

Lancaster Intelligencer. SATURDAY EVENING, MAY 28, 1881. TIMELY TOPICS. MOSTLY OF A RELIGIOUS NATURE.

Facts, Opinions, Suggestions and Reviews. Mr. BERCHER's organ, the Christian Union, thinks President Garfield did wrong and ought to be ashamed of him self. But even that does not settle it.

JEFFERSON DAVIS, when asked his views respecting the new version, stated that he was sorry to see any change in the New Testament. "That is one document about all others sacred in itself and any attempt to change it seems almost sacrilegious."

Mr. L. L. WARREN, of Louisville, Ky., has given $40,000 to the Presbyterian Broadway tabernacle of that city, and some of his friends have made up $16,000 additional, thus relieving the church from all debt.

In commenting on the revised New Testament, the Episcopal Register says: "It is very satisfactory to know that the new translation does not invalidate any essential doctrine of our faith, and consequently any controversies which may arise with regard to the accuracy of new readings will not lead to sectarian disputes."

In the King James version of the New Testament the word "Calvary" is found only in St. Luke, xliii, 33. The revised version wipes it out, substituting "the skull." The word "atonement" appears but once in the authorized version of 1611—in Romans, v, 11. The revised version displaces it by "reconciliation," therein agreeing with the Douay Bible.

In their episcopal address, the United Brethren bishops point to the prosperity of the church in the past quadrennium. There has been an increase of 14,496 members and 333 houses of worship. There has also been an improvement in the finances of the church. The total of members is upward of 150,000, and the amount raised for preachers' salaries in 1880 was $965,000.

A VALUABLE office for the cause of art and popular refinement is served by such journals as the Art Amateur, a monthly devoted to the cultivation of art in the household and published by Montague Marks, at No. 20 East 14th street, New York. Its plates alone are worth its subscription price and the letter press is as artistic as the text is valuable for description, suggestion, historical review and household enrichment.

Mr. J. H. WADE, of Cleveland, Ohio, is about to present to that city a fine park, containing over 100 acres, and situated at Euclid avenue and Doan street. Adjoining it, and fronting on Euclid avenue, there are eight or ten acres of cleared land which he retains with the intention of erecting thereon a college or other educational institution. Mr. Wade has maintained this park at his own expense for several years. It is valued at $500,000.

The passion for collecting springs eternal in the human breast. At the sale of the personal effects of the late Judge Forbes, of Northampton, Mass., it was found that he left behind him twenty-eight razors, thirteen pocket knives, four portable writing desks, with a large assortment of toilet cases, pocketbooks, drafting instruments, field and opera glasses, seven stands and various other things in plenty.

his manifest disadvantage by a newcomer. The Chinese treaty was under discussion. Hoar quoted St. Paul's declaration: "For God had made of one blood all the nations of the earth." Senator Miller, of California, exclaimed: "Go on—quote the remainder of the sentence." "There is no more of it," said Hoar. "Oh, yes, there is," rejoined General Miller, "for the Apostle Paul said in addition to the words which the senator has just quoted 'and hath determined the bonds of their habitation.'" This was greeted by the Senate with peals of laughter, overwhelming the Massachusetts senator with confusion.

In New York the aesthetic craze seems to be at its height. A single flower of large size is now worn on the waist of a lady's dress, not a bunch, because it is in agreement with some rule of high art. Another freak of fashion is to wear an embroidered butterfly on one sleeve of a dress. Jewelry seems to run in the form of snakes, lizards and the claws of birds. A pretty girl wears a bonnet made of silvered silk, with leaves and flowers of silver material fastened to one side with a silver turkey claw. What are called "theatre bonnets" are made entirely of flowers. One worn by a lady of fashion is composed of a purple pansy, one flower alone, the centre of the flower being on the top of the head, the purple and yellow leaves drooping gracefully over her golden hair. But usually these bonnets are made of flowers of a kind, say roses, violets and lilies of the valley, with a few green leaves, and are tied with long lace strings under the chin.

The Universalist churches have never in any equal period paid off as much indebtedness as during the year which will end June 30. It follows, therefore, that they have never raised so much money in any year, and it follows again either that they were never so able or else never so willing. In either case their condition is improved and their promise greater than ever before. This debt-paying infection has not been confined to any particular section. Its area reaches from Maine to Illinois, the sums ranging from $37,000 down to $65. In the meantime they are building the Fisher memorial hall, at Canton, N. Y., and laying the first bricks for a $100,000 endowment, paying off the debt at Buchtel, Ohio, and securing an additional $40,000 endowment; raising a large sum for new endowment and possibly for a new foundation at Lombard University, and making progress on the last half of the $150,000 to be added to the endowment of Tufts college.

The erudite New York World declares that the "so-called Gospel to the Hebrews," it is affirmed by Epiphanius, was "the complete Gospel of Matthew in Hebrew and was preserved among the Nazarenes just as it had been originally written. What the differences were between this Gospel according to the Hebrews and our Gospel according to St. Matthew it is impossible now definitely to ascertain. Clement of Alexandria and Origen both quote from a Greek version of this Gospel which was used by the Judaizing Christians of Syria, in a way which has led many commentators to believe that it was regarded by them as canonical. Of this 'Gospel according to the Hebrews,' a number of other 'Judaizing Gospels' are regarded as mere modifications; such as 'the Gospel according to the Twelve Apostles,' which St. Jerome describes as the same Gospel under another name; 'the Gospel according to St. Bartholomew'; 'the Gospel of St. Barnabas'; 'the Gospel of Cerinthus,' of which Epiphanius says that it was merely 'the Gospel of St. Matthew mutilated,' and 'the Gospel of St. Peter,' which appears to have been 'the Gospel according to the Hebrews' edited by some believer in the Docetic doctrine, according to which the brethren of Jesus were the sons of Joseph by a first marriage.
