech in his defense be printed word for word.

Gettysburg's New Postmaster.

WASHINGTON, April 11.—John McKranth was to-day nominated postmaster at Gettysburg.

Hotel Burned.

WINDSOR, Vt., April 11.—The Ascutney house, owned and occupied by C. O. Duckee, was burned early this morning. Loss, $12,000; insurance $7,000.

A MARINE COLLISION.

A Schooner Sunken and Several Lives Lost

Captain Thrasher, of the Schooner Nathaniel H. Skinner, of Taunton, from Boston for Philadelphia, reports that on the 5th instant his vessel was in collision with the steamer Frederick Brown, of Providence (Captain Small) from New York, with a cargo of retorts, or pipe, and logwood, and that the latter vessel sunk immediately. Nicholas Jeremiah, a seaman, was the only person saved. The captain, mate and wife and children and one seaman were drowned.

The Skinner was running down the cape with a strong northwest wind, among a large fleet of vessels at anchor under the cape, when Capt. Thrasher, who was on the lookout, saw the Frederick Brown for a few minutes, but as she showed no light, he thought she was heading the same way as his own vessel. Directly, however, he found that she was heading for him, and he ordered his wheel hard aport. The rescued seamen, who leaped on board of the Skinner at the moment of collision, states that they had no lookout on the Frederick Brown; that they had lowered the mainsail down to reef it; and went forward to haul the jib down. When they saw the Skinner, he says the mate cried out to the captain, "hard starboard," but almost at once the vessels came together with a fearful crash, cutting in the entire forward port of the Brown, and causing her to sink two minutes later. Lines, he says, were thrown from the Skinner and one man was pulled nearly up the vessel's side, but he failed to retain his hold, dropped into the sea and was drowned. The Skinner remained as near the locality of the accident as possible for two hours. The seaman also says the Brown's side lights had gone out. The names of the lost are unknown. The damage to the Skinner is slight.

A Baptism Before an Execution.

In Waverly, on Friday, John Williams, one of the most desperate negro characters in that part of Tennessee, was hanged for the murder of his wife in 1879. He said that he had experienced a change of heart and was ready to die. At 9:30 o'clock he was taken to a creek near the jail and baptized by Elder Thomas, of the Northern Methodist church. An immense crowd assembled on the banks. At the foot of the bridge the minister commenced the song, "On Jordan's Stormy Banks I Stand," and the colored people in the crowd joined in. As Williams arose from the water he began shouting loudly, and it was with difficulty that the sheriff and guards could hold him. He said he was now ready to die and was willing to go. He was taken back to the jail, where he put on dry clothes. At noon he was taken by Sheriff Collier to the scaffold, about a quarter of a mile from the jail, and shortly afterwards hanged.

Republican Inconsistency.

Colored Republican of Washington, D. C. in Forney's Progress.

You ask me in your card how Mr. [Fred.] Douglass is getting along with his appointment? The President has at last decided to appoint his wife's relative, a Mr. Henry, whoever he may be. Garfield has shown his cloven foot in this matter. He gave us all to understand that he would appoint Mr. Douglass, but now it leaks out that he promised Mr. Henry last winter. Mr. Riddle, who had a talk with the president, discovered that the social question was in the way. Mrs. Garfield wanted some one as marshal who could officiate at the White House, and Mr. Douglass was too dark for her taste. If the president supposes he can ignore a man of the ability and prominence of Douglass, and take up an obscure fellow like Henry, merely to gratify a prejudice, and still retain the respect of the better class of the people he is mistaken. It is evident to me that he has no appreciative sense and does not feel the great obligations he is under to the colored people. It is easy for him to say, as he did yesterday to a delegation of colored men from Baltimore, that no man would be appointed to office because he was "white or colored," but it is a fact that no colored man has as yet been selected for any position.

The Democratic party are fools or they would embrace the present opportunity and bring themselves into power. If they had pledged themselves last year to granting equal rights and equal opportunities to all men without regard to race, they would have won. But fool-like, they adhered to their traditions. A few months will tell all. You need not be surprised if the colored people come to the conclusion that it would be better, far better, that the Democracy should come into power in 1884. Let us look at it. The president has eighty thousand appointments; there are not one hundred colored men who will receive appointments of any importance (I can safely say not ten.) There are over six millions and a half of colored people in the country, and all of these except a few thousand are in the South, under the government of the worst part of the Democratic party and yet they live! Now I would like to know how much worse off they will be if the ten who may be appointed to some office are brought under the same control? None! none! If Garfield was a man brave and true, and a statesman in all that it means, he would have gladly embraced the opportunity he had to have throttled the mean, cowardly prejudice of caste, by reappointing Mr. Douglass, and installing him at the White House. I have been reading the speeches that have been made during the week in the Senate, and I am disgusted with the Republicans who are attempting to make capital out of the outrages that have been or are being perpetrated against the poor, poor colored people of the South. Take four out of five of the men who have made speeches and every one of them would have been found wanting if they were placed in positions where they could give a practical demonstration of this desire to see the people treated properly.

The "Year Without a Summer."

Hartford Times.

We continue to receive occasional inquiries concerning the "year in which there was no summer." Some persons appear to have a wrong idea as to the time. It was the year 1816. It has been called the year "without a summer; for there was a sharp frost in every month. There are old farmers still living in Connecticut who remember it well. It was known as the "year without a summer." The farmers used to refer to it as "eighteen hundred and starve to death." January was mild, as was also February, with the exception of a few days. The greater part of March was cold and boisterous. April opened warm, but grew colder as it advanced, ending with snow and ice and winter cold. In May ice formed half-an-inch thick, buds and flowers were frozen and corn killed. Frost, ice and snow were common in June. Almost every green thing was killed and the fruit was nearly all destroyed. Snow fell to the depth of three inches in New York and Massachusetts, and ten in Maine. July was accompanied with frost and ice. On the 5th ice was formed of the thickness of window glass in New York, New England and Pennsylvania and corn was nearly all destroyed in certain sections. In August ice formed half-an-inch thick. A cold northwest wind prevailed all summer.

Corn was so frozen that a great deal was cut down and dried for fodder. Very little ripened in New England, even here in Connecticut, and scarcely any in the Middle States. Farmers were obliged to pay $4 or $5 a bushel for corn of 1815, for seed for the next Spring's planting. The two weeks in September were mild, the rest of the month was cold, with frost, and ice formed a quarter of an inch thick. October was more than usually cold, with frost and ice. November was cold and blustering, with snow enough for good sleighing. December was quite mild and comfortable.
