DRY GOODS.

LINENS.

LINENS!

We have received new linens from Belfast, Dunterline, Lisle, Brussels, Ghent, Silesia, Bohemia. We have ransacked all Europe for linens, and have a variety of both fabric and finish that could not be gathered in the American market. The goods are fresh, too. That's important; for linens brought in New York may be several years old, and you know starched linens do not improve by age. The dressings used by the manufacturers is not so destructive as starch; but it does injure the fabric in time. We have another advantage in prices. We gain the importer's profit.

The result is we get the best linens in the world, in the best possible condition, and for the least money anybody can get them for. We can give you the importers' profit, and still have enough left.

Now it is proper for to consider that somebody else may be doing the same thing, and afford the very same advantages. So, if you please, whatever you wish to buy get samples of it from us and from others, and compare.

Or buy our goods, if you like; and if you can do as well elsewhere, bring ours back. This is rather a brave challenge; for, you know nobody wants remnants.

The linens now in are sheeting, pillow, bolster and shirting linens, towels, toweling, doilies, napkins, table cloths and table linens.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

The Lower End Tobacco Crop.

Although the tobacco crop of the southern part of the county was by odds the largest ever grown there is not now under 100 per cent. The fact that last year there were a host of buyers operating there, buying all as they went.

Of course the greater part of the fine goods were sold early, but up to this time very few really fine goods have been left.

Those buyers who bought early claim, and their purchasers in this section are the best goods packed this season, and those buying now seem to be pleased with their purchases. Among the largest late buyers are John DeHaven for Hay & Smith, John Eger for D. S. Kendig, E. H. Kaufman, Douglas & Co., and an entirely new party from Boston whose name we have not learned, and who buy from the farmer and have it packed loosely in cases for shipping to Boston, where he has it all re-handled. Among his purchases are a 5 acre crop from Dr. R. W. Clark, Chestnut Level, at 11, 5, 3; DeHaven has bought from Howard Patterson 1 acre in Little Britain at 9, 4, 2; Jno.

Hastings, at Mechanics Grove, 1 acre at 8, 4, 2; Gibson Sutton, 3 acres at 9, 4, 2; Kaufman bought John Snyder's 2 acres in Drumore at 10, 3, 2;

John Hoffman's 1 acre at 6, 2; Michael Wesley's 1/2 acre at 12, 5, 3. Eger bought

Wm. Showalter's 4 acres in Fulton for 10, 5, 3; Samuel Nitsley, of Drumore, has sold ten acres to Gingrich, of Petersburg, at 15, 12, 5, 3; Albert Heidebaugh, of Bart, has sold to Pheneagar, of Strasburg, 5 acres at 13, 5, 3; Jas. Swisher, of Kirkwood, sold to Herr 2 acres at 10, 3; C.

Acheson has sold to DeHaven two lots of 2 acres each at 10, 4, 2.

Plants are getting finely; there is considerable complaint of fleas. Some beds have been ruined by them, and in some places there will be a scarcity. We have seen several parties planting this last week, and may see a large portion of it planted, but there will not be anything like as much put out in the lower end as last year.

Sehmer & Kreider have bought very heavily in Colerain during the last few weeks at fair prices and have secured some good tobacco. They are said to be a good deal of tobacco to sell about Wrightsdale in the extreme south end of the county.

—BART ITEMS.

The News from Around Georgetown.

The principal interest of late has been in the Republican primary, and scarcely a day for the past two or three weeks failed to bring one or more of the army of candidates into our township, and especially into the village of Georgetown. Monday, the 16th inst., being the day for distributing the money, found the mainstay of the party of "advanced moral ideas" in the city ready to receive the amount due to the "intelligent voters" of Bart. That is, the amount necessary to assist these "intelligent moral voters" in deciding which candidate is the most competent to fill the office to which he aspires.

The best argument in favor of a candidate ever produced in this township in this "advanced moral" party is a liberal sprinkling of greenbacks.

It generally brings out a feeling of undying patriotism, and the moral ideas of the stolic politician and brings Campbell's "darks" into serious consultation around convenient corners. The only visible defect about this money argument, is that some of the less intelligent members of the "intelligent moral party" are so thick in the cranium that they cannot see why two or three men in the township get all the stamps and never say "beer, boys," while they must vote as directed and "beer" themselves.

Another, a lady, says, "She'll be bound if she can see how a man can make it pay to go to Lancaster six times and only get $10."

Tobacco planting is at hand and the prospects are favorable for a large acreage in this township. Plants are more than a month older at doing well, although about 10 days later than former years. Nearly all last year's crop is bought up in this section so close that it being sold at a low figure.

Milton Heidebaugh sold his crop of about 6 acres to Diller & Ritter at 15, 4, 2; H. P. Bangham sold to Smith at 15, 6, 3; Samuel Pickle sold to Martin & Fritz at 13, 4, 2. Several other lots have been sold to different parties at prices ranging from 6 to 20 for wrappers, 3 to 7 for seconds and 2 to 4 for fillers.

Martin & Fritz are working 12 hands and getting their first purchases out of the way for more than has been bought by them for future deliveries. Their prices range from 10 to 20 cents for wrappers and the usual prices for seconds and fillers. A great 'rel' of it is bought as equal amounts of wrappers, seconds and fillers.

—"Peach Plucks."

The "plucks" begin to move towards the Eastern Shore about the middle of July, and when assembled on a farm for work at picking peaches, where fifteen or twenty thousand bushels are to be marketed in a few weeks, they represent the world on a small scale. There are few countries but what are packed, and all classes of society. One is reminded of the saying that extremes meet, for in a peach orchard all characters can be found; some who bear evidence of refinement, education and culture, and others just the reverse. Some will be seen during idle moments taking notes, or recording their passing thoughts in their diaries; others playing cards, and of this class there are many who will work hard all the week and before the Sunday passes every cent will be in the pockets of the successful gambler. Others will leave for the city, spend their money for whisky and return without a cent. Another portion will stroll to some relaxed place, and quietly sit for hours as if in deep meditation about their homes, or perhaps their distracted families. A few will carefully save every cent as closely as a miser, promising themselves to be reformed men, and I have no doubt entertain a fond hope of a reunion with some loved wife and children, and yet may fall within sight of the desire of their heart.

What has brought about this migrating army of peach plucks, with all the misery and degraded manhood that follows such a condition? Foul whisky tells the tale.

Yet it is a fact that some will not touch it while the season lasts, even refusing the usual free drink in the morning that some dispense as an inducement to be on hand as the sun peeps up; but few, very few, are among the missing. It may seem strange, yet I have been told that as a general thing these plucks are honest—at least that nothing is ever missed, although every chance is offered for stealing. In some orchards regular sheds are erected, with berths in them, and in other cases barn lofts and other buildings are used for sleeping in. With many, Sunday is dreaded, as they would prefer working; but our farmers, as a rule, forbid work on the Sabbath. With those who would prefer working the day is a dull one, but they will select some relaxed place to play cards all day, blacks and whites mingled together. Others under no circumstances would touch a peach or card on Sunday. It is amusing to see with what earnestness some of them will assort peaches—a defective peach seems to stick to their fingers as if by magic.—A. P. S., Rock Hill, Md.

—Making Butter.

A man who resides in the suburbs of Oil

City recently purchased some oleomargarine.

He didn't know it until after he had had eaten it. That made him mad. Of
