

Lancaster Intelligencer.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 13, 1881.

A White Sepulchre. If the hot weather keeps up and the Republican campaign grows in intensity, the public will learn a great deal more than it has yet known of the villainies of the cut-throats and thieves who have for years been managing the politics of this county, dictating the Republican nominations and usurping the right of the people to elect their officers.

MINOR TOPICS. THE Democrats have shown their appreciation of Senator Fry's intemperate tirade by sending fifty thousand copies of it to South Carolina. THE census of 1881, in England, reveals the startling fact that a decrease in the population of rural parishes in the West of the country is going on with a rapidity which threatens almost entire depopulation. Towns are becoming villages and villages hamlets, while hamlets are passing out of existence.

VENON, the Canadian prophet of evil, promised to make it hot for us about this time, and surely the present spell of weather ought to satisfy, the toughest salamander among us, and yet ten days ago ice was piled along the banks of the lower Susquehanna ten feet high. Ice two feet thick was seen yesterday on the banks of the Conestoga—but it was in Pete Fordney's ice house.

PERSONAL. Rev. Dr. JOHN McCARTY, a retired chaplain in the army, has died in Washington, aged 83 years. He was on Gen. Scott's staff in the Mexican war, particularly distinguished himself at the battle of Churubusco, and was known as the "Fighting Parson."

Stanley Matthews. By a vote of 24 to 23, and after an interesting debate, Stanley Matthews was yesterday confirmed a justice of the federal supreme court by the Senate of the United States. We are sorry to say that the Democratic senators must, for the most part, accept the responsibility of this successful consummation of a political intrigue, set on foot by Hayes and helped along by Garfield.

STATE ITEMS. The Lafayette seniors are in a beautiful class quarrel—and Cattell three thousand miles away. The Philadelphia jury in the suit of Robert Orr against Jacob E. Ridgway for damages for the death of his three children by the collision with Ridgway's yacht, returned a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $1,500.

Attacked by a Lion. In Erie during the street procession of Forepaugh's circus yesterday a great stampede of hundreds of people caused by a lion's attack upon M. J. Forepaugh, who was seated in the cage between two lions.

THE Examiner tells nothing new when it says that after Strine had been nominated for sheriff the friends of High expressed a willingness to pay several thousand dollars to have him counted in and Strine counted out. That is doubtless the fact. But the Examiner has brought into subjection again. Quite a number of small accidents also occurred. The tableau wagon, valued at $10,000, was smashed by a freight train.

LATEST NEWS BY MAIL. Great distress is caused in Archangel by the overflow of the Dvina.

A six-year-old boy was killed at Chippewa, Mass., by a cake of ice falling upon him from an ice wagon.

At Augusta, Me., yesterday, Merrill, was found guilty of the murder of his mother.

Five children in the family of John Van Gordon, at Matamoros, near Port Jervis, New York, have been made very sick by drinking water from an unused well, one of them is likely to die from its effects.

In Burton, W. Va., four men broke into the house of Mr. McMillen, a newly married man, seized and bound him, and then in his presence assaulted his wife. Brant, O'Neal and James and John McGaffey had been arrested as the perpetrators.

A fire in Haymarket Block, Boston, yesterday, destroyed about $100,000 worth of property. The chief losses were the heirs of S. P. Langward, Walter H. Durrell, Holme and Blanchard, and Mulliken & Co.

Still braving sun-stroke: At Buffalo—Boston, 5; Buffalo, 4; Chicago, 4; Detroit, 5; Providence, 8; Cleveland, 3; At New York—Metropolitan, 5; Washington, 3; At Cambridge, Mass.—Harvard, 10; Dartmouth, 4.

In Spartanburg county, S. C., Borryman W. Hicks, a white man thirty years of age, killed his wife, Mary, by striking her throat. He then made two desperate attempts at suicide by cutting his own throat, inflicting dangerous wounds. The alleged motive for the murder was the infidelity of his wife.

At a recent election for trustees of the state normal school at Chambersburg, Pa., Best, A. N. Raul, and T. C. Hippie were re-elected stockholders trustees, and J. F. Clark in place of E. P. McCormick, removed to Philadelphia. Governor Curtin, Hon. J. E. Hall, of Elk, and E. A. Irwin, esq., of Cleveland, were re-elected alternate trustees. From these the state superintendent will elect two.

