OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE

The raft channel, near the "Black Rock " at Turkey Hill, is still closed by the rock which is spoken of in another article, and as a consequence of this a detention to running has necessarily occurred

The employees of the Susquehanna roll-ing mill were paid off this morning for two weeks' work.

The Ladies' aid society of the E. E. Lutheran church gave a sociable in the church lecture room last evening, which was much of a success. The attendance ted to Philadelphia for interment. was much of a success. The attendance was large and a good bit of money was taken in.

Rev. A. H. Long, of Marietta, will preach special sermons in the Church of God to-morrow morning and evening. A new express wagon for the B. & ().,

D. L. & W., and P. & R. railroad companies has just been put in service in Colum-The pocket book containing $17, of which we spoke yesterday as being lost, belonged to J. H. Long and not to J. S. Snyder as we inadvertently stated.

Rev. Samuel Yingling, president of Har-risburg conference of the Lutheran church, will preach for St. John's Lutheran con gregation in Shuler's hall, on Sunday morning at ten o'clock, and in St. Paul's German Lutheran church, Locust street, below Sixth, in the evening at 7:30 o'clock.

There were two sections to the way passenger train west this morning. Both were heavily loaded with emigrants for the far West. Forepaugh's advertising car passed through on the second section.

A Raft Wreck.

Yesterday morning Pilot Harry Stiple left here with a raft on which a party of timbermen with their wives and friends from Binghamton, N. Y., Clearfie'd county, Pa., and other places had taken passage. Closely following Siple's raft were four others piloted by Messrs. Samuel Will and Warren Brown, of Washington borough, and Benjamin Ohmit and Samuel Stover, of Marietta, in the order named. With the first raft, except to note that it got through all right, this article has nothing to do, but with the four others it has. A Columbia gentle-Mr. Miles paying the costs of prosecution man who was making a trip with Pilot Ohmit gave to us what we below give to our readers :

When Will's raft-the first of the four with which we are dealing-reached Turkey Hill it was found that a binder had broken and the raft become unmanageable. Just below the "Black Rock," where the current is strong and the water is swift other places, including Congressman the front end of the (spar) raft caught on Ermentrout and several clergy from the a small island and stuck fast, the other end swinging around until its broadside was turned to the channel, when it, too, stuck. Brown's raft was but a little way behind, and in a moment it piled into the first one, scattering the sticks of timber in all directions but leaping upon and over the portion which is still half fast, and making the barrier more potent than ever. While all this was going on raft No. 3, was bearing down upon the wreck ahead, as yet unaware of the danger in front, but with no possibility of averting it even had it been known. There was another collision, another breaking up of timber and another leap over, when things once more became quiet, but only for an instant, for in another mome at the raft piloted by were made to continue the Finney and Stover showed itself coming around the curve, but a little way up, and it was known that another smash-up was inevit able. Our informant says that at this time he felt there were safer places in the world than just where he stood, but the difficulty was in reaching them. While he was thinking thus the fourth raft crashed into the wreck of the other three with terrible force, and playing havoc with the neatly bound timbers. The lashings were broken and the pieces of wood thrown about in all conceivable shapes and forms, some escaping and going on down the river, but most of them clinging to wreck or to rocks near by. the Some one on shore, noticing the state of affairs, had sufficient presence of mind to run and meet approaching rafts and signal to them before they were drawn into the being the last day of the month, they will run and meet approaching rafts and signal vortex, and this was the only preventive of put on lighter clothing to-morrow. The a still more indiscriminate scatteration of heavy overcoats and caps are to be laid incongruous parts of several wholes. What the loss will be we are not able to figure out, but will not be inconsiderable. The excursionists, to whom we before re-ferred, were fortunate in being on the first raft.

Miss Magee's Funeral. The funeral services of Miss Ellen Magee took place in St. Mary's church at 91 o'clock this morning. Solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Father J. C. Hickey, assisted by Rev. McBride, of Harrisburg, as deacon, and Rev. Father

McKenna, of York, as sub-deacon. Aburred. This morning's market is said to have Dr. McCullough, of St. Mary's who also delivered an eloquent eulogium on the Christian character and walk in life of the deceased. The reverend-elergy in attendance and many other friends at the conclusion of the service followed the remains of the deceased to the Pennsylvania

" Uncle Tom's Cabin."

Last evening the play entitled "Uncle Tom's Cabin," which has been seen here upon several former occasions, was given in the opera house before a large audi ence. The acting was only fair, but it seemed to please. The young lady who played the part of Topsy was a good singer and dancer. It is to be hoped that the city will not be troubled by another

"Uncle Tom " troupe for ten years. The play is too " new " and the troupes that play it are generally bad.

The Juvenile Pinafore Troupe in Trouble The Miles juvenile Pinafore company, which played here on Thursday evening, visited Pottstown on Wednesday and put up at the Madison house. By playing jack-stones all over the house the children did some damage, so the landlord, Hon. John C. Smith, claims, and sued the manager for $10. This the latter refused spices of Rev. Father Kaul, of St. Anthony's, promises to be a decided success. A number of tickets have been already secured both by residents of this city and West. The excursionists will sail from New York on Thursday, May 12.

Almost a Runaway.

This afternoon a horse belonging to a man from the country named Samuel Fisher, which was hitched in front of Sprecher's seed store, on East King street, tore his bridle off and started to run away. George Hunter, the court house janitor, was near by and would not allow the horse to enjoy himself. He caught him by the head and stopped him before any damage was done.

A Heavy Stock and Bondholder of keading who Opposes a Change. PHILADELPHIA, April 30 .- A petition was filed in the clerk's office of the United States circuit court this morning by Sutherland M. Seely, who asks to be allowed to intervene as a party defendant in the three suits now pending in that court against the Philadelphia & Reading railroad company. He states that he is the owner of 10,000 shares of Philadelphia & Reading stock, and of $200,000 of its bonds; and that on January 15 he subscribed for his quota of deferred income bonds, viz., $500,000, on which he paid the first installment on January 29th.

That certain persons claiming to be president and managers are now endeavoring to obtain control of the company, and that in the event of their success they will, in disregard of petitioner's rights, co-operate with McCalmont Bros. & Co., in all mat ters in controversy.

Argument upon the petition asking for the recognition of the new officers of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, presented to the court of common pleas, was post poned on account of illness of plaintiff's counsel.
