The Confession Which Brandt and Hum-mel Left Behind Them.

THE RABER MURDER

WATCHES. Oue year ago Charles Drews, Frank Stichter, Henry Wise, Israel Brandt and Josiah Hummel were hanged for the murder of Joseph Raber in the northern portion of Lebanon county, in order to secure the insurance money on his life amounting to $11,000. An important sequel has just been made public in the confession of Brandt and Hummel, two of the conspirators, who requested their spiritual advisor, Rev. George F. Trabert, and counsel, Colonel J. P. S. Gobin, not to furnish the same for publication until one year after their death. Brandt was the hotel keeper at whose inn the conspirators met and conceived their scheme. He charges that the project was broached by Henry Wise, who effected the insurances on Raber's life, and that George Zechman, most active one in carrying out what Wise had planned. Brandt's reason for requesting that his confession be withheld was that it implicated Zechman and hence he desired a delay of a year in its publication. Hummel states that Wise was the instigator of the scheme and used his utmost endeavors to interest others in the project. Zechman met Hummel at Wise's house and made arrangements for the insuring of Raber and then working A heavy and much-needed rain fell dur-ing most of last night, and the look of insurances on Raber's life and Drew was to order the killing of Raber upon a cer tain day, but he failed to find Drews at home. On the next day Hummel went to Brandt's and asked the latter whether Drews would do the deed and was told that it would be done that week. Drews wanted $1,500 for drowning Raber, but the sum was considered too high, and Hummel felt that as far as he was concerned the project was abandoned. Zechman. the only one of the six conspirators who escaped the law, five having suffered the penalty of death, is now engaged in farm-ing in Upper Bern township, Berks county.

Volunteer Firemen's Insurance Company. The committee on insurance, appointed by the Pennsylvania State Firemen's association, met vesterday at the office of Maj. S. E. Ancona, Reading, of the committee. The other members present were J. K. Barr, of Lancaster, chairman ; Samuel H. Ettla, of Harrisburg, and John Slingluff, of Norristown. Henry A. Derr, of Nor-ristown, president, and William W. Wunder, secretary of the State Firemen's association, were also present. The committee agreed upon a plan of organization under the general insurance act of May 1, 1876, and will report the same for mixing up the proceedings of the last to the state firemen's convention which regular meeting. Fortunately we es meets in Reading in September. The name proposed for the new organization is "The Volunteer Firemen's Insurance Company of Pennsylvania." The capital stock was fixed at $200,000-in 4,000 shares of $50 each, books for which will be opened at the time of the convention, September 20 and 21. Privilege to subscribe for shares of stock will be given first to the several volunteer fire companies of the state in their organized capacity ; next to the individual members of said companies; and finally said "they look like the Raber murder- ready for organization, and if they are give them all the stronger claim to be consulted in the matter of appointments in their state. When it comes to filling the most influential office in their state without consulting these senators it is a great slight. When he selects the most -offensive man to be found it be-comes an insult and ought to be resented to the bitter end. I sincerely hope the president will see this and correct his mistake himself, and restore harmony to the party. He owes this to himself and to those without whom he could not have been elected. Nobody believes that he could have carried the state of New York without the active support of her present senators. Their passive support would not have answered. Without the state of New York General Garfield would not now be president. His rewarding Robertson is not only offensive to the New York Senators, but it is offensive to New York

THE GEMRIS INSURANCE.

One of the Harrisburg Mutuals Investigate

The Reading Eagle says that Mr. Henry Hoverter, general agent of the State Capital Mutual aid association, of Harrisburg, was in Reading yesterday and made a thorough investigation into all the circumstances attending the insurance of old Mrs. Gehris, and said it was the worst case he had ever heard of. Mr. Hoverter stated that the president of the State Capital had told him that if affidavits could be produced which would tend to substantiate what was alleged, the parties who had effected the insurance would be arrested for conspiracy. Mr. Hoverter left for Harrisburg early this morning to confer with the officials of the company and promised to return this evening or to-morrow, when he would promptly have the parties taken into custody. Last evening he visited Benja-man Gehris, a son of the deceased, who first brought his father's case to the notice of the public, and took him and his wife, Rebeeca Gehris, before Alderman Maxton, where they made affidavit as to the physical condition of Mr. Gehris immediately before the insurance. They set forth that the old man was eighty-five years old, that he had been sick for the past four or five years, and unable to work during that time; also, that he had been bed-ridden for the past nine or ten months ; that he was afflicted with a complication of dis eases, among them hemorrhage and gangrene, his toes being almost ready to drop off, and that he was at death's door when insured which was done without the consent of the old man or his children.

Mr. Hoverter has also ascertained that the old man was insured for upwards of $30,000 in other companies. The sum of $5,000 is held by a man residing in Baumstown, the remainder by the two men who accompanied Dr. Yorgey to Daniel Gehris' house. The case when fully developed, Alderman Maxton says, will be one of the most startling unearthed yet-how the parties had agreed to recommend whisky to tone up the old man's system, so as to stimulate and keep him alive long enough to have the insurance effected, as it was feared he might die before the policy was drawn up, and how the men who had the old man insured agreed even to have the date of the policy set back if he should die before it was drawn up. All these facts will be more fully developed when Hoverter returns from Harrisburg with instructions from the State Capital's officers.

The synod of the Northern Province of the Moravian church of North America convened in Bethlehem, Tuesday fore-noon, Rt. Rev. E. de Schwelnitz presid ing. Subsequently the bishop was elected permanent president, and Rev. Morris Seibert, secretary, and Revs. A. Schultz and Morris Seibert, assistant secretaries The reading of the credentials showed a representation to be present of 93 out of a membership of 111. Bishop de Schweinitz delivered a short address of welcome, in which he referred to the financial condition of the church, which is not just what could be desired. The synodical sermons will be delivered by Rev. Charles B. Schultz, of Bethlehem, in English, and Rev. Charles Nagle, of Lititz, in German. Fatal Coincidence.

It may be noted as a singular incident of the campaign that several of the prominent candidates have suffered severe family afflictions during the canvass : Jacob C. broke an axle at East Penn Junction at five o'clock this morning and the train was set on fire. Four tanks, each containing 3,500 gallons of crude oil, were burned. Nine freight cars were also burned, and the track was destroyed for a listance of one hundred feet.

Two Fatalities.

ALTOONA, May 18 .- Samuel Black, miller at Spring Meadow, Bedford county, was caught in the belting and mangled to death. He was aged 35 and leaves a widow and five children, one of them only two weeks old. Henry Reep, aged 12, of Allegrippus, while on his way to spend the night at a signal tower was thrown under a train which he tried to board and cut to pieces. HENRY F. HARTMAN (Lime Burner), of Mrs. Ga field Out of Danger. WASHINGTON, May 19.-Dr. Boynton, the attending physician, says of Mrs. Gar-MARTIN HILDEBRANT, of Mount Joy