In Springfield, Mo., a young man recently visited the residence of Mrs. Thomas, a widow, and tried to persuade her daughter to elope with him. The girl refused, whereupon he threatened her with a pistol to go. He threatened to kill the family unless she complied, and went so far as to point a pistol at her mother. The widow seized a shotgun. She shot him through the head, killing him instantly. She was exonerated by the examining court.

Near Abbeville, S. C., Adolphus Masham a youth of 16, attempted to ride a mule over a dangerous swamp on Mr. J. C. Lile's plantation. He knew that the place had the reputation of being full of quicksand, but insisted on going. Later the day several were heard from the direction of the swamp, and a party of men ventured as near as they dared. By means of boards they reached the neighborhood of the sound, but could only see the mule's head about the mire. No trace of the boy can be found.

THE LEGISLATURE. Proceedings at Harrisburg Yesterday. In the state Senate the House free oil pipe bill was reported with amendments. The House bill permitting corporations to sell or mortgage their real estate and franchises was also reported favorably.

Paterson's Circus Craze. It cost Paterson $50,000 on Friday to see a circus—one dollar for every man, woman and child of its entire population. Twenty thousand factory hands lost $25,000 in wages by their absence from the shop. At a silk mill employing 1,000 hands only six were at work.

Speaks the Going. Lord Lorne is said to be thinking of resigning the governorship of Canada before the expiration of his term of office. From all we can learn his departure will not be a cause of grief to the Canadians. It is a dull fellow, unpleasant in manners as well as in appearance, and possessing none of the qualities in vogue that were possessed by his predecessor, Lord Dufferin. His wife, the Princess Louise, whose frequent separations from him have caused much gloom, is also said to be thinking of leaving Canada, and neither the royal highness nor her husband will be regretted when they leave Canada.

THE REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN. Examination of the Heated Term. Examiner, Mentzer-McMellen Organ.

This is the same High who, in 1878, was a candidate for sheriff on the "reform combination" ticket of Geist, McMellen, Ed. Martin, Mentzer and Groff, and who was elected to the "pool" $1,000, and was willing to "utilize" several more thousand after the primary had decided in favor of Strine for sheriff.

USE A DISTRICT. Examiner, Know-how-it-is-himself Organ. If an honest Republican, who is without fear of contamination will visit the den of Levi Sensenig on next Monday he will find that the "reform" party is in a state of confusion. If he put on the boss how he can "fix" up his district he can transfer from Levi's "jacket pocket" to his own $50 in a twinkling. All Levi's own money, too, in a horn!

THE CONTRACT PRIZE. Examiner, Late Sensenig's paper. The association has "reformed" Sensenig and his candidate for sheriff, Levi Sensenig, in the county through his rotten bridge contracts, and now now conducts his thefts by robbing them through illegal fees in the probatory office, and making good his bad investments in Tom Davis by collecting his fees as district attorney on the same case, and the treasurer, never allowing him to handle his own earnings lest they should be carried to New York and gambled away as was done before.

THE CONTRACT PRIZE. Examiner, Late Sensenig's paper. The association has "reformed" Sensenig and his candidate for sheriff, Levi Sensenig, in the county through his rotten bridge contracts, and now now conducts his thefts by robbing them through illegal fees in the probatory office, and making good his bad investments in Tom Davis by collecting his fees as district attorney on the same case, and the treasurer, never allowing him to handle his own earnings lest they should be carried to New York and gambled away as was done before.

THE CONTRACT PRIZE. Examiner, Late Sensenig's paper. The association has "reformed" Sensenig and his candidate for sheriff, Levi Sensenig, in the county through his rotten bridge contracts, and now now conducts his thefts by robbing them through illegal fees in the probatory office, and making good his bad investments in Tom Davis by collecting his fees as district attorney on the same case, and the treasurer, never allowing him to handle his own earnings lest they should be carried to New York and gambled away as was done before.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE. John Adams, alias Adam Keller, who wandered through Lancaster, Lebanon and Berks counties for a number of years, died on Tuesday morning at the public house of John Mertz, Stoneburg. Adam used to dig herbs and roots through the woods and sell them to the doctors and druggists. Papers in the pockets of the deceased indicate that his name is John Adams, although he gave it as Adam Keller. His age was about 45 years.

