The Return Judges. Early this morning the town began to fill up with politicians and there was lively "chinning" and vivid reports of "count in" and "count out" at every head-quarters. The McMellen people bent themselves to securing control of the board of return judges, and got their work in, although as other events showed they hadn't a majority of that body. Pretty soon Umble's election and Kready's defeat came to be conceded, but on a full count Skiles's election was denied, and Fridy's friends took courage at the report of his 178 majority on the face of the returns, and chances to prove as much fraud against him as the other side could show in his behalf.

The doors of Fulton hall were not opened until 11:30, and then the crowd rushed pell-mell, but found that a strong body of police had been stationed in various parts of the hall guarding the aproaches to the parquet and to the stage. Upon the stage were a few reporters, and

J. W. Johnson and Al. Shenck. Johnson and Shenck rose simultaneous ly to call the meeting to order, Johnson claiming to have been deputized for that purpose by B. Frank Eshleman, chairman of the committee, and Shenck claiming that, being one of the secretaries of the county committee, he was the proper party to call to order.

Indescribable yells greeted both these gentlemen as they attempted to addrsss proposed Lewis S. Hartman and Captain John R. Bricker, to count the votes cast for permanent president.

push him off the stage." Tom Cochran finally made a motion, which was agreed to, that J. W. Johnson and Al. Shenck act jointly in the organization of the meeting. Lew Hartman and Stober both took seats and the temporary organization was completed by selecting Kirk Brown and Al. Shenck as secretaries.

Comparative quiet having been secured, the list of election districts was called over by Johnson, the return judge from each district arising as he voted for permanent president between S. J. Henderson (Sensenig) and John A. Stober (McMellen). Every vote was received by cheers and hisses, no matter on which side it was cast. The call was interrupted and the count disputed half a dozen times, but finally came to a close, Pequea township and the Third ward, city, being omitted from the count because of contests. The clerks agreed in their tally that. Stober had 35 votes and Henderson 34 votes. The result was received with yells of detight and derision. Mount Joy Upper was the only district not represented.

Mr. Stober, on taking the chair, made a brief speech saying that he hoped every thing would be conducted honestly and fairly. He said that the committee on contested seats should be appointed by the judges themselves. He wanted the judges to remember that this was not a contest for office, (laughter), but that the people of Lancaster county are looking upon us. (A voice, "Let them look and be - " followed by roars of laughter and calls on the president to sit down, which were carried by yells of approval.) President Stober concluded his speech by inviting Vice President Henderson to a seat upon the stage.

Al. F. Shenk, Al. S. Edwards and W. S. Smith were chosen clerks by the Examiner faction and J. W. Johnson, G.C. Kennedy and W. F. Beyer on part of the Era fac-For the committee on contests the Examiner faction put in nomination Samuel Evans, H. H. Kurtz, J. P. Albright and Amos Gast, and the New Era men named F. B. Musselman, George A. Wallace, Jacob Halbach and Winfield S. Burns for the same committee. Under the rules seven of the above eight constitute the committee.

The vote was taken by districts, and it appeared that somebody went back on the Examiner people, as the lowest of the Era candidates had 35 votes and of the Examiner men (Amos Gast) only 33 votes, so he was left out in the cold. Warwick is said to be the district that changed the vote. The result was received with great cheering by the "Reformers."

The judges were then called upon for their returns, and all that were not objected to were received by the officers of the Following is a list of the districts whose

The chairman declined to put the question on the appeal from his decision, and named Zook, of Warwick, as the third member of the committee. He declined amid the cheers of the Sensenig gang, and Stober appointed W. K. Beard, whom the sensenig people vigorously hissed.

Then arose another wild scene over a attempt to rescind the appointment of this committee, which was manifestly in Fridy's interest. At 3 p. m. all is confusion and uproar between two gangs of howling strikers. After a terrific row Stober put the mo

A wild uproar arose All the while the bosses were busy working with weak judges and Sensenig, Johnson and the heelers on both sides were velling to the limit of their lung power.

At 3:40 Stober weakened, brow-beaten by the demonstrations of the Sensenig 'killers," and declared the whole matter postponed and that the committee of three would not act, (Loud cheers from Sensenig's friends,) and the committee of seven, controlled by Skiles men, proud ly marched out of the hall to count him in, amid the cheers of one side and the groan of the other.

At this writing, 4 p. m., this committee is in session and the board is hearing and counting the uncontested returns.

Harry Yeisley, as he was common called, an account of whose sad misfor tune by the breaking of a scaffold upor which he was standing while engaged in some carpenter work, appeared in this paper on Saturday, died at his father's residence on North Mary street, on Saturday evening, from the effects of the injuries received in his terrible fall. The young man remained in an unconscious condition up to the moment of final dissolution. His fatal hurt consisted of a fractured skull and internal injuries. Coroner Mishler held an inquest on the remains of the deceased this morning. The jury was composed of H. H. Betz, J. A. Schuh, H. R. Mishler, Jacob Frank ford, John G. Hood and Christian Troyer. The verdiot was that the deceased "came

The Republican primary election of Saturday in Columbia was not marked with liveliness or anything near thereto, but on the contrary was as dull and quiet an affair as can well be imagined. There was little or no excitement and none of the bitterness of factional spirit. About 625 votes were polled. None of the caudidates for prominent offices being from Columbia, what might have given the thing a better spice was utterly lacking.