Suprise Party. Last evening the members of the choir of St. Stephen's Lutheran church in charge of their leader, Adam Oberlin, took a moonlight drive to the residence of their fellow member, Mr. George Ziegler, who resides on the Harrisburg turnpike near the first gate. Arrived at their destination they had a very pleasant evening, feasting, singing playing and promenading in the spacious grounds attached to Mr. Ziegler's residence. On their return to the city they were driven to Mr. Oberlin's, where another surprise greeted them, and a very pleasant evening was arranged by that gentleman's family. "We" hours arrived before the pleasant party broke up.

Commemoration Orators. The alumni orator at the approaching commencement of Franklin and Marshall college will be Rev. J. Spangler Kieffer, of Hagerstown, Md. The oration before the literary societies will be delivered by Rev. C. W. Weiser, D. D. Rev. J. Y. Mitchell, D. D., of this city, will deliver the address before the college, Seneca College, at the commencement of Pennsylvania college J. Hay Brown, esq., will be alumni orator.

Will Visit the Cornwall Ore Mills. To-morrow afternoon Gov. Hoyt, about eight or nine state senators, and several of the supreme court judges, will visit Cornwall, Pa., to see the iron works at that place and see the wonderful deposit of iron ore which is scarcely equalled in any in the United States.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

Dr. Curwen, Atlee and others recounted their experience in the treatment of insane women, and concurred generally with the views advanced by Dr. Goodell. Dr. Benjamin Lee, of Philadelphia, delivered an "Address in Hygiene"—the medicine of the future—as he termed it. He vividly portrayed the horrors of filthy streets, teeming as they are with all manner of animal and vegetable deposits, which ferment and decompose, and are ground up into impalpable powder, filling the air with clouds of dust at every breath of wind—the millions of poisonous or disgusting atoms being breathed into the lungs and blown into office and dwelling through every crevice, tainting the air inside as well as outside our habitations.

Dr. Lee presented a brief report from the committee on plumbing and drainage, and the committee was discharged. Dr. R. G. Curtin of Philadelphia read a paper on "Catarrhal Inflammation of the Pancreas," and Dr. L. N. Sively, of Franklin county, a paper on "Hygiene in its relation to the city authorities employ an army of men, who, with hickory brooms set in motion the particles of the wind left undisturbed and thus assist in scattering them broad-cast; and then the carriers some days after, fill the air with their shovels. Instead of pursuing this ridiculous plan Dr. Lee advised that the army of scavengers should be deployed as skirmishers through all parts of the city, each armed with a broom and a shovel, and instead of waiting until the horse manure and other filth has been ground to powder, to remove them at once and thus prevent the poisoning of the air we breathe.

Dr. Leffman, of Philadelphia, in a spirited speech, disputed the safety and utility of the application of iodine, as recommended by Dr. Lee. He stated that iodine, when applied to the skin, is absorbed, and enters the system, and is excreted in the urine, and is a powerful irritant, and is a source of danger to the patient. He stated that he had seen many cases of iodine poisoning, and that he had seen many cases of iodine poisoning, and that he had seen many cases of iodine poisoning.

Dr. O'Neal would hesitate to adopt Dr. Atlee's treatment for fear that ankylosis and damages for a stiff joint might be the result. Dr. Ulrich defended Dr. Atlee's practice and said Dr. Atlee's practice, who had treated successfully several cases of fracture of the elbow by bandaging the arm in an extensor position, without splints, was not new; that as long ago as the days of Dr. Physik and Dr. Dorsey substantially the same practice was followed.

Dr. O'Neal would hesitate to adopt Dr. Atlee's treatment for fear that ankylosis and damages for a stiff joint might be the result. Dr. Ulrich defended Dr. Atlee's practice and said Dr. Atlee's practice, who had treated successfully several cases of fracture of the elbow by bandaging the arm in an extensor position, without splints, was not new; that as long ago as the days of Dr. Physik and Dr. Dorsey substantially the same practice was followed.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.

THE DOCTORS. Thursday Afternoon. The nominating committee not being ready to report at 2 o'clock, the order of business was somewhat changed and Dr. Wm. Goodell, of Philadelphia, read a paper "On the extirpation of the ovaries for insanity." He described the treatment followed by him in several cases, and in the course of his remarks advanced the rather startling suggestion that it might rather be found necessary to "stamp out" insanity in men as well as women by operations for the removal of the procreative principle and thus prevent the transmission of the taint of insanity to generations yet unborn.